Decision of Umpire Cunningham So Infuriates Brooklyn's Left Fielder That He Makes Disquieting Threats.

CINCINNATI, June 4.-The Brooklyn Nationals won today's game easily because of McFadden's poor work on the rubber. He gave eleven bases on balls and was hit safely as many times. Donovan was effective from start to finish. Sheckard disputed a decision by Umpire Cunningham and was ordered out of the game. This infuriated him and he threatened the umpire. The police were called in and took off the grounds. Attendance, 2,800.

CHICAGO, June 4.—The Chicago Americans won today's game after a desperate struggle in the tenth inning. Mertes, the first man up, made a triple to left center and scored a moment later on Isbell's single. Both pitchers kept their hits well scattered, except in the tenth, when the winning run was scored and the visitors made three hits, but were prevented from scoring by a lightning double play. Fortunately three seamen had just come down from the mast head after taking in the clubtopsail, but the wreckage swept overboard Second Mate Edward Nelson. He was promptly hauled on board, however, without sustaining anything more serious than a few Oliver Iselin, who managed the Columbia two years ago when it sustained a similar accident; Rear Commodore C. L. F. Rebinson of the New York Yacht club and Newbury Thorne. All escaped injury.

The Constitution will be taken to Bristol tomorrow morning, where another steel mast is nearly finished. The yacht will be immediately refitted, but it will be ten days or two weeks before it is in shape to sail again, so that the races off this port scheduled for June 15 and 17 will have to be postponed.

Will Not Delay Cup Races Mr. Duncan expressed great regret tonight over the accident, but said he was very glad that no one was injured. Commodore Lewis Cass Ledyard of the challenge committee of the New York Yacht club, when told of the mishap to the Constitution, said: "This accident will cause no delay in the cup races, for we had foreseen and prepared for just such a contingency. You remember, the Columbia had a similar accident, and when w prepared to build the Constitution we de cided to have two masts made. I know the order was given, and while I am not fully informed. Our plan was to have a The trial today was the second one given the Constitution since its arrival from Bristol, where additional backstays had been rigged to strengthen the mast. The wind was blowing about fifteen or eighteen knots at the time the yacht went out and as the tide was a strong ebb there was quite a lump of a sea in the narrow channel at the mouth of the harever, and with jib and foresail up the big white sloop started away at a lively gait. It was practically a dead beat down the channel, and in the choppy sea the yacht pitched not a little. There was more wind outside the harbor, but the sea was smoother. As the Constitution worked off stronger, and suddenly the lashings on the clubtopsail gave way and the big sail began to slap and swing around the top-The yacht was sent into the wind. while three seamen went aloft to clear away the wreckage and rend down the spars. This took some time, so it was 1:50 when the yacht was again hauled into the wind and headed to southeast on the starboard tack. The yacht this time was about two miles due south of Brenton's Reef lightship, going along at a tremendous pace under three lower sails, well heeled over in the breeze. The Constitution had ever encountered. Suddenly, just before 2 o'clock, without the slightest warning, the starboard lower spreader, over the end of which run two wire rope, collarsed or troke from the mrst. This brought the strain on the remaining steel shrouds, which gave way, and at the same instant the big steel mast be-

Both headmast on the Belmont syndicate cup defender sails were swept into the water, but the mast went down, but the topmast shrouds which led over them fell and smashed the big wooden pole, which they were intended to hold in place. Some of the shrouds, when the upper part of the mast was fairly down, were carried over the stump and remained there when the yacht was taken into the harbor.

TWO NEW GRAVESEND RECORDS

teenth in 1:46 1-5 - Scurry

NEW YORK, June 4.—Six favorites went down to defeat at Gravesend today, but well played horses earned the decision in the majority of the races. The track was lightning fast, two new track records being made. All Green won the second race at one mile and a sixteenth in 1:461-5, the old marking being 1:464; and Scurry ran the last race at one mile and seventy yards in 1:44-5, winning easily by ten lengths and cutting 1-5 second off the old record. The Brookdale handicap was the only fixture decided. Kamara was the favorite at 2 to 5, but second was her place at the end. Carbuncle, at 12 to 1, winning eleverly. Kamara had a stormy passage, being shut out at the first turn and carried wide into the stretch, or she would have won. First race, six furiongs: Kenilworth won, feeling uncommonly good was the fact substitute.

that he signed two more pitchers while in Gmaha. Chase doesn't know much about them, but he says that they are O. K. and will win every game they pitch hands down. One is Ed Freeman, a college base ball player who has been sojourning in Omaha for a few days visiting friends. Chase says that he has been offered all kinds of money to go and play in other cities, but that Des Moines was able and willing to pay a good price and they got him. Chase returned with a contract in his pocket.

The other twirler Chase captured is Hudson, an old National league man, who has been playing in Hartford, Conn.

EMPHATIC TALK.  The Kind That Carries Conviction to Every Omaha

Reader. Conviction must follow such emphatic proof as is given here. The testimony of Omaha residents should satisfy the most skeptical. Here is an Omaha case. Real it and see if doubt can exist in the face of this evidence. David Moncrieff, 2110 South 33rd street, says: "For ten or twelve years I suffered from pains over my hips and across the small of my back, I am 70 years of age, and having had this trouble so long it no doubt was a stubborn case to cure. I took treatment from doctors and different kinds of patent medicine, but while some gave temporary relief, nothing relieved me permanently until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Kuhn & Co's drug store. After a few days' treatment I felt a benefit and the remedy did more for me than any other medicine I ever used. I can cheerfully recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as being up
