OMAHA WINS BY SCORE OF FIVE TO THREE

Blinding Sheets of Dust Drive Across the Grounds and Blear the Eyes of the Players-How It Was Pulled Off.

Two thousand people were treated to spectacular piece of base ball vaudeville yesterday afternoon at Vinton Street park and when it was all over the only redeem ing feature that could be culled from th chaos of misplays was that Omaha had wor by 5 to 3. It was truly a battle of cham ions against champions, but there wa little about the game to suggest that top notchers were playing the positions. Ninbig, wide open, julcy errors in all wer scored by the visitors, and six by th Omahans. Add to that several samples the most unfortunate umpiring and the ex hibition took on a hue that was dark gree and tasted worse.

Not a single earned run marred the im perfection of the game, all those that wer scored on both sides being due to errors. However, both teams had one good ex tuse for the work they did, although the fielders, who were unable to time their plays between the gusts. The outfielders, meanwhile, were handicapped by the driving wind, which caused fly balls to execute Grecian bends of every description.

The two pitchers deserve every commendation. Both twirled fine games. Coons gave one base on balls, hit one batter, struck out four more and allowed six hits. Weimer held the locals to six hits, struck by out two and gave one base. Such work in that flerce wind is of the highest order.
