DISCORD OVER LABOR DAY

Council Bluffs Unions Complain of Ice Served in Omaha.

MAY REFUSE TO JOIN IN CELEBRATION

Grand Marshal Lotts and Delegate Schroeder Object to Being Made Subordinate to Omaha and South Omaha.

It is possible that the unions of Council Bluffs will not participate in the celebration of Labor day across the river, but will observe the day by themselves either at Lake Manawa or at the Driving Park. That the Council Bluffs labor unions stay at home and have a celebration of their own will be the recommendation of Gus Lotts, vice president of the Trades and Labor assembly, at the open meeting of the unions this evening in Labor hall.

Gus Lotts, who had been selected as grand marshal of the Council Bluffs unions for the celebration of Labor day in Omaha, and Delegates John Schroeder complain that they were given the icy mitten Wednesday night at the meeting of the committee of the Central Labor union having the Labor day festivities in charge. They not only complain that their reception was of the frostiest character, but also that they were given to understand that the committee did not care whether the Council Bluffs contingent stayed at home or not.

Grand Marshal Lotts took umbrage at the decision of the committee in treating the Council Bluffs unions merely as guests next Monday, while he wanted them placed on the same footing as the unions of Omaha and South Omaha. Lotts also is indignant because the committee declined to listen to him and he alleges that he was choked off before he had an opportunity to lay the claims of the Council Bluffs unions properly before the committee.

The Council Bluffs unions had secured the band from Silver City, Ia., to head their procession, and this was objected to by the Omaha committee, which alleged that the Iowa musicians did not belong to the union. The Omaha committee insisted that the Council Bluffs contingent hire one of the musical union bands of that city. At least this is the impression Lotts and Schroeder got from the talk of the committee at the meeting Wednesday night.

It is said that the committee attempted to conciliate the Council Bluffs delegates, but that they refused to listen to any explanations and returned to Council Bluffs threatening to prevent the unions from this city taking any part in the Labor day celebration across the river.

Whether the recommendations of Marshal Lotts and Delegate Schroeder will be supported by the unions of this city will be determined at the meeting tonight in Labor hall.

Want All-Night Street Light.

Business men in the vicinity of Pearl street and Broadway are complaining because the electric light lamp at that intersection is put out every night when the clock strikes 12. The junction of Pearl street and Broadway is the one place in the city, they say, where a light ought to be kept burning all night. It is at this juncture where all the cars meet and passengers are transferred from one line to another, yet regularly as the clock in the Bloomer schoolhouse strikes the midnight hour the electric light goes out. The company claims the poles, trees and the street is in darkness, except for such light as may be thrown from the windows of adjacent store buildings.

The electric lights of the city are run under a system known as the moonlight schedule, but by an arrangement made a number of years ago the lamps at Pearl and Broadway and Bayliss park are kept burning until midnight, irrespective of the schedule. Under this schedule lamps in other parts of the city may be kept burning when the lamp at Pearl and Broadway, the most frequented portion of the metropolis, is dark. The same is true of the light in Bayliss park.

The attention of the city council has been frequently called to the need of a light at this intersection, but nothing has ever come of it, and now the business men have taken the matter up with a determination to push it.

Several of the aldermen have expressed themselves in favor of the light being kept burning all night at Pearl and Broadway and will vote for it when the matter comes formally before them. A petition has been prepared and will be circulated asking that the light be maintained all night at this intersection.

Manager Nichols of the Gas and Electric company was not prepared yesterday to say how much extra it would cost the city to run the light at Pearl and Broadway all night, but he said he believed a figure could be quoted which would meet the approval of the city council.

While it has been urged in some quarters that the light in Bayliss park ought to be kept burning all night there is for the one at Pearl and Broadway.

Council Falls of Quorum. The adjourned meeting of the city council slated for last night failed for want of a quorum.

FAIR SMILES THROUGH RAIN

Clouds Fail to Dampen Ardor of the Public at Big Exhibition.

SCANDINAVIANS ALERT FOR CAMPAIGN

Tax Ferret Scandal in Court from Hardin County—Father Maniott Sent to Ottumwa Parish.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Aug. 29.—(Special.)—Owing to rain in the forenoon the attendance at the state fair fell off perceptibly today, although the main part of the day was by the pleasantest yet at the state fair grounds. Thus far the attendance has been about the same as two years ago, when total receipts were over $42,000, but not quite up to last year's record of total receipts for the week of over $47,000. But for several years previously the receipts had been much lower, so that the fair managers are not complaining.

A novelty will occur tomorrow when the grand parade of all the live stock prize winners will be given in the racing track. This will occur about 11 o'clock. A part of the parade was to have been given today, but it was found impossible for the judges in the live stock department to get through with their work before this evening.

When the prize winners, horses, cattle, sheep and swine, are brought out in line to march before the assembled thousands in the grand stand the fair officials have arranged that moving pictures shall be taken showing the larger part of the parade, and in the future these will be used to advertise the fair.

The cattle exhibit is declared by competent judges to be the finest that has ever been held together in this country and among the sheep exhibit is very large.

Scandinavian Republican Meet. A state meeting of the Iowa Scandinavians was held here today, both Swedes and Norwegians being present, and speeches were held in support of the republican state ticket by the most prominent Scandinavian orators. It was an entirely harmonious meeting and the association, which has been in existence for several years, is preparing to enter actively upon the campaign.

Tax Ferret Scandal in Court. The county auditor of Hardin county has been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of failure to record and publish the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors as required by law. This is believed to be the first case of this kind that has ever come to the attention of the courts in Iowa. His offense consisted in not making a record of a resolution passed by the board by which they entered into a questionable contract with a local attorney to give him a percentage of the collections by a firm of tax ferrets on his pretended advice. Discovery of the contract disclosed the fact that no record had been made. A citizens' committee has also brought suit to recover the money paid out illegally.

Successor to Father Flood. Rev. Father Maniott of St. Ambrose school, Davenport, has been appointed by Bishop Corrigan to take the place of the late Father Flood at Ottumwa. Father Flood died last week after having resided long in Ottumwa, where he was very popular. Father Maniott is a young man and is at present officiating at St. Ambrose school.

Foreman had a quarrel over an unsettled estate and came to blows. Foreman struck Peyton over the head several times with a heavy whip and it is expected that Peyton will die. Foreman is under arrest for assault.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 29.—At today's session of the National Association of Bankruptcy Referees it was voted that the report to the judiciary committee of the house of representatives, which the executive committee is to make relative to the bankruptcy act, shall contain no suggestion as to the attitude of the committee regarding section 57c, which section as construed by the United States supreme court provides that all partial payments made to a creditor before the debtor becomes a bankrupt are to be equitably distributed among all the creditors. COLLECTOR HOEY ARRAIGNED Nogales' Customs Officer Appears in Court and Has to Face An Exposure.

NOGALES, Ariz., Aug. 29.—William Hoey, United States customs collector at Nogales, this part, was arraigned today before Hoey, United States Commissioner R. J. Jole, on charges that he conspired to admit Chinese into this country from Mexico in a fraudulent manner. A number of witnesses were examined, the principal one being Congressman Webb, known as a line rider. Webb testified that he advised Hoey that Chinese were being brought through the lines and made an engagement with the collector to meet him at his home. He put a man named Dirkey in a cupboard and left the door ajar.

"I talked with Hoey," said Webb, "about a Chinaman named How, and proposed to go with him. I said that How had promised me $1 a head. Hoey said all right and told How he had fixed with me to use the letter A on the certificate of those who had paid the fee. And that I was to let such Chinamen go, but was to arrest all others." The examination will be continued to-morrow.
