GARNER TOWNSHIP OBJECTS

Remonstrates Against Increase of Assessment by County Supervisors.

FOUR REASONS FOR THEIR OBJECTIONS OWNERS.

Board Doubts Its Authority to Make Any Change After Figures Have Reen Approved by the State Executives.

When the county supervisors met in adjourned session yesterday they were presented with a remonstrance from the trustees of Garner township against the action of the board in raising the assessed thereby disturbing their slumbers during value of lands and real estate in that township as returned by the assessor. The trustees were present and submitted the remonstrance in person. The county supervisors when in session as a board of review raised the valuation placed on lands in Garner township by the assessor 25 per cent. The valuation for taxation purposes placed by the assessor was $11.78 per acre and this the board raised to $14.73.

In their remonstrance the trustees of Garner township put forth four reasons why the assessment should not be raised. They claim that any increase or addition There will be a street parade this forenoon sessed value as originally returned by the assessor for the township is higher than sessor of any other township in this county. As a third reason they claim that the actual value of lands in Garner township will not exceed the actual value of lands in other townships. As a fourth and final reason they assert that any increase or addition to the assessed value of the lands of their township for the year 1901 would be excessively high as compared with the valuations of other townships and would be inequitable, unjust and oppressive to the

The board did not take any action on the remonstrance as it was in doubt as to its authority to make any change in the assessment after the same had been approved by the State Executive Board.

The law requires that in case any person is dissatisfied with the assessment as fixed by the board of review a remonstrance must be filed and in the event of the remonstrance failing of its object an appeal must be taken to the district court within twenty days after the adjournment of the session of the board at which such gered in consequence. In July, 1899, when assessment was made. The present session of the board is an adjourned meeting of the regular June session and the trustees claim that they have twenty days after the close of this meeting within which to appeal to the court. They stated that if the board failed to place the assessment back at its original figures, an appeal would assuredly be taken to the district court.

The board after convening yesterday afternoon resolved itself into a committee of the whole and spent the balance of the day in inspecting county bridges in Hardin township. Owing to the absence of Supervisor Brandes nothing was done regarding the proposed junketing trip through the state to inspect county poor farms. This Elopement Proves Unnecessary. Arthur Wise and Blanche Green, youthful people from Omaha, who both gave their ages as 17, applied at the office of the clerk of the district court early yesterday morning for a marriage license. The groom was provided with his father's permission to wed, but the would-be bride lacked that of her parents. Clerk Reed declined to issue the license under these circumstances and told the couple they would have to get the During the afternoon they returned with the required consent and the license was issued and Justice Bryant did the rest. The young people had planned to elope, but the groom's father learned of their intentions and sent them over to this city to get margirl's parents was also necessary.

An ordinance providing for the change | Women Fermerly of Pelk County Now Tries to Prove it Uncenstitutional.

PREACHER SCORES SENATOR TILLMAN

vangelist Holds Whistling Service-Striking Clay Workers Resume Their Jobs -- Cummius Club Leaves for Cedar Rapids.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Aug. 5 .- (Special.) -A second attempt is to be made to prove the unconstitutionality of the lowa tax ferret law. Mrs. L. E. DeWitt, who formerly resided in Polk county, removing to Long Beach, Cal., in 1898, has brought action in the district court here to have the assessment covering the period dating from 1896 to 1900 inclusive set aside on the grounds that the new law empowering supervisors to employ tax ferrets is unconstitutional; also that section 1374 of the Iowa code, permitting the county treasurer to go back a period of five years, dating from the year 1896, and make assessments on concealed moneys and credits, is not retroactive. The grounds are similar to those fought over in the Day case, which gave the ferrets a decided victory. Section 1374 is charged as unconstitutional because it fails to provide a remedy in appeal: that it falls to provide notice to the taxpayer before the listing and assessment of the property by the treasurer, and that it permits some one other than the regularly elected assessor to make the assessments, thus holding out an inducement for the latter to shirk his duty and enter into collusion with the tax ferrets, therefore, making it contrary to public policy and invalid. Chapter 50 is declared to be unconstitutional for the same reason that section 1374 is defective. It is charged that it is not retroactive and applies to no taxes assessed prior to the time of its taking effect. W. G. Harrison, ex-county attorney for Polk county, drew up the petition. He is understood to have contended that the law is invalid since its inception and will make a determined effort to prove his premises. The amount in controversy aggregates $26,000.

BANK FAILURE IN INDIANA Proprietor H. W. Leach, Formerly of Stoux City, Departs in Haste.

LA GRANGE, Ind., Aug. 5 .- (Special.)of the Burlington, stationed in the yards The developments in the Avilla and Cromwell bank failure are beginning to prove startling for the depositors. The proprietor, H. W. Leach, has suddenly disappeared and his creditors gathered in crowds about the empty institution today making all sorts of threats as to his personal welfare. Leach on Wednesday morning said he was going to Kendallville, six miles distant, and would return. He did not come back during banking hours and it was ascertained that he made an unsuccessful attempt to secure funds with which to continue his institution.

Liabilities of the Avilla bank are about $30,000 and the depositors are in a feverish state of excitement. Leach is only 27 years old and came to Avilla about a year ago from Chicago and claimed Sioux City, Ia., as his home. He built a residence costing $10,000, and the village folks believed he was immensely wealthy. In a short time he opened a carriage factory on | For sale at Boston Store Drug Dept.
