

REACHES CRITICAL STAGE

a day will be a crucial day for strikers and steel manufacturers.

PLANNING TO START THE MILLS THEN

Union officials confident and managers of plants no less so.

PITTSBURG, July 20.—The steel strike has reached the critical stage and the developments of the next several hours are expected to have an important bearing on the great struggle.

By Monday night the results of the attempts of the combine officials to resume operations at Wellville and McKeesport should be known, and upon the success or failure of this the outcome of the struggle will greatly depend.

So far the contending forces appear to have been watching each other. But the statement from J. P. Morgan has changed the complexion of the situation.

At Wellville the company is straining every point to get the plant into operation and the latest dispatches from there state that they claim they have a full force at all furnaces by Monday morning.

Anxious about Monday. Everything seems to depend for the next development upon the outcome of the company's efforts at resumption on Monday.

A large number of railroad tickets from here to Wellville have been purchased within the last few days, which are reported to be for the new force.

At McKeesport a force of men is still at work cleaning up and getting the DeWeese-Wood plant in shape for early operation.

A secret meeting of the strikers has been called for this afternoon, which will be presided over by Vice President Chappelle.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Twenty-Fourth Street Residents Complain of Sewer Nuisance.

PLAN TO HAVE J STREET HILL REMOVED

Tax Commissioner Fitzgerald is still at work on the Delinquent List of Former Years—Magic City News in General.

Residents of the vicinity of Twenty-fourth and E streets say that the sewer, which was laid down over the gulch at that point, has become a nuisance and its existence is dangerous to the health of the community.

This sewer pipe was established about a year ago at quite an expense to the city. For a long time now to extend the sewer over the old ravine, which is about forty feet deep and 100 feet wide, was an unsolvable problem in the minds of both the city engineer and the contractors.

Finally a plan was hit upon to fill in the place with dirt and allow the pipe to rest upon such support. However, it was in the fall when this decision was reached and before the gulch could be filled in and the pipe laid the frost had secured quite a hold on everything and no allowance for shrinkage was made.

The result is very apparent to those who live in that vicinity. The ground, which was dumped into the excavation, has settled down until the sewer pipe, which is open to view, has assumed the form of a siphon and in this form is supposed to carry off the refuse which is poured into the different separate sewers leading to it.

City Engineer Beal said yesterday when asked concerning the sewer that the work was not done to suit him and that he expressed his disapproval at the time. J. E. Riley of Omaha was the contractor and Mr. Beal claims that at the time dirt was dumped in there and the piping laid he expressed the opinion that as soon as a spring thaw would come the ground would settle down to a considerable extent and the spring rains would wash it away.

It is what Mr. Beal's prediction it has been fully verified, as the city will, in all probability, have to have the ravine refilled this year in order to keep the sewer pipes from breaking apart.

Mr. Beal further stated that the sewer must cross this ravine in order to connect with the main system of sewer lines of the city. He suggests that the embankment be rebuilt for the winter months and that next spring a terrace of stone or something else equally durable be placed at this point to keep the pipes in place.

Whatever will be done to remedy the defect will not reimburse the city for the money which has been paid out on the work. The contract was approved by someone and the money paid to the contractor, so whatever improvements are made will have to be done at an extra expense to the South Omaha taxpayers.

J Street Hill to Go. An extra endeavor is being made to have the unsightly hill standing on the corner of Twenty-fourth and J streets removed.

The hill is in the middle of the road leading to the Presbyterian church and in cases of damp or snow weather it becomes nothing less than a nuisance to those who have occasion to travel along this way.

The trouble heretofore has been that property owners whose lots abut on this piece of ground have refused to sign a petition to have the hill removed, while others now stand upon the side of the hill have refused to consider a donation amounting to the special assessment for the costs of this work, saying that it would make their homes unmarketable.

Poultry's Fountain of Life. If Swift and Company will do what they say they are going to do, old chickens which have weathered the storm of Nebraska's glorious summers will be transformed into light-hearted spring chickens.

The packing house people say that with the process which will use the weight of chickens will be about double in a very few weeks and that old chickens will become of the same muscular grade as tender spring chickens.

Work on Annual Statement. The city clerk and his deputy are hard at work preparing the annual statement of the city for the year ending July 1. It is the intention of the clerk to have the statement completed so as to be presented to the first meeting of the council in August.
