PLACES EYES IN DANGER

Oculists Agree That Confetti Throwing Ought to Be Suppressed.

THERE IS POISON IN COLORED PAPER

Doctors Wonder that Confetti Throwers Have Not Caused More Trouble Than They Have and Expect More Serious Results.

Confetit or no confetti? That is the question with all citizens who are interested in the success of the carnival of Ak-Sar-Ben. While the small boy and the giggling girl undoubtedly derive much pleasure from dashing a handful of fine cut paper into the face of an unsuspecting wayfarer, there are hundreds of citizens who believe the practice dangerous and not at all essential to a good time.

Last year a number of people came out of the carnival season with bad eyes as the result of confetti assaults and there is considerable anxiety as to whether the management of the festival will tolerate the nuisance again for the sake of the small revenue it brings. Even if the managers decide to zell the privilege their action may be put to naught by an order of the chief of police, who considers confetti throwing a public nulsance.

In his stand against confetti, Chief Donahue is endorsed by Mayor Moores. The oculists of Omaha agree that great injury to the eyes may be inflicted by confetti throwers.

Their statements follow: What the Oculists Say.

Dr. P. C. Moriarty-I treated three cases of eyes injured by confetti last fall, but none was very bad. The eyes were injured by dust thrown with the confetti. The trouble is that this paper stuff accumulates in the guiters and people pick it up from there with all kinds of dirt. Of course when one protests against confetti throwing there are lots of people ready to say that he is 'knocking' Omaha and the carnival, but I am one of a good many citizens who believe that the festival would be much more respectable and enjoyable with the confetti left out. Sharp Enough to Cut.

Dr. H. B. Lemere-It is something of a violation of professional ethics to talk on this subject for publication, but the danger to the public by indiscriminate throwing of confetti is so great that perhaps it is well to sound a note of warning. The confetti is small enough to enter the eye, sharp enough to make a wound and its coloring has sufficient arsenic in it to poison the eye. I was not in Omaha at the time of the carnival last year, but since then I have treated some cases which undoubtedly resulted from injuries inflicted by confetti I should say it is a dangerous custom and it ought to be suppressed.

Dr. Harrold Gifford-I have seen some in flammations which were attributed to confettl, but nothing serious. I can readily conceive, however, how serious trouble might be started by having confetti thrown into the eyes and I often wonder that there are not more cases of injury from this source than there are.

Dr. F. C. Owen-I have never seen a casof injury to the eyes of any sort caused by the throwing of confetti. I saw a case where an eye was slightly injured by having a paper holding confetti thrown against it, but as for injuries from confetti, I have never seen any.

Danger in Foreign Substances. Dr. H. L. Burrell-I have never treated any eye trouble which was directly traceto confetti, but I can readily underfine paper, particularly paper which has been scooped from the streets and is full of gravel and dust, might cause serious damage to eyes. Most confetti is made of colored paper. If mineral colorings are used in paper, the eye might be damaged by the coloring. This is true especially of green paper, which is frequently colored with arsenic. The eye is so delicate that arsenic or any other poison might make very serious trouble. There is greater danger, however, from rice, gravel and other heavy substances than from confetti. Permitting the use of confetti encourages the throwing of all sorts of dangerous missiles and subjects eyes to great danger.

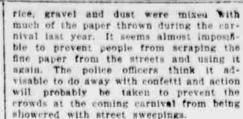

Mayor and Police Chief.

J. J. Donahue Chief of Police-Confetti throwing should be prevented at the time cf the Oriental carnival. If clean confetti were thrown in moderation there might be no harm in permitting it, but carnival crowds make confetti an excuse for throwing everything else. Sand, dust and gravel are scraped from the streets with confetti and showered upon crowds. We had scores of complaints last year from people who had their eyes injured during the carnival. In some cases rufflans threw the fine paper into the faces of babies. The liberty granted the crowds became a license. I hope the council and mayor will see fit to prevent the sale of confetti. Such action would make the crowds less bois-

Mayor Frank E. Moores-It is likely that confetti will be prohibited during the Ori-ental carnival. The privilege of using confetti has been abused in Omaha. Sand Wholesale Dry Goods Trade Never in Better Shape Than at Present.

DEALERS REGAIN CONFIDENCE

COUNTRY MERCHANTS STOCKING UP

Have Been Restored-Several New Features in the

The wholesale dry goods trade of Omaha is in better shape than it has ever been, than 10 per cent of the advance orders canceled earlier in the season remain in retailers making 90 per cent or more of the canceled orders effective. In addition to this the people visiting the wholesale districts from other towns are more numerous than they have ever been at this season of the year and a large percentage of them are people who for the first time have come to Omaha to replenish stocks. For the first time in the history of the factured cloaks and wraps for women is being carried and the men who introduced the line say that they have every reason When found the man still had all five to congratulate themselves upon the incastors and tans. Instead of the full back of last season they will be one-half tight. The goods from which they are made is principally kersey.
