ROADSTER RACES NEXT WEEK

Driving Park Managers Arrange for Good

Local Herses Next Saturday.

RUNNING RACES AT FALL FESTIVITIES

For the Latter Date the Promoters Promise Strings of Fast Ones from > the Tracks of the East and Other Sections.

Messrs. Tuthill, Dennison and Keith, who have taken the management of the Omaha Driving park, have determined to use every endeavor to revive interest in horse racing and will spare no effort to awaken the old-time enthusiasm in that sport. The two meetings thus far held under their management, while they have been accompanied by financial loss of no mean proportions, have simply convinced them that it is possible by fair and honest work to reawaken an interest that will restore the sport of horse racing to its previous popularity. These promoters of the turf. while they do not discuss the financial results of their meetings themselves, are understood to have put about $6,000 into the meetings which they have never taken out again, but they are confident that the coming meetings will in a measure, least, recoup them for their losses.

Two meetings are in contemplation for the year. One is a matinee of the Gentlemen's Roadster club next Saturday. Probably there are a great many owners of fine horses and vehicles who do not know that there is such a club in existence, but the club has attained a considerable membership and almost any fine afternoon its members may be seen enjoying a spin on the boulevard enroute to the driving park to pull a little speed out of their favorites. At the driving park is the best half-mile track west of the Mississippi river without exception. It is kept in fine condition and its use is open to the membership of the club. Anyone is permitted to use this splendid race track to a reasonable extent for the exercise of horses that will not disgrace the turf, but, of course, membership in the club is an essential to its systematic use. At the matinee next Saturday the members of the club are expected to introduce a number of local horses of acknowledged speed capabilities and no less than four events are promised that will be worth the price. There are some good horses in Omaha and it is expected that most of them will be entered in next Saturday's races.

The big meeting, however, upon which the turf promoters of Omaha are relying will occur next September. It will be a $10,000, according to the prospects. The dates have been selected so that it will fact the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben have been invited to conduct the races, but have not accepted the invitation because of their many other obligations, but it is probable of attractions for the festival week the knights will not overlook the races.

John Tuthill, who is the active promoter cheap rates, because of the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities, it is hoped that the meeting will demonstrate that the people of this section have not lost interest wholly in racing affairs and that the meeting will be productive of results that will encourage further turf meetings in Omaha.

In the Wheeling World

The cycling race game promises to be a profitable one for the professionals this year. With only three months of the sea-Stinson, another rider of the middle distance class, has pocketed $4,434, and Bobbie Walthour $2,239. Only twelve riders as she has all her life. have earnings above $1,000. The grand cir-September. This will more than double the total winnings, so that the leading professionals will come out of the game with good round sums to their credit.

"Major" Taylor, the bicycle rider, was a passenger, with the millionaires, on the Deutschland. A few years ago the "major," who is a negro, was a servant in a Brooklyn bicycle club. He developed such speed as a rider that he was given an opportunity, to which he proved equal. year he was offered $15,000 to ride in America, but the offer carried with it the necessity of racing on Sundays. This did not day present."

DR. A. D. SEARLES,

eases of Men.

STRICTURE Cured with a new Home

URINARYCidney and Bladder Troubles.

Weak Back, Burning Urine Frequency of Urinating, Urine High Col-

bred or with milky sediment on standing.

SYPHILIS cured for life and cleansed from the system. Soon every sign and symptom disappears completely and forever. No "BREAKING OUT" of the disease on the skin or face. Treatment contains no dangerous drugs or injurious

WEAK MEN from Excesses or vie bility or Exhaustion, Wasting Weakness, with early decay in young and middle-aged, lack of vim, vigor and strength, with organs impaired and weak.

detention from business.

out Reliable Specialist in Dis-treatment. No pain, no tims of Nervous De-satisfy the "major," who is of a religious turn of mind, and he went to Europe, where he has defeated the best of the continental professional riders without excep-

Owing to the new order of things, which brings a half dozen or more middle distance riders into one race, the promoters of the National Paced Racing circuit have adopted rules on the right to the pole and the passing of motor cycles. Some such rules are necessary when eight or nine motor tandems and seven bicycles occupy the track at the same time. One of the new rules requires that all men start at the inner side of the track and that the motors all go by on the outside, the men taking them up in order: first, the man leaving the pole, then the man nearest him, and so on. This saves confusion. Coming to the finish a red flag will be waved at the beginning of the last mile, a bell will be rung for the last lap and a pistol fired at the finish. The men on the pacing machines will be uniformed like the riders whom they are pacing, and the names of the pace-making crew must be printed on the program.

The best representative of France, so far as middle distance racing is concerned, is now in America in the person of Edouard Taylore, better known as "French Taylore." This is his third invasion of America and his record proves beyond question that he should depart for France in the fall with a goodly portion of American dollars and honors.

He was born in Paris twenty-one years ago, and started racing when 16 years old. The diminutive French lad did excellent work as an amateur in 1896, winning the championship of Paris. Next year as a professional he broke the indoor hour record, in addition to winning a fifty-kilometer match from Bourhours. He then won the Grand Prix de Paris, beating Linton, champion; Bourhours, Bourotte and Gougoits. Visiting America in 1897, Taylore defeated Starbuck at Philadelphia, while the following year Joe Venier proved unequal to the task of beating the French lad.

In the fall of 1898 Taylore broke the at 1:32 2-5. Returning to France he twice bettered the hour record, visiting America again in 1900 to meet with poor success. In Paris, however, early in the spring of 1900, he again broke the hour record, and later won the Golden Wheel race in Berlin. He defeated Eikes and Linton in the two days' race at Antwerp. At the Paris exposition hand expresed the endless possibilities of the representative of the Barnes racing team captured first honors in the big Grand Prix, defeating Walters, Chase and the other notables. Taylore is 5 feet 6 inches generation." high, rather dark complexion, straight black hair and tips the beam at 125 pounds.

How tremendous is the wear and tear upon the ordinary bicycle chain is but little appreciated by cyclists. C. R. Garrard, an ten days' running meet, with a list of English expert of much reputation, has purses that will aggregate from $6,000 to analyzed the subject carefully and the results obtained by him are calculated to make the ordinary rider who thinks take come during the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities, off his hat to his chain and thereafter treat from September 11 to September 21. In it more kindly and politely. England has not as yet adopted the chainless wheel to any extent, and Garrard makes no plea for them, yet the facts he cites constitute the most convincing argument for the covered that in sending out their announcements bevel gears that could be asked for. He says:

"If we reflect we must see that chains work under the worst conditions that any of this running meeting, expects to leave mechanical device having bearings (possiabout the middle of August for St. Louis bly could, namely: Oil, wet, grit, such as After all, would you have the country govand Chicago, with a view of bringing to flint, silicon, etc.); some 110 working joints. the meeting during the following month | 110 working rollers and 550 separate pieces many of the fine strings of horses that in all, loaded and jerked alternately from will be at the races in those cities before zero to 600 pounds. The area of a privet's they scatter to their winter quarters. He working surface is generally .048 of a hopes to have fully 200 noted byrses in square inch, and therefore the pressure attendance and participating in the races. often rises to 125,000 pounds—or over fifty—

"And how is Cecily!" asked Lady Evens. some of them being horses with sensa-tional records. As it will be a season of and sleeve have worn .003, the chain will have become over five-eighths of an inch longer thereby."

> A new woman is Mrs. Evan Devoe of Syracuse, N. Y. She has entered her 100th year and her ambition is to ride a bicycle and run an automobile.

"Why shouldn't I?" she said. "That is the thing to do these days, and I don't want to have happened more conveniently, she says be behind the times. I never was and I'm not going to drop back in the procession at my time of life.

"My family all hope that I may live to complete my 100th year. Just as if I had any intention of dying! I'm going to sixty riders, ranging from $5 to $4,441, the keep right on living for a good while yet." a country has. He is and ought to be a Mrs. Devoe is small and dainty. She is at part of his family. latter sum representing the winnings of Mrs. Devoe is small and dainty. She is at John Nelson, middle distance rider. W. C. the head of five generations of her family and she takes great pride in her position. She pursues her household occupation just just why, though I admire Mr. Disney

"Would you like to see my garden?" she cult began last week and will continue well said, and led the way to a well-cultivated plot at the back of the house. There were beds of lettuce, onions, radishes and vegetables of all sorts.

"I work here every day, rain or shine, and I guess you won't find any weeds. My vegetables were all up this spring just as soon as any others in this neighborhood and a good deal sooner than some. "I enjoy this garden and I'm having a pretty good time all around. The only thing I haven't got is that bicycle and the "Maybe, if I keep at them they'll give them to me next June for a century birth-of Men.

and the second s

Tristram of Blent.

Being An Episode in a Story of An Ancient House. BY ANTHONY HOPE,

EEFFFFFFFFFFFFFF

Till the Next Generation.

Major Duplay had taken a flat in town and Mina had come up to aid him in the task of furnishing it. The major was busy and prosperous in these days. Blinkhampton was turning out trumps for all concerned, for Iver, for Harry, for Southend and for him; the scheme even promised to be remunerative to the investing public. So he had told Mina that he must be on the spot and that henceforward the country and the continent would know him only in occasional days of recreation. He also murmured something about having met a very attractive woman, a widow of 35. The general result seemed to be that he had forgotten his sorrows, was well content and a good deal more independent of his niece's society and countenance than he had been before. All this Mina told to Lady Evenswood when she went to lunch in Green street. "Yes, I think I've launched uncle," said she complacently, "and now I shall devote myself to the Tristrams." "You've been doing that for a long time, my dear." "Yes, I suppose I have, really," "I've been a sort of Miss Swinklaughed. erton-I wish you knew her! Only I've devoted myself to one family and she does it for all the neighborhood. Lady Evenswood looked at her with kindly smile. "You were rather in love with Harry, you know," she said. "Which was very absurd, but-yes, I was Only then Cecily came and-well, it was altogether too artistic for me even to want to interfere. If I had wanted, it would world's one-mile record, placing the figures | have made no difference, of course. They've been pressing me to go on living at Merrion and I shall."

"O, if you could get nothing but a pigsty on the estate you'd take it. Though I don't know what you'll find to do." "To do? O, plenty! Why, they're only just beginning and—" The wave of her the Tristram household. "And gradually you'll glide into being an old woman like me-looking at the new

"Her children and his! There ought to be somthing to look at," said Mina wist-"But we've not done with Harry fully. himself, yet." "Robert says he's too fond of making money or he might do something in politics. "It isn't money exactly. It's a good dea Blent. He wants to make that splendid. Perhaps he'll come to the politics in time." "He's made you believe in him, anyhow." "Yes, and I know I don't count. All the same, I've seen a good deal of him. Mr

Neeld and I have been in it right from the

"And in the end it was all a mare's nest. Fancy if Addle Tristram had known that!" "I think she liked it just as well as she thought it was. And I'm sure Harry did." "O, if he's like that he'll never do for the British public, my dear. He may get their money, but he won't get your votes.

erned by Addie Tristram's son?" "I suppose it would be rather risky," said the Imp, peluctantly. But she cheered up directly on the strength of an obvious "And how is Cecily?" asked Lady Evens-wood. O, she's just adorab got her a very good housekeeper." The old lady laughed as she turned round to welcome Lord Southend. "I've just met Mr. Disney," he remarked "He doesn't seem to mind being out." "O, he'll be back before long, and without his incumbrances. And Flora's delighted to get a winter abroad. It couldn't "He told me to tell you that he thought your young friend-he meant Harry Tris--was lost forever now." "What a shame!" cried Mina indignantly. "Just like Robert! He never could understand that a man has a history just as

"No sense of historical continuity," nodded Southend. "I agree, and that's normously, I-" "Generally vote against him on critical occasions? Yes, Robert makes so many admirers like that."

"Is his work at Blinkhampton nothing? emanded Mina. "He got let in for that while he was dispossessed," smiled Southend, "I say, thank heaven he wouldn't have the viscounty!" "That would have been deplorable, greed Lady Evenswood. "It's all a very curious little episode." "Yes. No more than that."

"Yes, it is more," cried Mina. "Withou he'd never have married Cecily." "Romance, Mme. Zabriska, romance! Southend shook his head at her severly. Mina flinched a little under the oppro-

Dr. SEARLES & SEARLES

OMAHA, NEB.

SPECIALISTS FOR DISEASES OF MEN

The Secret of Our Unparalleled Success is Told in Two Words:

..WE CURE..

Varicocele, Acquired Blood Poison, Nervous Debility and all Reflex Complications and Associate Diseases and Weaknesses

VARICOCELE

Are you afflicted with Varicocele or its results-Nervous Debility-and are you nervous, irritable and despondent? Do you lack your old-time energy and ambition?

Are you suffering from Vital Weakness, etc.? There is a derangement of the sensitive organs of your Pelvic System, and even though it gives you no trouble at present, it will ultimately unman you, depress your mind, rack your nervous system, unfit you for married life and shorten your existence. Why not be cured before it is too late? WE CAN CURE YOU TO STAY CURED. We have yet to see the case of Varicoccie we cannot cure. Medicines, Electric Boits, etc., will never cure. You need expert treatment. We treat thousands of cases where the ordinary physician days we have come to recognize-indeed there has been small choice in the matter, unless a man would throw away books and wear cotton wool in his ears-that the romance of one generation makes the realitles of the next, and that a love affair twenty years old becomes a problem in heredity, demanding the attention of the learned and receiving that of the general public also. That temporary inferiority of Bob Broadley's on which Cecily had touched so feelingly, was soon redressed, and after the wedding Harry had a talk with the bride. It was not unnatural that she should blush a little when he spoke to her -a passing tribute to the thought of what might have been. Harry greeted it with

"I suppose we'd better be straightforward about this," he said. "Mingham's so near Blent, you see. We're both very glad, aren't we, Mrs. Broadley?"

"I imagine so," said Janie. "You show no signs of pining, anyhow." "And as to our behavior-there's not a father in the kingdom who wouldn't think

"I was the worst-because I think I was in love with Bob all the time." "I was just as bad-because I thought you were, too," said Harry. "How could we do it, then?" she asked. "That's the odd thing. It didn't seem at all out of the way at the time," he pondered.

'You'd do it again now, if the case arose, but I shouldn't. That's the difference, said she.

Harry considered this remark for a moment with an impartial air. "Well, perhaps I should," he admitted at last, "but you needn't tell that to Cecily. Content yourself with discussing it with Mina or Mr. Neeld.

"I'm tired of both of them," she cried. 'They do nothing but talk about you." That night as he sat in the garden at Blent with his wife, Harry returned the compliment by talking of the Imp. He looked up toward Merrion and saw the lights in the windows. "I think Mina is with us for life, Cecily."

"I like her to be," she answered, with a laugh. "First, because I like being loved, and she loves me. And then I like you to be loved, and she loves you. Besides, she's been so closely mixed up with it all, hasn't she? She knew about you before I did. She knew Blent before I did. And it's not only with you and me. She knew your mother, Addie Tristram, too.' "Yes; Mina goes right back to the beginning of the thing." "And the thing, as you call it, is what brought us here together. So Mina seems to have had something to do with that, too.

It comes all back to me when I look at her, and I like to have her here. "Well, she's part of the family story now. And she'll probably keep a journal and make entries about us, like the late Mr. Cholderton, and some day be edited by a future Mr. Neeld. Mina must stop, that's

"It's clear, anyhow, because nothing would make her go," said Cecily.
"Let's go up the hill and see her now," he suggested.

Together they climbed the hill and reached the terrace. There were people in the drawing room, and Harry signed to Cecily to keep out of sight. They ap-

"Who's with her? I didn't know anyone was staying here," whispered Cecily. Harry turned his face toward her, smiling. "Hush; it's old Neeld!" They peeped in. Neeld was sitting in at with some sheets of paper in his hand. He had his spectacles on and apparently had been reading something aloud to Mina; indeed, they heard his voice die away just as they came up. Mina stood in front of him, her manner full of her old excitement. "Yes, that's it, that's just right!!" they heard her exclaim. She stood in the middle of the room, and Harry pressed his wife's hand and laughed stlently. "She cried out just what you've read. I remember exactly how she lookked and the very words that Mr. Cholderton uses. Think of the difference it makes, the enormous difference!" she said. "O, it might have been yesterday, Mr. Neeld."

Harry leaped over the window sill and burst into the room with a laugh. "O, your dear silly people, you're at it again," said he.

"The story does not lose its interest for me," remarked old Mr. Neeld, primly, and he added, as he greeted Cecily, "It won't so long as I can look at your face, my dear. You keep Addie Tristram still alive

"She's Lady Tristram-and I'm the enormous difference, I suppose," said Harry. Mina and Neeld did not quite understand why Cecily turned so suddenly and put her hand in Harry's, saying, "No, Harry, there's no difference now.'

TURTLE DOVES AND PLOVER

Shoot Their Own Lawful Game.

Omaha sportsmen are turning their atention these hot days to turtle doves, which, according to an old theory, are ready for the marksman after July 1. According to the new game law it is lawful to kill doves and plover at this time of the year, but the law has failed to provide the plover. A party of Omaha men, who are so devoted to the gun that they are not stopped from hunting by the excessive heat, started to the western fields after plover last week. After two days' hunting, in which no bird was seen, they returned home and now go out in the early morning and shoot doves. The doves are said to be rather plentiful in this part of the country, but the average man does not like work well enough to carry a gun under a summer sun, so the birds are not hunted to a great extent. August 15 the legal restriction against the killing of deer will have passed away for a few months, but it will be two months later before the local sportsmen start out after the big game. At the same time they are listening to reports from the grounds, which latterly have become much restricted. Reports from the northwest are to the effect that around Fort Robinson there are a number of deer more than there have been for some time, and lovers of the chase are planning a campaign into that section as soon as the weather will permit them to ship their game to the city. It is said that some of the country hunters are not so particular about waiting for cooler weather and some of the Omaha men believe that if they are to get a shot at Nebraska deer this season they will have to start as soon as the law permits.

James G. Amhertof, Della, O., writes: "T had an obstinate sore on my face which everything else failed to heal. After one application of Banner Salve it began to heal and after three applications it was en-

Hair Was Coming Out

"We have tested the merits of Herpicide and can now state, after a trial of same made by our Mr. Cadogan, that this article is all that you have claimed for it. Mr. Cadogan's hair was coming out in bunches, and, up to this time he has used less than half a bottle, and his hair has ceased to fall. We hope that all sufferers from baldness and dandruff will learn of your remedy and try it. Respectfully yours,

"CADOGAN & McCLURE. "Manufacturers of Fine Rubber Goods, San Francisco, Cal.

"You can fool some of the people all of the time, and you can fool all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time," was what Abraham Lincoln said in those or very like words.

MANY HAIR PREPARATIONS

Have fooled some of the people all of the time, but since it has been discovered that the people are becoming wise. They know that to cure dandruff YOU MUST KILL THE GERM.

DANDRUFF IS A GERM DISEASE

There is but one hair preparation made since the discovery of the dandruff germ, on the principle of destroying that deadly germ, and that is

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

It does kill the dandruff germ. It does, therefore, stop falling hair. It allays itching instantly. It impels new growth of hair. It makes hair soft and flossy as silk, and it

KILLS THE DANDRUFF CERM

NOTE-Before beginning the treatment with Herpicide, the hair and scalp should be washed thoroughly, and once or twice a week thereafter. The best soap for the purpose is HERPICIDE SOAP.

A LADY HAIRDRESSER'S EXPERIENCE.

She Found that Herpicide Cures Dandruff and Stops Falling Hair.

Newbro's Herpicide is not only a pleasant tonic to use, but it does the work claimed for it. It stops the falling of hair and cures dandruff, when used according to directions. Mrs. L. E. ALLEN,

Hairdressing Parlors, 850 Main St., San Francisco, Cal.

IDEAL RECREATION PLACE

Happy Summer Days at Home of Amateur Athletic Association.

FRONT PORCH MAKES A HIT

Comparative Comfort as to Weather is Chief Inducement, Supplemented by Various Forms of Athletic Amusement.

Since its formal opening on Saturday, July 6, no place of recreation, amusement or exercise has been more popular than the home of the Omaha Amateur Athletic association. Ideally situated, within a few minutes' ride of the business portion of but all indoors. the city and on high ground, where the sufficient to lend the place much attractive-

And these are not all. The clubhouse is now completed and affords the luxury of every modern appointment. Moreover for the aesthetic it could not be surpassed. It is nestled down in the heart of an orchard, the trees in which are old, large and shady. This gives an inviting lawn. Then away from the veranda to the right stretches a continuous row of immense cottonwoods and under these is a line of lawn benches and chairs.

All this overlooks the athletic grounds and those not inclined to strenuous personal exertion may sit at ease by the hundred on the porch and in the grounds and watch the feats of their friends on the tennis courts, diamond or links. All these are liberally patronized, despite the hot The great porch is just now the hit of the whole thing. It is a hot weather solace of the most successful kind. Then behind it is the reception hall, which rivals any thing of the kind in the west. Add to all | Guam announces the interesting and novel | ring.

this a perfect cafe service and the club is fact that that official, when he goes abroad

Lured by these attractions great numbers of city people have been taking advantage of what is offered there every night. The membership is large and all the last week there were from 150 to 300 members and guests present in the evenings Many come out late in the afternoon, taking dinner at the club, and ample amusement is provided for the evening hours. Dancing, usually shunned in hot weather becomes a pleasure out there in the cool of the veranda and it has been going on Saturday night is to be specially dedicated to the terpsichorean muse and on those weekly occasions a full orchestra will be on convenience and comfort alone have been or golf and then a delectable dinner and cooling drinks from a well appointed buffet and music and dancing afterwards is an here will go to the seaside next week and go alluring prospect and members of the asso- in washing. clation have done it full credit. The latest thing at the club house is to get a chance at them the next day.

get clean afterwards.

on his tours of inspection, rides in state, not on a horse, but on a bull. The governor of Guam is Captain Seaton Schroeder, one of the best known officers in the navy and a most popular society man. His face every night during the week. Then each

Sometimes the throng of dancers becomes too great for even the big porch to accommodate them all and then they spread on places are fine for the purpose. In the winter time these affairs will be continued,

Large numbers of informal parties have cool breezes always blow, these features of been the rule the past week. A little tennis that the bowling alleys are now completed for him. and open. These are built in the long rear wing of the house, which gives it such a unique appearance. They are finely constructed and the way in which they have already sprung into popularity despite the hot weather would seem to indicate that when winter comes around the members will begin sleeping on the alleys in order A feature of this sport at this club is the shower baths which are in direct connection, being built to one side of the second alley. That will remove from the game

Riding a Bull in Guam.

the only objectionable feature and no one and figure are most familiar in the recollection of Washington society people as leading in dancing events and it is a sharp jog on their fancy to imagine him astride a bull while performing his official duties. Nevertheless, Captain Schroeder reports that he has ridden all over the island looking over the abominably muddy roads, inquiring into the condition of the natives and the administration of the little amount of government necessary to make everybody comfortable and happy. The people are recovering from the effects of the cyclone and will soon have crops from which to derive a living. The gift of thirty sacks of seed sweet potatoes from Hawaii is mentioned in the report with especial into the reception hall. The floors of both thanks. No attempt has been made to rebuild the town of Pago Pago, which the storm destroyed. The inhabitants seem to think it wiser to build a new town than to clean up the old one.

Summertime in Bilville.

Atlanta Constitution: Quite a party from Our coroner weighs 350 pounds and when

We have given our pastor three months' vacation, as he preached too much h-1 for he sits on a man there's no hope on earth

Two of our town poets have had their heads shaved close to where their brains ought to be It is so hot in this settlement we could broil beefsteak in the sun-if we only had any steak to brotl. For the convenience of their patients our local physicians have moved their offices near the town cemetery. Lost, on Wednesday last, a pocketbook will stay out of it now because he cannot containing $1 in silver, six postage stamps and two bathing suits.

The brass bell in the town hall tower was warped by the heat on Friday last, but, The official report of the governor of though badly disfigured, it is still in the

DR. VAN DYKE'S HOLLAND BITTERS

DYSPEPSIA, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, HEART-BURN, AND ALL DISEASES DUE TO A

DISORDERED OR SOUR STOMACH. SURE PREVENTIVE OF MALARIA. IT IS AN OLD AND TRIED REMEDY. VER MEHREN, FRICK & MEYER,

ON EVERY BOTTLE Walte to VAN DEKE BUFFERS CO., ST. LOUIS, MO., for a Copy of DR. VAN DYKE'S DREAM BOOK AND FORTUNE treats one. Method new, without cutting, pain or loss of time. CURES GUARANTEED CHARGES LOW Consultation Free, Treatment by mail.

DRS. SEARLES & SEARLES, OMAHA tirely healed, leaving no scar.