ported 322 cars, against 198 last week and bit a year ago, Local receipts were 174 cars, four of contract grade. The corn market was dull and heavy, with very little interest taken in a specu-lative way. Rains in the corn belt had a bearish effect and fluctuations were narrow, July corn sold between 14% and 41% c and closed %6% c lower at 44% 44% c. Local re-ceipts were 643 cars, sixty-three of contract grade.

Oats had a downward tendency, with the other cereals, influenced like corn, by the heavy rains in Nebraska, but also by the increase in the local stocks and rather beavy selling by longs. July oats sold between 28% and 25%, closing % lower at 25%. Local receipts were 4% cars. The provision market was quiet, open-ing higher and with some show of strength on better prices for hogs, but weakening later and losing more than had been gained at the commencement of the ses-sion. July pork sold between $14.47% and $14.55 and closed 2% clower at $14.57%; July lard sold between $8.15 and $5.25%, closing unchanged; July ribs sold between $7.82% 67.85 and $7.87%, and closed a shade lower at minimum figures of the day. NOVEMENTS IN STOCKS AND BONDS. Upward Course of Prices Receives a Decided Check. NEW YORK, June 4.—The upward course of prices received a decided check today. Reports of drouth in the southwest gave rise to the cross speculation usual at this period of the year to bull wheat and to bear the grain-carrying roads. The effects of this were particularly manifest in St. Paul and the Southwesterns. The decline in Union Pacific reached 35, and St. Paul 25, Reports of a falling off in new orders received in the fron trade, although actual consumption is reported to be still running close to production, awakened reminis-scences of last year's collapse in the steel ing by professional operators to take profits on yesterday's rise, London joining in the selling and reversing its position of yesterday. —Altactions that the Missouri Pacific was to be accorded an influential interest in Southern Pacific in return for relinquishing to the Pennsylvania the Wabash and Lake Erie properties and that Union Pacific was to have a voice in Atchison affairs were in the buying. Pennsylvania rose an extreme 3 points. Southern Pacific 44, and the Wheeling & Lake Erie stocks 263 points. Rock Island rose an extreme Sig. The movement seemed to be based on the belief in a belated admission of the company to a share in the advantages of the Northern Pacific settlement. The rise in Ontrito & Western on its canal acquisition reached 4. Des Moines & Fort Dodge rose 34. — The Commercial Advertiser's London functial cablegram says: Business on the stock exchange here picked up consider-ation in the canal acquisition reached by today, but the chief activity cen-tered in the American department. NEBRASKA CROP BULLETIN Lack of Rain Unfavorable for Growing Crops-Wheat Heading Low. United States Department of Agriculture, Nebraska Section, Climate and Crop Service of the Weather Bureau, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, June 4 .- Clear, dry week with about normal temperature. The daily mean temperature has averaged about 1 degree above the normal. The rainfall has been below three-tenths of an inch in all parts of the state and generally has been less than a tenth of an inch, while at most places none at all has fallen. The dry, clear weather has been most unfavorable for the growth of crops. Win-ter wheat is heading short and generally is in less promising condition because of the continued dry weather. In some counties the crop is now considerably damaged. Oats, grass and rye also need rain, except in the northwestern countles, where the heavy rainfall of last week placed all crops and grass in good condition. Early planted corn has grown slowly and late planted corn is coming up rather unevenly. The cultivation of corn is in progress. Fruit was damaged but slightly by the frosts of

AN ISLAND OWNED BY BIRDS.

One of the Wonder Spots of the World in the Mid-Pacific.

Laysan island is one of the wonder spots of the world.

On this little lump of rock and land, poking its nose in mid-Pacific, relates Pearson's Magazine, so many thousands of birds gather year by year to lay their eggs and rear their young that one can scarcely step anywhere on the parrow confines of the isle without treading on a bird, a bird's nest or a bird's egg.

Laysan is the most favored bird home in reation.

On the map, Laysan, or Moller island, will be found among a number of small isles, rocks and reefs that stretch away in a northwesterly direction from the Sandwich group-Necker, French Frigate Shoals, Gardner, Maro Reef and Lislansky.

Laysan is three miles in length and two and a half miles in breadth. It is sprinkled with vegetation in the form of strong, bushy grass and some low shrubs, between which a few pigmy palms struggle for existence. A long lagoon stretches across, filled with remarkably salt water-no fresh water exists on the island, a curious fact, considering the number of land birds who make it their nesting place.

And everywhere there are birds-thousands upon thousands of albatrosses, white and brown, in great distinct colonies; great rookeries of terns and petrels and frigate birds; countless rail run everywhere in the long grass, bright red tropical honey birds, bright yellow finches flutter in the shrubs; curlews scream, ducks quack, crake chirp all the day. Bird lovers hearing of these wonders, had cast longing eyes on little mid-Pacific Laysan long before Hon. Walter Rothschildmost ardent of naturalists-sent his collector, William Palmer, on a voyage of scientific exploration in these regions. The fame of Laysan had spread abroad from various sources-notably from an interesting general description given by the great German ornithologist, Herr von Kittlitz, who visited the island in 1834. But it remained for Mr. Rothschild's emissary to make a complete survey of Laysan's feathered world. When Palmer reached Laysan-sailing from Honolulu by way of Bird island or Niihau, and visiting the other rocky islets to Laysan's north-he was astounded, bewildered-the place was alive with birds. His foot sank in birds' burrows at every step. He had been told that rail, were tolerably plentiful"-wherever he walked these little creatures hurried out of his way. Acres of albatrosses met his gaze. Where to begin the work of cataloguing was a bewildering problem. At this time a Laysan Guano company was managed by a Mr. Freeth, who was also governor of the island. Mr. Freeth had built a tramline on his guano field--but when he took his visitor for a ride he had to send a man on before to clear the line of the young birds! The albatrosses on Laysan are absolutely fearless. They take not the slightest notice of the raiders who come to despoil them of their eggs and all the other birds are as tame as pet canaries, with the exception of the curlews and ducks-these alone cannot be caught in a hand-net.

Cool, Dry Weather No So Favorable for Crops-Replanting of Corn.

United States Department of Agriculture, Iowa Section, Climate and Crop Service, Weather Bureau, for the Week Ending June 3, Des Moines, Ia .-- The daily average temperature of the last week was about normal in the western half of the state, and from 1 to 6 degrees below normal in the eastern half. The nights were unusually cool for the time of the year in all sections and the days generally clear with a prevalence of cool east-rly winds. There were a few very light and widely scattered showers, but much the larger portion of the state received no rainfall during the week. All reports indicate adverse effects continued cool and dry weather. Late planted corn needs rain and greater warmth to quicken germination, and early planted corn needs warmer weather to stimulate growth and give it better color. The dry weather has been favorable for cultivation and the early planted fields are generally clean and in good tlith. In the southern districts considerable replanting has been necessitated on account of damage by worms, which have been very destructive in the extreme southeastern counties.
