Ethel May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Roach, 714 Fremont street, was married yesterday morning. The funeral was yesterday afternoon, interment being in Fairview cemetery. Rev. W. H. Cable of Trinity Methodist church conducted the services.

A local branch of the National Cycle club, with W. F. Adams as president, has been organized in this city. The club was organized last week and it is proposed to have a grand meeting at the end of two weeks.

T. E. Brady, candidate for the democratic nomination for judge of the superior court, has not given up the fight and said yesterday he would run again. He will be in the manager fund and the receipts were $17.86, being $17.50 below the needs of the week and increasing the deficiency in this sum.

The hearing of the habeas corpus case by which Mrs. Mary Higgins seeks to recover possession of her daughter from her husband, John Higgins, was set for 6 o'clock this morning before Judge Wheeler in the district court. The child is now in possession of Sheriff Cousins and is being cared for in the county jail by Mrs. Martin, wife of the jailer.

Danny Herold and his brother, two little boys living at 359 Harrison street, were run over by a team of horses, severely injuring the buggy containing Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pinkney. Danny received a number of bruises, but was not seriously hurt, while his mother was slightly injured. The boy was on the street driving a small wagon in which they had delivered some washing which the team ran into them. The street was very dirty at the point where the accident occurred.

Burglars attempted to break into Bartel & Merkl's grocery store on Broadway about 9:30 p.m. last night. They succeeded in effecting an entrance into the rear room, but failed to get into the storeroom proper. While they were in the rear room, they reached the roof of the back room and climbed down through a skylight. It is supposed they were frightened away as they left, but added that they had been there. Nothing was found to be missing from the rear storeroom.

Chief of Police Albro was in Logan yesterday and in trial of Frank Daniels, charged with complicity in the robbery of a car on the Northwestern road. secret of their bid for the property being $35,100. Mr. Hannan said yesterday this was the second time that he had bid this amount for the property and if it was not accepted he would not make another offer. His first bid, he says, was entirely ignored by the receivers. Mr. Hannan contends that the property is not worth more than about $20,000, but he is willing to invest the money in it in order to retain and improve it so that it will be an ornament to the city.

Receiver Murphy said yesterday that the life of a receiver was not altogether a bed of roses. It was hard to please every one of 1,500 creditors, he said. Some of the creditors wanted the bank property sold at the appraised value, if they could not get more, while others had suggested that it ought to fetch at least $25,000 and that this sum could be realized if they waited.

CHIEF SNUBS ACTING MAYOR

Refuses to Recognize the Authority of Alderman Clark in Jennings' Absence.

Chief of Police Albro will not recognize the authority of Alderman Clark appointed acting mayor by the city council Monday night during the absence of Mayor Jennings from the city. Neither will he recognize the authority of the city council committee on police and health as far as giving any jurisdiction over the police department is concerned. Chief Albro will continue to act under instructions received from Mayor Jennings before his departure from Council Bluffs.

Chief Albro takes this position on the ground that there is no law authorizing the appointment of an acting mayor during the absence of the chief executive from the city. The city council appointed the committee by the council of chairman pro tempore during the absence of the mayor from the city, but the new code is silent on the point.

The clash between Chief Albro and Acting Mayor Clark arose yesterday over the matter of slot machines. Acting on the understanding that Mayor Clark was in favor of a more liberal policy in this respect than Mayor Jennings a number of saloon keepers resurrected their trade slot machines, which had been relegated to the cellar on orders some months ago from Mayor Jennings. As Chief Albro was in Logan the machines did business all day until his return in the evening, when he promptly gave orders that they be taken out again. The chief also notified Acting Mayor Clark that he did not recognize him as mayor.

TWO SUE THE MOTOR COMPANY

Women Claim They Are Injured by Carelessness of Employee and Ask Five Thousand Apiece.

The Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company was made defendant in two $5,000 personal injury damage suits in the district court yesterday. Alvin Tradel, plaintiff in one suit and Mrs. John L. Hill in the other.

Alvin Tradel visited Lake Manawa June 30 and on the return trip entered a closed car, which, she says, was so crowded and overloaded that she was compelled to stand on the rear platform, where she was pushed, jammed and crushed up against an iron railing with such force and violence that she sustained severe and permanent internal personal injury. The injury, she says, caused her great bodily suffering, mental pain and anguish of mind, which she will continue to suffer during the remainder of her life.

Law or no law they may permit them to have the right to appoint one of their members to act in the place of the mayor during his absence.
