LONG HAULS, SHORT HAULS, OTHER HAULS

Association Members Stop Here on Their Way to Annual Meeting in Denver-Local Agents Provide Entertainment.

Two special trains reached Omaha yesterday morning bearing local freight agents from the cast and south to the fourteenth annual session of their national association, which meets in Denver Tuesday morning. two trains bore about 600 people, about half of them being women. The first to arrive was a special of ten coaches over the Burlington, bringing the freight agents from eastern cities, in charge of F. L. worth a dollar. Johnson, local freight agent of the Burlington at Chicago, assisted by Lot Brown, an old Nebraska City newspaper man who is now commercial agent of the Burlington road at Chicago. This train was due to reach Omana at 8:30, but was a half hour

The other special of eleven coaches arrived over the Missouri Pacific from St. Louis, bringing the agents from the south and scutheast. It was in charge of Howard Etling, local freight agent of the Missouri afteen-day session as the Board of Equaliza-Pacific at St. Louis. It had been expected tion this morning. Monday was the to arrive at 7:20 a. m., but was delayed by last day for the twenty-six county assesa hot box on the engine, and it was 5:10 sors to bring in their reports, and the when it pulled in.

Plans Are Changed.

Arrangements had been made to spend freight agents' associations of Omaha, South Omaha and Council Bluffs. Plans had been laid by the local entertainment committees to tender breakfast for the party in two squads immediately upon their reaching the city, and the delay each sustained, throwing both parties into the hotel at practically the same hour, created a great deal many of the guests elsewhere for their morning meal.

It had also been planned that the ex cursionists should be the guests of the Council Bluffs association during the trolley ride to that city at 9 o'clock, but their late arrival rendered it necessary to abandon that portion of the program.

Committees of freight agents met the parties at their trains and escorted them to the Millard, which was the rendezvous until 10:45, when all boarded trolley cars wire yesterday of the death in Philadelphia for South Omaha. Eleven coaches were re- at 5 o'clock in the morning of Frank Ford, quired to carry them and they moved over formerly in the music business in Omaha as the line in an imposing procession that a member of the firm of Ford & Charlton and excited a great deal of speculation and the husband of Mrs. Frances M. UPHOLDS FEMALE LABOR LAW

Judge Baker Rules that Ten-Hour Act is Constitutional.

NECESSARY TO PROTECT PUBLIC HEALTH Legislature Only Exercised Proper Police Power in Limiting Workday for Women to Ten Hours.

Judge Baker has decided that chapter 107, easion laws of 1899, commonly known as the femule labor law, is constitutional and valid. This is the law that prohibits owners of manufacturing and mechanical concerns, stores and shops from working female employes more than ten hours a day with every boys' ($2.39 or over) suit in this or sixty hours a week, and its constitusale we give free an Auditorium brick tionality was questioned by counsel for William Wenham, a laundryman, who was arrested and fined in police court for having his employes work fourteen hours a day. Wenham appealed to the district court and a motion to quash the information in the case was argued before Judge Baker this forenoon.

Attacked Constitutionality. Wenham's lawyer contended that the law was unconstitutional and invalid because its title does not clearly express the subjects contained in the act; because it is special or class legislation, discriminating against certain industries; because it discriminates in favor of certain classes of labor; because the cenalty is cumulative; officers, other than the regularly constituted police powers of the state, and because it invades the constitutional rights of parties to contract with reference to time of employment and compensation for Judge Baker did not agree with counsel in any of these contentions. He held that it was necessary to limit the hours of labor for females in order to protect the ercised its proper police powers when it enacted the law in question. The court of the act was fully covered by its title.

CALLAHAN HEARING CONTINUES Eddie Cudahy Repeats His Identifica

The preliminary examination of James Callahan on the charge of perjury continues in the county court. Yesterday Edward A. Cudahy, jr., was on the witness stand for more than an hour, relating the incidents of his abduction and explaining how he identified Callahan as "the dark man" who participated in the kidnaping. Young Cudahy's testimony was substantially the same as that given by him at the robbery trial. He said that he could not have identified Callahan by sight, but was pretty sure that the voice and manner of speech of Callaban marked him as the same man who had figured in the abduction story as the dark man. Daniel Burris, who swears that Callahan looks like one of the men who purchased from him the pony used in the kidnaping W. S. Glynn and Frank Glynn, who identify the Burris pony as the one ridden by the man who telephoned to Mr. Cudahy to look n his front yard for a letter; Lena Wreithe who rented the Schneiderwind cottage to man who resembles Pat Crowe, and John and Maude Eberle, who saw strange men about the Schneiderwind cottage for several days before the kidnaping, were the other witnesses examined in the forenoon.

Suing the Rock Island. Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway company is on trial. In June, 1899, Mr. estate is suing for $5,000 damages.

Mrs. Pierson Wants Divorce. Carrie Pierson has begun suit in the district court for a divorce from Sumper N. Pierson, to whom she was married in this city in November, 1894. She alleges that her husband has deserted her.
