

AUTUMN SEASON IS ON

Jobbers Report Brick Business and Bright Outlook.

PURCHASING POWER IS GREAT

Stocks of Merchandise Throughout Tributary Country Are Comparatively Low and Demand for New Goods is Heavy.

The fall trade for Omaha jobbers has begun in earnest and the wholesale district is taken on the true aspect of activity. Speaking of present conditions, T. C. Byrne of the Byrne-Hammer company said: "Trade is in a very satisfactory condition. Omaha jobbers believe that the purchasing power of the people in this territory is as great or greater than it ever has been."

On account of the advance reports received it was believed that the trade would lag early in the season, but all hopes return for the middle of August they have never had better trade than this year, while the quality and quantity of goods demanded show little falling off from last season, which was considered a banner year.

Among heavy buyers in the city during the last half of the week were Brown & Eldridge of Blackfoot, Idaho. This firm usually goes to Chicago, but has been induced to stop at Omaha enroute, with the result that on many staples this city caught its trade. Booney & Wood of Provo, Utah, is a firm which has changed its principal source of supply from the lakes to the Missouri river.

A. E. Miller Co. of Laramie, Wyo., were on the market for their usual large bill of fall and winter goods. This firm is one of Omaha's loyal supporters and has been ever since it began business.

T. L. Davis of York, who is credited with running one of the most complete dry goods stores in the state, was on the market, as was William A. Voight of Nelson and W. H. Weber of Villisca, Ia. These gentlemen make reports of good conditions in their respective counties somewhat at variance with the published reports. Mr. Davis says that while corn in York county is badly damaged, the yield by farms running from nothing to fifteen bushels to the acre, the record-breaking wheat crop of the county has put the farmers in such good condition that they will suffer but little from the loss of the corn.

WEDGE PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Gives Bond for Appearance at Preliminary Hearing on August 20.

William G. Wedge appeared before Judge Vinsonhaller in the county court yesterday and pleaded not guilty to the charge of embezzlement lodged against him by J. Fred Smith, president of the Builders' and Traders' exchange. Mr. Wedge, who is 64 years of age and who was secretary of the Builders' and Traders' exchange for ten years, is charged with having converted $3,425 of the funds of the organization to his private use during the years of 1899 and 1900.

Judge Vinsonhaller set August 20 as the date for the preliminary hearing of the case and fixed $500 as the amount of the bond required for the release of the defendant from custody. The bond was promptly furnished, the sureties being C. W. Partridge, J. E. Merriam and Herman Gurke.

Mr. Wedge asserts that he is the victim of persecution. He says that he is retired as secretary of the Builders' and Traders' exchange at the beginning of this year and organized a rival exchange. "The success of the new organization," says Mr. Wedge, "has engendered a bitter feeling against me on the part of the officers of the old exchange and they have caused my arrest on charges which they will be unable to prove. One count of the information charges that on January 2, 1900, I took $3,000, and as a matter of fact the exchange never had that amount of money at any one time."

The complaint was sworn out in the county court by President J. F. Smith of the Builders' and Traders' exchange and in it the charge is made that Wedge appropriated $3,425 of the funds of the exchange to his own use. It is alleged that he took $75 on July 25, 1899, $200 on July 31, 1899, $100 on September 30, 1899, $100 on October 31, 1899, $100 on December 30, 1899, $3,000 on January 2, 1900, and $50 on January 31, 1900.

MANDAMUS CASE GOES OVER

Donahue Desires to Show Cause and Secure Continuance.

The alternative writ of mandamus to compel Chief of Police Donahue to close certain houses on Capitol avenue and cause the arrest of the inmates or show cause why such action should not be taken was returnable before Judge Keyser yesterday morning. Assistant City Attorney Adams appeared and stated to the court that the chief of police desired to show cause, but would be unable to do so until the return of City Attorney Council from the east. Judge Keyser therefore granted a motion for a continuance to August 24.

Parke Godwin, attorney for Louis Slobodsky, the owner of the houses involved, asked that his client be made a party defendant in the case, but the counsel for the chief of police objected. Slobodsky was given the right to file a petition in intervention, however.

HOME GROWN WATERMELONS

First of the Ak-Sar-Ben Product is Now on Tap in Omaha Markets.

Home-grown watermelons made their first appearance on the Omaha market yesterday. Four wagonloads of excellent melons raised in Douglas county were sold at wholesale for $2 per dozen and proved to be superior in quality to melons that are shipped to St. Paul from the west. The recent rains have insured a fair crop of melons in eastern Nebraska and western Iowa.

The vegetable market was slightly off compared with other days this week. Tomatoes, which have been selling at 75 cents and $1 were sold as low as 65 to 75 cents. Red June apples were readily at 50 cents, a reduction of 10 cents, and other varieties were somewhat higher and found ready sale. Cantaloupes, on quality and quantity, sold from $2 cents to $1.50 a dozen, and eggplant at 75 cents a dozen; potatoes at $1 a bushel and scarce at that price.

Cabbage holds the call on the market, inferior stock selling at 3 cents to 3 1/2 cents a pound. An interesting feature on Farnam street is the exhibit in the windows of the Shriverick Furniture Co. Some time ago they started the novel scheme of putting a few pieces of furniture in their window and reducing the price $1.00 each day until sold. This idea met with so much enthusiasm that they have now got their windows full of all kinds of furniture, cheap and fine, and reduce the price $1.00 a day, commencing with the regular selling price and lasting until the article is sold.

MORE TROUBLE FOR JACOB

Judge Munger Declines to Require Bond of Caleb Haley in Richtman Case.

In the United States district court Judge Munger has disposed of the motion of the master of the steamboat Jacob Richtman asking that Caleb Haley be asked to give bond before he is permitted to press his suit for damages against the owners of the boat.

The judge has decided that under the law no bond can be required, but at the request of the owners he has consented to withhold the formal order pending the receipt of a letter from St. Louis, which it is claimed may cite authorities in support of the contention of the defendants. In the meantime the boat is in the hands of the United States marshal, as the defendants refuse to give bond for the payment of the claim.

Gentlemen: I have granted your request to give Shrader Fig Powder a trial for appendicitis in such limited time as a week. I have given it to two patients and never imagined medicine could work such wonders and now think it is not necessary for operations for appendicitis when your Fig Powder will answer the purpose. KIPLING'S WORD PICTURE

Beautiful Description of the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone.

OMAHA EXCURSION TO THE PARK

Incomparable Marvels of the Nation's Natural Museum and Vast Playground to Be Enjoyed by Many Omahans.

Of the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone Rudyard Kipling writes: "All I can say is that without warning or preparation I looked into a gulf 1,700 feet deep, with eagles and fishwauks circling far below. And the sides of that gulf were one wild welter of color—grimsone, emerald, cobalt, ochre, amber, honey splashed with port wine, snow-white, vermilion, lemon and silver gray in wide washes. The sides did not fall sheer, but were grooved by time and water and air into monstrous heads of kings, dead chiefs—men and women of the old time. So far below that no sound of its strife could reach us, the Yellowstone river ran, a finger-wide strip of jade green. The sunlight took these wonderful walls and gave fresh hues to those that nature had already laid there. Everything crept through the pipes that shadowed the canyon as we went out very cautiously to a jutting piece of rock—blood-red or pink it was—that overhung the deepest depths of all. Now I know what it is to sit enthroned amid the clouds of sunset as the spirits sit in Blake's pictures."
