Challenger of Eryan Tells a Small Lincoln Audience of Locialism.

FOR NATIONAL OWNERSHIP OF TRUSTS

Failing to Land the Fish He Angled For, He Now Challenges Any Man to Take Up the Topic with Him.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, June 21 - (Special Telegram.) -H. Gaylord Wilshire of Los Angeles, Cal., socialist, critic and seeker for notoriety, spoke for two hours before a small audience in the Oliver theater tonight on the subject, "Let the Nations Own the Trusts." In opening he called attention to the fact that W. J. Bryan had ignored his $10,000 offer for a joint debate. His oratorical efforts were modest.

Calls Brynn a Dead Wall. Wilshire is an expert in the art of securing notoriety. This is how he spoke to attempt to induce Bryan to join him in a

"It is unnecessary for me to say that I regard Bryan simply as a dead wall that, with no thanks to itself, happens to be in a particularly fine position to commend the of the other, has precipitated a complicapublic eye and I was willing to pay a heavy premium for the privilege of posting my advertisement thereon. Every dead wall has its price and I bid $10,000 for the Bryan one. I say $10,000 to flatter and be polite to Bryan. However, Mr. Bryan had no right to assume that he would be defeated and neither had he the nerve to tell the American people that his time is worth too much money to accept a paltry $10,000 for a one-hour talk. It seems to me that he can offer no rational excuse to justify himself before the public for ignoring my proposition. It is true that acceptance meant defeat for him and defeat meant oblivion, but, on the other hand, his silence will be interpreted, and rightly, too, as cowardice and once let that stigma be attached to Lim it means his political death.

"I feel a certain loss in personal dignity in beginning my career in public life by using poor Bryan as the first rung in my ladder to fame, but it is the way of the world and I cannot help him to escape from that inexorable law of the survival of the fittest. He is a demagogue, it is true, down by the tax commissioner and the but he is not to blame."

Teaches Socialists Publicity.

On the subject of notoriety Wilshire said "The only art I can teach socialists, and nobody needs instruction more, is the one of which I have made more or less a profession, that of publicity. I get letters every day from socialists saying that they cannot get the press to notice them. Now the press will never notice a man unless it finds money in the noticing. If socialists have no money to pay the newspapers directly then they must do it by indirec-

"If you are a farmer, pay in pumpkins As I am a professional 'fakir,' according to some of the Los Angeles papers, I am permitted to have the privilege of raking off 'fakes' instead of cash for advertising. I succeeded in getting arrested in Los Angeles for speaking in a public place and I succeeded also in getting the city ordinance declared unconstitutional because it prohibited free speech. Anybody can do the same thing in his own town. And there are other incidents of the same nature." Mr. Wilshire says Mr. Bryan ignored son refused to pay and was sued.

Challenge in Broadcast.

After reiterating the details of his challenge to Bryan and indulging in other miscellaneous remarks. Wilshire began his argument, which was in favor of government ownership of trusts. Wilshire has issued the following chal-

A challenge: I will meet any man in de-bate upon the "trust problem" and bet him any sum he wishes, from $500 to $2,500, at couls of two to gne, that I can carry the audience against him. This offer is made particularly to congressmen, editors and tollege professors, but it will hold good against anybody daring to accept the offer, 'the place of meeting to be arranged by agreement. At the last meeting of the city council the matter was brought to its notice through a communication from C. P. A committee was appointed to look into the matter, and the condition of the affair disclosed is so complicated that building may have to be suspended until certain questions are decided by the courts.

Validity of Land Leases. A decision of the supreme court just rendered will seriously affect the validity of land leases in the Omaha and Winnebago Indian reservation. The case passed upon was one brought by the First National bank of Pender against A. Larson. The Flournoy Land company for a number of years has held leases of Indian lands upon the reservation. In part this was a mere real estate speculation, and the company has sublet the land to various persons. One of these lessees was Larson, who executed a note to the company for the amount of his rental-$600. This came into the hands of the First National bank of
