A fine morning crowd witnessed the first Fourth of July game and it was a singging match from the start, especially on the part of the Omahans, who won by 9 to Though the score was onesided the sontest was never for a moment unintereating, there being too much hitting, baserunning and general excitement to allow things to drag

"Wizard" Herman was in the box for the locals and acquitted himself as usual, giving not a single base. He was hit more treely than is common, however, as the visitors tapped him eight times for safe ones. Damman was also very good, though he allowed eleven hits and a base, with no strikeouts, while Herman secured

Captain Stewart was back in the game and that put Genins in certerfield. Buckley played a great first base in place of Calhoun and his home run and two-banger were features of the morning. McAndrews came next with three safe ones, while Buckley, Stewart and Fleming all had two. The star play of the occasion was made by Fleming. In the eighth he shinned up a brace on the north fence and picked a By ball from Werden's bat out of the The game was played in remark- Denver ably short time for one of so many hits and Warner, Werden and Damman did the chief hitting for the Iowans and Matty's work in centerfield won the crowd, he taking five clean flies. This kind of bail was at no time a cinch in the fast wind.

In spite of the numerous rival attractions designed to separate the festive public from its wealth there was a crowd at Vinton street park yesterday afternoon that taxed the capacity of the grandstand and bleachers. The sultry condi-tion of the weather forbade any great amount of enthusiasm and "grandstand" plays were not on the bill. For all that it was a great game of ball that closed the present series between the Prohibitionists and Papa O'Rourke's pets. It was a game that kept the fans on the ragged edge all the way along until the grand finale.

But we licked 'em 5 to 4 and the glad crowd drifted home through the fresh breezes and dust stirred up by a big bank of black clouds from the northwest, satisfied that we are the people. The Prohibs beat the great Blues and so did we; then we beat the Prohibs, so there you are. Sandy McDermott had his bum eye along and a couple of his base decisions (not a pun) were so bad that they evoked a snort of disgust even from Buckerino Keith and "us umpires must stand to-

How it Happened.

As for the game, here is the way it hap-pened: Dusty Coons didn't like the looks of Thiel, the first man up, so he handed him a pass to get him out of the way. O'Leary sacrified and Warner swatted the ball ove against left field fence for two sacks and course Mr. Thiel floated over the plate. McVicker followed with a hard drive out into the territory presided over by Mr. Genins, late of Cleveland, for a safe hit. Genins fielded the ball quickly to Stewar who planted it gleefully in Mattie's ribs because Mattle erred in thinking it was good for two bases. But in the meantime Warner had drifted over the plate and handed Hunky Hines the second tally. Werden picked out one of Coons' easy ones and planted it safely in middle garden, but was forced at second on Hines' grounder to McAndrews.

ones, Werden made his second safe hit and Hines got a life on a rank error of Mc-Andrews. With but one out and the bases full it looked pretty bad for the locals, but Dusty Coons had his nerve with him and calmly floated them over, striking out both O'Connell and Kleinow. Des Moines gathered their last run in the seventh on Toman's misplay and Warner's third two bagger.

The Rourkes tied the score in the first on a hit, a sacrifice, a stolen base and a on a hit, a sacrince, a stolen base and a passed ball. In the third they took the lead on an error of Werden, a double by Stewart and single by Dan Buckley, which netted four runs. The winning run was scored in the ninth. Buckley was first up and made a safe hit, Gonding sacrificed incelve and Payne came up in place of the state of the game was the clean fielding of the visitors. Attendance, 12,000. CINCINNATI, July 4.—Murphy saved the game for the Boston Nationals in the ninth inning of the afternoon game by one of the most remarkable catches seen on a ball field. With Magoon on first Peitz sent a sharp liner to left center which looked good for a home run. Marphy when he saw that he could not reach the bail on the run deliberately slid fully ten feet over the ground and caught the ball while lying on his stomach. He then doubled Magoon up at second. Some one in the bleachers threw a pop glass at Cunningham for declaring Peitz out and the culprit was promptly arrested. Nichols was effective in all but the first inning. Newton played out in the fifth. Scott took his place and made a good showing, allowing but two hits and no runs. Attendance, 2,899. Score;
