BREADMAKER FOR SOLDIERS

Iowa Women Erect Monument at Gettysburg to Memory of Patriotic Woman.

STORY OF LOVE AND WAR RECALLED

Success of Movement to Honor Jennie Wade—She Feeds Union Soldiers at Gettysburg and is Killed in Battle—Iowa Work of Love.

DES MOINES, June 15.—(Special.)—Thirty-eight years ago, as the battle of Gettysburg was raging, a brave young woman gave up her life for her country's cause, and Iowa women who know the story of her devotion to the cause of the union have just let the contract for a monument which will mark her last resting place and do honor to her memory. The woman was Jennie Wade. She was not an Iowa woman, but Iowa women who have raised the money to build the monument. It will be a handsome and modest monument, bearing on its sides the following inscriptions: "Jennie Wade—Killed while making bread for Union soldiers. Erected by the Women's Relief Corps of Iowa, A. L. W. Whatsoever God willeth must be, though a nation waver. She done what she could."

Dead Soldiers in the Yard. The patriotic girl was visiting at the home of her sister who lived in a brick house just outside the union lines at Gettysburg and was there when the battle commenced. The house was literally in the light, for at the close of the first day there were fifteen dead soldiers lying in the yard. Jennie Wade had a lover in the army and he was killed on the first day of the battle. Her sister had a husband in the army. The two worked on the first and second days of the battle. They set about to make biscuits for the soldiers and were engaged in this task early on the morning of July 3 when a musket ball passed through the kitchen and Jennie Wade was instantly killed. The soldiers buried her the next day, giving her a soldier's funeral, and to this day her women set about with a simple slab not unlike thousands of others.

Sister Lives in Iowa. The sister of Jennie Wade lives in Iowa and has lived here many years. This is Georgia Wade McClellan, who has been secretary of the Women's Relief Corps and conspicuous in relief work for many years. A year or so ago she and other Iowa visitors were looking about at Gettysburg when she told the simple story of her sister's sacrifice to the Iowa men and women and they then and there resolved they would erect a monument to the memory of the girl. A committee was appointed last year at the head of which was Mrs. Margaret F. Heman of Belmont, and this committee has secured the necessary funds and let the contract for the monument. It had been planned that the committee should unveil the monument on the anniversary of the death of the girl, but this cannot be and it will occur in September soon after the national encampment at Cleveland, when a number of Iowa people will be present.

H. B. KOOSER GOES UP A NOTCH.

Missouri Pacific Railroad Man Receives a Promotion.

H. B. Kooser, a railroad man well known in Omaha from his connection formerly with local offices here, has been appointed general western freight and passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific railroad with headquarters at Denver. The change is a promotion for Mr. Kooser and goes into effect on July 1.

Railway Notes. W. E. Lawrence, western live stock agent of the Union Pacific, has returned from the Union Pacific with headquarters at Denver, Ia. in Omaha. J. R. Manchester, general claim agent of the Union Pacific, has returned from a two weeks' business trip in the east. The Burlington road has transferred two companies of the Thirtieth Infantry from the barracks at Fort Meade, S. D., to Fort Assiniboine, Mont. One hundred and eighty men in all comprise the party. A prominent Burlington official, who has just returned from an extensive trip over Nebraska, says that wheat, rye and all small grains are in splendid shape, while corn is clean and has a good stand. He thinks that Nebraska's crop prospects are most promising.

FIND MRS. KENNEDY GUILTY

Murder in Second Degree and Penalty Fixed at Ten Years' Imprisonment.

STOOD TEN TO TWO ON FIRST BALLOT

KANSAS CITY, June 15.—The jury in the Kennedy murder case this morning brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree and fixing Mrs. Kennedy's punishment at ten years in the penitentiary. Judge Wofford entered the court room at 9:45 and immediately sent for the prisoner. Mrs. Kennedy was brought in a few minutes later, accompanied by her father and her married sister, Mrs. Leon. A moment later the jury filed into the room. When the judge asked the foreman of the jury if a verdict had been reached he handed a slip of paper to the clerk. Mrs. Kennedy heard its contents read calmly, but a moment later covered her eyes with her arms and cried aloud. The jury took six ballots. The first stood ten to two for conviction. They remained that way until the last ballot. The defense gave notice of appeal.

When the jury left their hotel this morning they carried their personal belongings, making it evident that they had reached a verdict and that they were preparing to go to their homes.

The killing of Kennedy occurred at 5:40 o'clock in the evening of January 10 last in the New Ridge building in the center of the business district. Kennedy, who was contracting agent of the Merchants' Dispatch Transportation company, was sitting at his desk in his office when called to the door by Dr. Crose, the woman's physician. Mrs. Kennedy followed the physician closely, asked her husband if he intended to live with her and, receiving a negative answer, began shooting. She fired five shots, all of which took effect and any one of which would have proven fatal. Kennedy died almost instantly, the only words escaping his lips being "It wasn't her son." Before being taken away by the police the woman kicked the prostrate man in the face, remarking: "You will never see another girl." Thomas Kennedy, a brother of the man, tried to wrest the revolver from Mrs. Kennedy's hand, but he was struck down by her brother, Will Prince. The couple were married in the county court on February 4 and two days before he was killed Kennedy brought suit to have the marriage set aside, alleging duress and charging W. C. Prince, the girl's father, and Will Prince with forcing him to marry her at the point of a revolver. The three prices are now awaiting trial on a charge of conspiring to kill Kennedy. Mrs. Kennedy is 20 years old and Kennedy was 28.

The prisoner's father showed no more emotion than if the verdict had been so many words pertaining to a matter of small importance to the family. This case disposed of, Judge Wofford asked if both sides were ready for the trial of C. W. Prince, and Bert and Will Prince, father and brothers respectively of Mrs. Kennedy, on the charge of conspiracy to kill Kennedy. The state was ready, but the defense asked postponement till Monday. Judge Wofford said he was called to call in another judge to sit in the case. "I am not satisfied," said he, "that Bert Prince and the old man were at the Ridge building at the time of the killing." This seemed to interest the father more than the verdict just rendered, and the prisoner raised her head and listened intently to the talk about her relatives. When Mrs. Kennedy was led

ACCUSED OF STEALING HOGS

Young Man Near Yankton Arrested on Charge of Hurling Several Swine.

YANKTON, S. D., June 15.—(Special.)—Considerable excitement has been stirred up in the neighborhood of Wakanda this week, owing to the catching of the parties who are supposed to have stolen the hogs from the farm of Sam Montgomery Monday night. On that night it had been raining and made the tracking of the thieves easy. A reward of $50 was offered for the return of the hogs and a number of searching parties were organized. Artz and Elam Babb were successful, finding them penned up in a deserted barn on the old Stockland place. They and Sheriff Gilchrist determined to lie in wait and try to ascertain who the thieves were. About 12 o'clock that night two men rode up on horses, bringing with them a quantity of corn. As they drew near to where the sheriff was hiding he ordered them to dismount and give themselves up. They were too nervous for calm surrender and, wheeling, made a break for the road. Though several shots were fired at them, they were not hit. Young Sam Montgomery was later found at home and his clothes were wet, as though from running through the grass, and with him was Will Montgomery. They were both arrested, though at the hearing Will was released for lack of evidence to show that he was even implicated. Young Sam was held over under $500 bond to appear again. Ben Montgomery, who is thought to be one of the actors in the affair, is still at large and a search is being made for him. A number of similar thefts have occurred through that neighborhood.

INVADERS THE GIRLS' DORMITORY

Yankton College Boys Create Midnight Disturbance and Six of Them Are Expelled.

YANKTON, S. D., June 15.—(Special Telegram.)—The quiet of this year's routine on Yankton College was broken Thursday night by a number of college lads. The girls' dormitory was entered at midnight, cordwood and yells aiding in the disturbance. The awful noise coming at the dead of night, when all were slumbering, was too much for some of them and several of the young women were prostrated by fright. Some have been ill since. The boys were arrested and at the faculty meeting late last night six were expelled. Two of these were to have graduated.

CRICKETS BECOME A PLAGUE

Clouds of Them Reported to Be Moving Across Wyoming Range of Mountains.

DOUGLAS, Wyo., June 15.—(Special.)—Clouds of crickets are reported to be moving south across the mountains north of the Laramie plains. The pests appeared in the Big Horn country last summer and destroyed the range for hundreds of miles. The insects are about an inch in length and cover the earth as with a carpet.

BIDS FOR PAVING CONTRACT

Board of Public Works Decides to Call at Once for Figures.

The Board of Public Works has decided to advertise at once for bids on all paving to be laid this year. Mayor Moores vetoed a resolution providing that bids be received on a small strip of paving west of Hanson park and urged that much better prices could be had if large amounts of paving were advertised for at once, in accordance with this recommendation the Board of Public Works decided at its meeting yesterday afternoon to seek proposals before July 5 on all the paving for the season. This will be between 100,000 and 150,000 yards. The proposals will be on brick, stone, asphalt and Sherman gravel and it will remain for the property owners in various districts to select their materials.
