Trainmen Act Promptly.

Trainmen caught up their lanterns and rushed to the neighboring farm houses for assistance. The farmers, with their wives and children, bearing torches, hastened to the scene and all efforts were bent to giving first-aid-to-the-injured. Telephone messages were dispatched to the city and every physician obtainable was hurriedly taken to a special train which carried them to the scene. The injured were placed aboard the cars and brought to the general hospital in this city, where everything possible was done to ameliorate their condition. Many operations were necessary.

For a time after the rescuers reached the scene of the wreck little could be done in the way of removing the dead. Hundreds of tons of twisted iron and broken timbers rested upon the car where the unfortunate emigrants were crushed, but by means of wrecking derricks the mass was gradually opened and by daylight against 7,415,000 a year ago. Prominent nearly all the dead had been removed to places compare as follows:

Official Story of the Wreck. ST. LOUIS, June 26 .- The official report of Division Superintendent E. A. Gould to President Ramsey of the Wabash system states that thirteen Italian emigrants were killed, three are supposed to be fatally injured, eleven seriously and thirty-one slightly bruised and scratched. Fifty-one of the total number of injured and killed are passengers and seven are employes of the Wabash railroad. One woman, a passenger, is missing. The name of one of the dead has been obtained, that of Fannie Mulvie, address unknown. Mrs. Joe Grose, whose husband was badly injured and whose residence is not known, is missing.

The accident, the official report says, was intendent Gould in describing the accident to the passenger train said: "I learn from a person living near Cass that two black clouds gathered and came in contact about over the place where No. 3 was wrecked. The culvert which washed out was a stone box three feet square under a twenty-fivefoot fill. The water was about five feet achve the opening of the culvert and abou 200 feet wide, causing the earth above to alide. We have never observed high water at this point before. Mr. Danes thinks he will have a bridge over the opening in six hours after the roadbed is cleared of cars.

Thinks Nations' Medals Should Perpetuate Events and Let Men in Them Be Otherwise Honored.

NEW YORK, June 26 .- Admiral Schley, in thanking the Gloucester naval command of Brooklyn for electing him an honorary member of the organization, says in his letter,

"Touching the matter of your reference to a medal I have always believed that nations ought of right perpetuate the great events of their history rather than those of the lives of the participants and leave to the judicial calm of historic judgment the duty of perpetuating in bronze those who may have honored themselves in deeds of honor wrought for home, flag or country. Too much stress cannot be laid upon th value of these vacations. There is no disputing that any young woman who earns her own living is in need of a summer outing. That being granted the next question that arises is what kind of vacations The Bee is offering. A glance at the official announcement which is prominently displayed in every issue of The Bee, both morning and afternoon, tells of the twelve vacations in detail. Cast your eye over the list and see exactly what is offered, bearing in mind that the young woman receiving the highest number of votes is allowed to take first choice of trips, the one receiving the second highest number of votes second choice and so on down the list. As a matter of fact the trips are all splendid and the winner will probably have some difficulty in arriving at a choice.

It is interesting to watch the progress of the contest. Look at the figures and names at the head of this column and see the changes that have taken place since yesterday. There is no mad rush about it, but simply enough activity to give the contest a good start. Later on the changes will come more rapidly. Now is opportunity.

Watch The Bee closely every day for announcements as to how the contest is go-

Road Said to Be in Prospect Which Would Open Up Boyd and Keya Paha Countles.

It is persistently rumored in this city that the Elkhorn Ratiroad company has planned to build a branch road east from Valentine through Keya Paha and Boyd counties to some point on the Northwestern system in the lower part of South Dakota. This road would give the two counties, as well as other territory through which it traverses, direct connection with the east and south, the Black Hills country and points in Wyoming as far west as Casper. The proposed route lies almost directly east and west. The western terminus, Valentine, is in the northeastern corner of Cherry county, on the Decdwood and Black Hills branch of the Northwestern system. Keya Paha and Boyd counties are directly east on the northern boundary line of the state. They are as rich for agricultural purposes as any territory in the state, notwithstanding they are surrounded on all sides by sandhills. Boyd county enjoyed a greater percentage of gain in population during the last ten years than any county in the state. Its natural resources are good, but it has suffered greatly in having no railroad connection with the outside world. The plans for the road have been carefully guarded and it is not known to a certainty whether the company has made the necessary arrangements to put them into execution, but an official high in authority in the Elkhorn road has admitted the truth of the rumor. He says that work will be commenced as soon as possible.

Railroads Must Show Cause.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 26 .- The railroad commissioners today issued an order on President B. F. Yoakum of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad, and G. B. L. Winchell, president of the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis railroad, to appear before the board in this city on July and answer questions touching the report that they proposed to consolidate their lines in violation of the laws of Missouri.

Short Line to Scaboard.

KANSAS CITY, June 26 .- W. G. Brimson, general manager of the Omaha, Kansas City Eastern, the Omaha & St. Louis and the Kansas City & Northern connecting railroads, just returned from the east, confirms the reported extension of the system from Quincy to Springfield, Ill., the work on which, he says, will begin soon. The extension will provide Kansas City a short line to the Atlantic seaboard.

Railway Notes and Personals.

J. O. Phillippi, assistant general freight agent of the Missouri Pacific, with head-quarters here, and H. B. Kooser, general western freight agent of the same line at Denver, met in Kansas City by agreement yesterday for a conference relative to the freight department.

No trouble at all to secure votes for The Bee's vacation contest. All you have to do is to ask your friends for them. Out of the large majority of people within the prescribed diatricts who take The Bee regularly almost every young woman has a representation of friends who would be delighted to turn in their coupons which appear in every issue of the paper, if they were only reminded with a gentle suggestion.

No young woman has cause to feel backward in calling upon her friends and acquaintances for votes, because they pay nothing whatever toward the vacation—they simply pay their subscription to The Bee and they would do that anyway. If they is to ask your friends for them. ITALY, TOO, DODGES THE DUTY Imitates Russia in Making Formal Denial of Paying Export Bounty on Sugar.

WASHINGTON, June 26.-An official statement from the Italian government was communicated to the State department today to the effect that Italy paid no export bounty on sugar. This action by the #### Italian authorities follows eight days from the fesuance of Secretary Gage's freasury order suspending the liquidation of all sugar imported from or produced in Italy, on the ground that the treasury had information leading to the belief that Italian sugar paid a bounty.

The action taken by Italy raises a question somewhat analogous to that now pending with Russia, each concerning sugar and each referring to the alleged payment of a bounty. Russia has taken the position that it pays no bounty, and Italy now makes a formal declaration of the same kind. While this is not necessarily a protest, it presents an issue of fact as to whether bounty is or is not paid. It is understood that within a week the Italian government will submit a full presentation of facts sustaining its declaration, the present announcement to out the data to uphold that position. The terms of the treasury order are of the latest extract from "Commercial such that the discriminating duties now are being enforced against Italy, for although the order recites that the matter is still under investigation, it concludes with specific instructions that "the duties shall be estimated in amounts sufficient to cover duty. These additional duties referred to are 5.60 francs, or about $1.12, in one case and case. The duties, therefore, are ineffective
