

BAKER PASSES SENTENCE

Short Session of Court Adds Several Records to Penitentiary.

THADDEUS LOCKLEY'S BROKEN PROMISE

Prison Who is Quoted as Talking Somewhat Freely is Reinstated by the Court—His Sentence is Postponed.

A broken promise cost Thaddeus Lockley a sentence of eighteen months at hard labor in state's prison.

Lockley and Louis Perkins were arrested for stripping two vacant houses in Kountze place of all plumbing. Two separate charges were filed against the men.

Perkins was first brought to trial on the less serious charge and Lockley agreed to be governed by the verdict of the Perkins jury.

When the jury came in Lockley changed his mind and demanded a separate trial.

The two men came before Judge Baker for sentence yesterday morning. Perkins was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary on the two charges.

When Boyd stood up to receive his sentence the judge asked him if he had anything to say.

"I'm innocent," was the prisoner's reply. "But how about all this testimony that was introduced against you?" the judge asked.

Boyd for a Juror. "That was all made up. Why, one of the jurors told me that the jury would never have convicted me if it hadn't been for the court's instructions," Boyd replied.

"You and that juror both should be in prison," the judge retorted.

"But the first juror thought I was innocent," the prisoner protested.

"The second juror was sensible. I'll give you five years in prison at hard labor," the judge declared as he motioned the man to make room for other prisoners who were awaiting sentence.

Andy Tucker, colored, was the next man presented to the judge. He was convicted of shooting Joe Chin.

Tucker mumbled a long defense when asked what he had to say and explained to the judge that the shooting was accidental.

"It was a pretty dangerous looking gun and a mighty good shot for an accident," Judge Baker remarked.

Tucker moved around uneasily and started a fearful protest.

"Well, we'll all sit two years," the judge exclaimed with a merry twinkle in his eye.

Tucker was the happiest looking man in the court room when he resumed his seat with the crew that is soon to leave for Lincoln.

James Hask, who was convicted of sending Birdie Moore to an immoral home in Deadwood, was to have been sentenced.

The sentence of Michael Knight, who was convicted of robbing a South Sixteenth saloon, was also postponed.

Action is Dismissed. The heirs of James J. Piggott, who died at Belvidere, Thayer county, last August, leaving an estate valued at $200,000, with no wife or children and no will for the disposition of his property, have settled their differences over the division of the property and the suit brought in the federal court for partition of the estate has been dismissed.

Piggott owned about 2,000 acres of valuable land in Thayer county and about forty lots in the town of Belvidere.

The heirs are numerous and comprise about a dozen brothers and sisters of deceased and their children. They are scattered to all parts of the earth.

FINGERS STICK TO FRUITS

Commission Merchants Capture a Man Who is Charged with the Theft.

THADDEUS LOCKLEY'S BROKEN PROMISE

Prison Who is Quoted as Talking Somewhat Freely is Reinstated by the Court—His Sentence is Postponed.

After waiting and watching for two weeks the commission men of the fruit market have succeeded in capturing a man who has been for some time pilfering fruit from all of the dealers.

The man gave the name of Davidson and is said to be a fruit dealer having a stand on North Twenty-fourth street.

Yesterday he went to the office of J. R. Snyder, where he purchased a box of peaches and walked away with two boxes which he had not paid for.

Goings to the office of H. G. Streight, he bought a crate of strawberries and carried away two crates.

Mr. Streight saw the trick and went after the thief. About the same time Mr. Snyder missed the peaches and started an investigation.

The berries and the peaches were found in a wagon, where they had been placed by Davidson with a quantity of other fruit believed to have been stolen.

The owner of the wagon professed to know nothing of Davidson or why he had placed the plunder in the vehicle.

Davidson, when taken in charge by the commission men, offered to settle for the goods.

Mr. Snyder took the cash and was willing to release him, but Mr. Streight insisted upon his punishment and he was taken to the police station.

To Enjoy an Ocean Trip. There is a strong tendency nowadays on the part of experienced ocean travelers to avoid the overcrowding and corresponding inconveniences of record-breaking steamships and to seek accommodations where the voyage can be made in perfect tranquility and freedom from all excitement.

The change is very noticeable this season and together with the attractions of the great Glasgow exhibition is giving the Anchor line more than usual prominence.

It is considered the ideal line for persons seeking the most lasting benefits of the ocean cure and seems to be making a distinct following of its own.

The Anchor line is one of the oldest in the Atlantic passenger service. Its steamships are commodious and among the staunchest afloat.

The rule of the company is to provide for the individual comfort of each passenger, so that the proper enjoyment of the voyage is assured.

The low rates of the Anchor line are another factor in its maintained popularity. An illustrated booklet can be had free by addressing the agents, Henderson Bros., 176 Jackson Boulevard, Chicago.

THE BEAUTIFUL IN ART

Recent Mechanical Improvements Cause Revolution.

COSTLIEST PAINTINGS REPRODUCED

The Bee Offers Its Subscribers an Opportunity to Beautify Their Homes at a Trifling Cost.

The demand for beautiful pictures in every home has brought about the necessity of combining mechanical skill with artistic taste to produce pictures at a price within the reach of everyone.

In the printer's art along the line of colored reproductions of famous paintings places them at a cost which puts them within the reach of everyone.

It must not be supposed that such pictures are necessarily inferior to ones for which we used to pay from $1 to $10, simply because they can now be bought for 50 cents or 25 cents.

Where much of the work was done by hand mechanical processes have reduced the cost to a minimum. The best of these pictures, however, entail an immense amount of work, and were it not for the fact that there has been so great a demand for such pictures, which they can be produced by the thousands where there was formerly only demand for hundreds, they could not be offered at prices which seem ridiculously small in comparison with the real artistic merit, both from the point of view of the subjects and the work itself.

The Bee recently made an arrangement with a New York firm for the purchase of a large number of different subjects of this sort, and will give its readers the opportunity of securing them at a trivial expense.

Each week one of these pictures will be reproduced in The Illustrated Bee and a coupon attached. The picture can be obtained at The Bee office by presenting the coupon and 15 cents.

Out of town subscribers can obtain them by remitting 6 cents additional for postage and packing.

The first of the series which will be offered is "Pharaoh's Horses." The picture is 20x24 inches and is one of those subjects of which one never tires.

Framed even inexpensively it will make a handsome ornament for anyone's home.

The lithographic work is particularly fine and is reproduced in a sepia brown tint. To give some idea of the care that has been taken by the engraver in reproducing this picture, eleven separate stones were used, and the finished picture has gone through the press eleven separate times.

To obtain this picture and coupon from The Illustrated Bee of this date and secure the picture. A different subject will be offered each week.

HOMEBREAKERS' EXCURSIONS. Via the Missouri Pacific Ry. Tuesday, June 18, the next date on which round trip tickets will be sold at very low rates to points in Kansas, Arkansas, southwest Missouri, Oklahoma, Indian Territory and Texas, and to certain points in the south and southeast.
