"PUT ME DOWN, TOO," SAYS ALLOWAY

Four of St. Paul's Disciples Are Recipients of His Bounty, Ten Five of Them Ask Aid and He Sends Them Away Rejoicing.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 14.—(Special Telegram.)—Omaha dropped the second game of the series to the Saints in an exhibition that was replete with errors. It was an exciting contest and was not decided finally until the last man was out, for the visitors made a great bid for a victory in the last three innings and came within an ace of making good. Alloway and Cogan were at the points and Alloway had all the better of the argument in so far as allowing hits went, but he was wild, passing four men and hitting one. The loss of the game may be credited directly to these battery errors.

Cogan was steady as clockwork at critical stages. Four times he pitched himself out of holes with two men on bases. Behind Cogan the Saints played an erratic game, combining fast and brilliant work with the rankest kind of fielding. For six innings the Omaha men were blanked. Gonding opened the seventh with a single and Alloway duplicated the trick. Genins went out at first base. With one out and men on second and third, Fleming hit a liner at Cogan, who made an effort to stop it, but only succeeded in diverting it to the short field, where Huggins, who got the ball in plenty of time to make a double, first fumbled it and then threw wild to first, letting Gonding and Alloway in. The next two up were easy outs. Omaha put two men on bases in the final inning, but was unable to get them around, Buckley sawing the air and Fleming and Letcher flying out. A three-bagger by Schaeffer and a fielder's choice gave the Saints their first run. The three tallies that came in the seventh were the result of a base on balls, a sacrifice, a hit by pitcher and a clean single with a couple of errors and a stolen base thrown in to help the work along. Attendance, 450. Score:

NATIONAL'S HONORS ARE EVEN

New York Gives Boston an Eye for an Eye and a Whitewash for a Beating.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The New York Nationals broke even in the double-header with the Bostons at the Polo grounds today. In the first game Taylor proved an easy mark for the Bostons, and was hit hard when hits were most needed. The local players found Willis a hard nut to crack. Denzer pitched the second game for New York and shut out the visitors in clever style. He only allowed them five hits, three being on the scratch order.

Brooklyn's First Double Victory.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 14.—In order not to conflict with the Cresceus-Abbot race on Thursday, the Brooklyn and Philadelphia Nationals played a double-header, the second game being the one scheduled for tomorrow. The Brooklyns won both games, their first double victory this year. Donovan gave nine passes and made two wild pitches in the first game, but the visitors could not touch him after the second inning, getting only five scattered hits. Brooklyn was outbatted in the second. The batting of Kelly and Farrell and the fielding of Hallman were the features of the two games. Attendance, 2,700. Score:

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—The Boston and Philadelphia Americans made an even break in the games today and on the series, the latter standing ten to ten. Philadelphia's batting streak, combined with Boston's fearful fielding, gave the visitors the first game. Good hitting in the third and fifth innings of the second game gave the victory to Boston. Plank was struck on the head by a pitched ball in the sixth and compelled to retire. Attendance, 7,354. Score:

At Brighton Beach.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The New York Trotting association presented a first-class card at Brighton Beach, but threatening weather caused a small attendance. The principal event of the day was the $5,000 Bonner Memorial stake, which had a large field and was the medium of heavy speculation. A sample pool tells the story: May Allen, $300; Onward Silver, $250; Matallas, $200; Cornelia Bell, $100; Dr. Book, Dolly Bidwell and Confessor, $25 each, and the field $10. Dolly Bidwell led in the first heat nearly all the way around, but Onward Silver caught her at the wire and beat her by a neck. In the second heat Dolly Bidwell won by a neck from Cornelia Bell. The third heat was between this pair and Cornelia Bell won by two lengths. As three heats had now been trotted, the rest of the field was sent to the barn and Onward Silver won the two next heats with very little to spare. Results:
