For Omaha the first score was secured in the seventh, on a single by Toman, a gift to Genins and the outs of Letcher and Stewart on fielder's choice. In the ninth, with two out, Omaha filled the bases and a little batting rally would have won the game. Stewart smashed a grounder between Werden's legs. McAndrews got a scratch hit on fly, under which Hines fell down, and Calhous sent an easy grounder to O'Connell, who there will be grounder between the O'Connell, who there will be got Mandre to O'Connell, who there will be got to the following the own of the to O'Connell, who threw wild to catch Mc-Andrews at second, allowing Stewart to Pittsburg score. Milwaukee Finds a Change Works Well and Easily Shuts Out

MILWAUKEE, July 7.—The Milwaukee American team received a shaking up to-day and the change worked well. Reidy pitched a masterly game and, backed up by good fielding, shut Cleveland out. "Jiggs" Donohue played his first game for Milwaukee, covering first base, where he made a very good impression. Resignation Reigns on Columbia-Duncan Believes Saturday's Race Settles the Situation-Second Contest is on Today.

NEWPORT, R. L. July 7.-It was a day of satisfaction on board the new yachting champion. Constitution, of resignation on Columbia and of contemplation but still hopefulness on Independence, so badly deone discussed the race from all sides but principally the unexpected showing of Independence. It seemed to be the general opinion among those yachtsmen who watched the race closely that the sluggishness of the Crowninshield boat was due to some extent to the uncertainty of the wind some little time after the start and that the true worth of the yacht was not brought out. On board the Boston boat not a man was cast down, the overwhelming defeat being attributed solely to hard luck. Said one of those on board: "We know that Independence can sail and sail fast, for we have seen it do it and we believe that yesterday iil luck attended it from the very start Captain Haff is quoted as expressing similar views to Mr. Lawson when the latter came aboard last night after the race, and tonight all hands on the Boston boat are looking forward eagerly and confidently to tomorrow's contest over a tritest would have been declared no race, the usual time limit of five hours and a half having been exceeded, but those on Independence did not make any excuses on that basis.

Duncan Says It's Settled.

One of the most interesting comments on the race was made this afternoon by W. Butler Duncan of Constitution, who summed up the contest by saying it seemed practically to end the situation and that Independence could not hereafter be considered a possibility as a cup defender. Mr. Duncan further remarked that one of the most gratifying incidents of the race was the excellent work of Constitution's crew in handling sails and the manner in which all hands pulled together. He was fully satisfied with the showing of Constitution and the result was a great relief. Coming back to Independence he said a yacht that could not show speed in light weather would be unlikely to do better under heavier conditions of wind and sea.

The yachts will have their second contest of the Newport Yacht Racing associatriangular course, of ten miles on a side, it being provided as usual that one leg. probably the first, shall be a beat to windward. It is thought suc't a contest will give Independence its best chance at defeating the two Herreschoff vachts, as two of the legs must be made by broad reaches. The start if possible will be from Brenton's Reef lightship and it is likely that almost as large a fleet will accompany the racers as on Saturday.

Originals Win in Ninth.

Up to the ninth inning the game was in the hands of the Uniques but in that inning Pitcher Renf went to pieces and on a muff by Sage and two bases on balls all the bases were filled. A three-bagger and two singles brought in four men and the game was saved to the Originals. The Sunday Bee Story

A New One Begins Sunday, July 14.

S. R. Crockett's Latest Serial

"The Firebrand" Powerful, Fascinating and Full of Life.

The author of "The Black Douglas," "The Raiders," "The Lilac Sunbonnet," "The Stickit Minister," etc., never penned a more thrilling tale than "The Firebrand."

It is a stirring, masterly story, moving in Spain at the time when the followers of Maria Christina and those of Don Carlos were contesting the right of succession to the throne. The hero, Blair, a lovable, and hot-headed young Scotchman, appropriately nicknamed "The Firebrand," becomes involved with two friends in a Carlist plot to abduct the Queen Regent and little Isabella and deliver them into the hands of General Elio, representative of Don Carlos. Concha Cabezos, a charming Spanish girl, through her love for Blair is also drawn into the plot, and gives many striking proofs of a woman's devotion.

At the palace of La Granja, where they had taken refuge from the plague which was devastating the surrounding country, Blair rescues the Queen and her little daughter from the vengeance of a band of gypsies. He afterwards has some thrilling experiences in freeing his royal charges from General Cabrera, a Carlist leader, who is bent on putting them to death. In this rescue he is nobly aided by Concha, his little sweetheart, who rides madly in search of General Elio to secure his help. By accident, however, she arrives at the camp of General Espartero. Commander-in-Chief of all the Queen's armies, who comes to the relief of Blair and his friends and defeats the Carlists' plans.

Blair resigns his Carlist commission and is accused of being a traitor to the cause. He is rescued from the rack by Concha, whom he afterwards marries. He is finally appointed Governor of Valencia by the Queen in appreciation of his services.

"THE FIREBRAND" is all action, and its swiftly crowding situations in, all of which the hero overcomes every obstacle, whether in love or war, hold the interest of the reader to the very last line of the last chapter.
