Fifty wheelmen interested in the project attended the meeting last evening in Hughes' hall at which the initiatory steps toward securing a cinder path to Lake Manawa from the city limits were taken. Alderman Brown presided and S. K. Smith was secretary. The secretary reported that subscriptions of $1 each to the amount of $295 had been pledged and that enough cinders to pave the path half way to the lake had been promised. The most feasible route suggested was west on Sixteenth avenue to Twenty-third street and then south on Twenty-third street to the lake.

As it would prove too costly to purchase a right of way it is expected permission will be obtained to cinder a path alongside of the county road on Sixteenth avenue and Twenty-third street to the city limits.

Bradley Believes He's the Creditor.

Former United States Marshal Frank P. Bradley is much surprised at the action of the government in bringing suit against him to recover $600 and $700 on an alleged shortage. At the time he went out of office Mr. Bradley had claims against the structions to bring suit in the court of claims at Washington, hoping that this action on his part would bring about an adjudication of the differences between him and the Department of Justice. Immediately that he was apprised of the suit brought here Mr. Bradley deposited in a bank at Audubon $700 to be held by Charles Van Gorder, a banker of that town, for the protection of his bondsmen until such time as the suit against him by the government is settled. Mr. Bradley believes his claims against the department are valid and that when the matter is investigated by the court of claims in Washington they will be Another case of a supposed dead man was called to the attention of the police yesterday afternoon, but by the time the officers arrived at the place designated the "corpse" had come to and taken the car to Omaha without leaving his visiting card behind him. At 4:30 o'clock word was sent to police headquarters that a dead man was lying by the roadside at the intersection of Thirty-seventh street and Second avenue. The coroner and the undertaker were notified and an officer sent to the place. Coroner Treynor, remembering his recent experience in the Davis case, decided to wait for further particubefore he went to the place, but the undertaker hastily summoned his wagon and sent it on the long trip to bring in the supposed corpse. A crowd gathered around the supposed dead man, awaiting the arrival of the police, when the "corpse" raised itself to a sitting posture, rubbed his eyes, said "Well, what in thunder are all you people staring at?" got on his feet and made for Avenue A. where he boarded a car for Omaha. The man was fairly well dressed and seemed about 35 years old. It is supposed he was temporarily overcome with the heat.

Dry Weather Annoys Insurance Interests - Loss of Earnings Stops Trip to Fatherland - Slot Machines Found Guilty.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, July 12 .- (Special.) -- With substantially three weeks of unsually hot weather for lows, accompanied by two or three good rains, and at least a large part of the time with dry winds from the south. Iowa crops are still in fairly good condition. Director Sage of the lowa weather service reports that thus far there is little indication of material injury to the growing corn in central and northern Iowa, There is but little of the corn in the tassel or flower and the corn which has a good stand and is free from weeds and is not yet tasseled out is in a condition to stand several more days of extreme heat without damage. In southeastern Iowa some injury is reported. The corn shows signs of suffering for moisture and cannot endure much longer. The crop that is most injured is the cats crop. In southern Iowa there will be less than half a crop and it makes no difference what the weather may be from this time on. The wheat crop is in better condition, although it has been injured in many places, but Mr. Sage estimates there will be 80 per cent of a crop, unless something worse comes along to injure it. Rye and winter wheat are out of the way and unharmed. There will be some shortage of pastures fairs. unless there is much more rain. The forage crop, including hay, will be small, but of the very best quality. In fact, the Iowa crops on the whole, from present indications, will be worth an average crop in actual feeding value, for what has been

Pugh of Dallas county was elected president. The clerks have not heretofore been organized, but have tried on several occasions to have state meetings. Their sessions here, which closed this afternoon, were declared to be profitable to them. They visited the state capitol and conferred with officials having to deal with the county clerks and, upon their invitation, Judge Robinson of the State Board of Control this afternoon addressed them on the subject of the relation of the board to the county clerks. They also listened to an address on the collateral inheritance tax law by John S. McQuiston, deputy of this new law which causes clerks and

Slot Machines Are Guilty.

The police judge of Des Moines today decided that slot machines are gambling devices and ordered a lot of them destroyed under the Iowa law. The cases have been pending some time and have caused a great deal of trouble. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of one C. V. Hamilton, said to be of Chicago, on a charge of embezziement made by owners of several of the horses which participated in the races this week in Mar-shalltown. Hamilton came to the race meeting a stranger, but seemed to know all about horses and racing and was made one of the judges of the race one day in Hubbard, a former governor of Texas and the absence of another. He gained the during President Cleveland's administration confidence of all the leading horse owners, and on the last day four of the owners put up a little job to beat the bookmakers and others and entrusted their money to Hamilton to be placed. Hamilton was onto the right combination and won every time. He had taken in about $300 by evening for the benefit of the four horse owners, and then they set out to divide the money among them, but Hamilton could not be found.
