TAXPAYERS MAY CONTEST

Action of City Council in Settling Suits is Oriticised.

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS AT STAKE won liberal deserved applause.

Effort Anticipated to Restrain the Officials Paying the Money-Injunction the Probable Method.

The action of the city council in instructagainst the municipality for $2,000 in the personal injury damage suit of itenry house. Lock may lead to the city baving another stated yesterday that suit would be brought stopped at Fourteenth street to let off a in the district court to restrain the city from paying this judgment, also that enrecently settled by the council for $3,000. end collision John Lindt was attorney for the claimants in both suits and in the Mikesell case filed the two was badly damaged, the front vesan attorney's lien of $2,200 on the judgment for $3,000.

The claim of Henry Lock was in the hands of the judiciary committee of the city council, which had not made any report in the matter when a settlement was effected Monday night and judgment entered smoking, received slight bruises, but conagainst the city next day. To settle such a case before the committee to which it had been referred had made a report is said to be unprecedented and has caused much criticism. Lock's suit against the city was filed for the present term of court, but under the rules could not, if the appoint the recently elected teachers to sovereign grand lodge and most of the city felt so disposed, have been assigned for trial before the September term. This being the case people are unable to understand what need there was for the city council to be in such a hurry to effect a settlement.

Mikesell Case Also Criticised.

In the Mikesell case the husband of Mrs. Harriot Mikesell brought suit against the city for $5,000 damages for the death of his wife, it being alleged that it resulted from a fracture of a leg received by a fall on a defective sidewalk. In spite of the adverse report of the judiciary committee the council settled the suit for $3,000 and judgment was entered against the city for this amount. The aldermen who voted for the settlement were much surprised later to learn that the physician's certificate of the death of Mrs. Mikesell showed that she had died from "heart failure." Relatives of Mrs. Mikesell made no secret of the fact that she suffered from heart diaease.

Taxpayers who criticise the action of the council in these two cases were said yesterday to be arranging to bring suit to enjoin the payment of both these judgments.

County Supervisors Seek to Learn How to Manage for the Poor.

The members of the Board of County Supervisors are planning to take a trip through the state next month to inspect county poorfarms and secure information as to their management. The full board is planning to go on the trip and the start will be made, according to present plans, a few days before July 17, when the board is is slated to meet in adjourned session. At the general election in November 1900, the electors of Pottawattamie county voted in favor of the expenditure of $20,-000, for the purchase of a poorfarm. This sum has to be raised by a tax not to exceed a 1-mill levy. The first levy for this tax will be made by the board in September, when the general levy is made. It will take two years to raise the $20,000 with a the purchase of a poorfarm will not be available until the end of 1903.

Under the proposition upon which the lectors of the county voted in 1900 the poard cannot issue bonds, but must raise the $20,000 by taxation. Several farms have been offered to the supervisors, but none will be considered until at least half of the $20,000 has been levied. No Lynching at Ottumwa. It was reported here on Tuesday that there was likely to be a lynching at Ottumwa on account death of Court Musgrave, who had been assaulted in a saloon by John Bradshaw, but there was no lynching nor attempt at violence, although there was much feeling of indignation over the affair. Bradshaw was engaged in cleaning a saloon when Musgrave came along and insisted on going in. Bradshaw refused to permit him to go in and he tried to go in past the saloon map. The latter struck the intruder a terrible blow on the left side of the head with a blackjack and felled him to the floor. He lingered two days and died. The only person who saw the affair was a negro, who tried to get away and hide himself, but was caught and compelled to give his testimony before the coroner and jury. Bradshaw was sent to jail to await grand jury proceedings.

Passes Forged Paper. A business man of Independence, Ia., is out $2,850 and has in his possession forged notes and a mortgage. The game was worked on him by an individual who gave the name of Edward Evans of West Liberty, but who was in fact a stranger in the state. He made a deal to purchase a house in Independence and then wanted to dispose of notes and a mortgage given by a prominent and wealthy farmer living in the county. He found a purchaser and sold the forged paper. He had evidently informed himself fully as to the business affairs of Evans and the man whose name he forged and others in Independence and his whole scheme was cleverly worked out and made auccessful. No trace of the man has been found since he departed with the money.
