I. D. Jones of Murdock, the complainant, acknowledged at the close of the hearing. which was before Governor Savage, that his charges were groundless and on his motion the case was dismissed. It developed during the proceedings that the person most interested in the prosecution was Henry Hemple of Havelock, who was an aspirant for the superintendency under the fusion administration.

The trial was conducted under charges preferred against O'Brien during the Poynter administration. They alleged drunkenness, incompetency and dishonesty on the part of the superintendent. Some evidence Dealers' association give the following Rev. A. M. Nebraska hanker's Views.

While in the city a few days ago Daniel G. Wing of Boston, vice president and manager signed. Dr. Dunn was chosen from a large of the Massachusetts National bank, said to number of applicants because of her pecua reporter for The Bee that there was abso- liar fitness for the office. She has speciallutely no foundation for the assertious that the recent bank failures in the east were due to a depression in business. Mr. Wing left Lincoln a few years ago to accept the position of national bank manager for the Massachusetts division and he was subsequently appointed receiver of the Globe National bank of Boston. The duties of his various positions have brought him in close connection with many of the largest banking institutions in the eastern states and the Globe receivership has given bim an insight to the general condition of the defunct banks.

Business in the eastern and New England states has never been better than it is today," said Mr. Wing. "So far as my observation has gone the banks are enjoying as much of the prosperity of the territory as any of the commercial instiin-the Massachusetts National-on January 1, 1900, had on deposit $1,171,963.83. On April 24, this year, the deposits of the institution amounted to $4,474,122.41. A comparison of these figures will give you a little illustration of how the banks in the east are getting along.

"I am sure that reports have been circulated that the fallures were due to a decline in business. This is untrue, as has been demonstrated. Poor management, or bers of the various Methodist congregations mismanagement, probably had as much or tomorrow at the auditorium, the exercises thing else."

Mr. Wing will soon ascend to the presidency of the Massachusetts National bank. He is now its active manager and has been for about one year past. In Lincoln Mr. Wing was cashier of the American Exchange National bank.

Punishment in Schools.

Superintendent Fowler was asked teday for an opinion as to the right of a public school teacher to inflict corporal punishment and in response he submitted the following former ruling of the department, which will be adhered to by the present administration:

"The statutes of Nebraska are silent as to the right of the teacher to inflict corporal punishment and the matter seems never to have been brought before the supreme court, but the holdings of the supreme courts of other states are quite uniform and positive in the matter and are in substance as follows:

'A teacher in charge of a school stands in the place of the parent while the pupils are under his or her control and has the same right to command and enforce obedience which the parent has in his home. This right includes the infliction of corperal punishment in a reasonable manner and with proper motive. If it can be shown that the punishment was cruel and excessive, or inflicted with malice on the part of the teacher, then such teacher is liable to prosecution and punishment. As a matter of educational policy there is no question but what corporal punishment is to be used only as a last resort and our best teachers almost invariably succeed in avoiding it. Nevertheless, there are cases growing out of unusual perversity or unfortunate influences at home which make its use advisable and sometimes even indispensable. While the constant aim of the teacher should be to reduce the use of this method of discipline to the minimum, the teacher may employ corporal punishment, under proper circumstances, in the proper manner and with proper motive."

Mr. Fowler Back from Detroit.

Superintendent Fowler returned with the Nebraska contingent today from the meeting of the National Educational association at Detroit. Monday morning he will attend a meeting of the Nebraska Library commisston in this city and at noon on the same day he will leave for Hebron, where he will address school teachers at a county insti-

"Nebraska was represented by a good number of teachers at the national meeting," said Mr. Fowler. "I think the enrollment from this state was 125-not a record breaker but still a good, average attendance. The meeting was exceedingly successful and the people of Detroit did everything in their power for the enteralament of their visitors. Mr. Pearse of Omaha was re-elected state manager for the association without any opposition."

sixteenths. Never did twelve horses run a closer race. Terminus, who finished second to Robert Waddell in the American Derby and has been second in two or three other big stakes, cleverly handled by little Gormley, won the $6,500 prize by nearly a length. Vesuvian finished second and John Bright was a close third. Close on the heels of the three money winners came seven horses so close together that their order under the wire was almost a guess. Pink Coat was the favorite, but as good as 4 to 1 could be had against his chances. The Unknown and Star Chamber were next in demand, but every horse in the race was backed. Terminus went at the longest price, 20 to 1 being offered against him at the close.

First r Never did twelve horses run a close

There was a good start and the race was a battle from the drop of the flag, nearly all of the jockeys struggling to get the rall before the first turn was reached. The light-weighted Rolling Boer secured the coveted position and set the pace. It was a hot one. Martimas, Pink Coat and The Unknown occupied second place successively. Robert Waddell had Jockey See up and the Derby winner never was in the front bunch at any time in the race, although he was never a great distance behind the leader. John Bright was another horse that met with much interference. Coming into the stretch Rolling Boer began to tire and the well-played Star Chamber here went to the front. He seemed to be going strong, but from behind there came a field of chargers that could not be withstood. Suddenly from the same to the colt and amateurs of Omaha, Council Bluffs and Lincoln, among whom are H. C. Gadke, Dave Schultz, L. Sawyer and Buck Jackson, professionals, and V. E. Swedburg, F. W.
