MANY BUYERS VISIT OMAHA

Take Advantage of Reduced Railroad Rates Secured for Them.
ROBBERS SATISFIED WITH EXPERIMENT
Retailers from Surrounding Territory flock to Omaha to make purchases for their Fall Trade—List of the Visitors.
Omaha jobbers find that special railroad rates "act as a stimulus for trade. The reduced rates secured by the local jobbers union for retail merchants in their territory, brought hundreds of buyers into the city during the week. The retail dealers came from Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota, Kansas and Wyoming. Under the terms of the reduced rates they had to file receipts with the joint agent of the companies in Omaha at the office of the secretary of the Commercial club, where they were issued and orders for return tickets issued to the visitors. By this system the names of those visiting the city by reason of the reduced rates can be known exactly, but it by no means gives the complete list of the dealers who came to town, as many of them came without taking receipts or from parts of the country not affected by the reduction of rates. The wholesale dealers all report heavy sales to the retailers who came in by reason of the special rates and the millinery houses especially have done a rushing business. The majority of the visitors will remain until next Tuesday, when the time limit on return tickets expires.
Who the Buyers Are.
Among those in the city this week registered at the Commercial club are:
F. H. Satter, Emma Patterson, Central City; Mrs. Hazel Gray, Ia.; Blanche Rouse, Emma Armstrong, Humston, Ia.; Maude Greenleaf, Clarinda, Ia.; A. C. Vandenburg, Wauka, Ala.; Van Hook, Ann Olson, Harvard; Mrs. J. R. Wilson, Verdigris; Susan Thomas, Crestmont; Mrs. M. R. Morse, Oneoka, Ia.; Mrs. C. A. Jacques,

PEDIGREE BANKRUPTCY CASE

Federal and State Courts Get Their Wires Crossed in a Suit for Wages.
A peculiar case involving a construction of the bankruptcy law has arisen in the United States district court and will receive the attention of Judge Munger at the next term of court. A few days ago Samuel Newman sued Boris Frenetsky on account of work and labor performed, securing a judgment in justice court. Execution was immediately issued and a constable levied upon the household goods of the defendant for the amount of the claim. The goods were replevied before sale and immediately thereafter Frenetsky filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in the United States district court, listing among other claims the judgment held by Newman. He then secured an injunction from the federal court restraining the constable from attaching or selling under execution the household goods levied upon under the execution pending a hearing of the petition in bankruptcy. Under the bankruptcy law the household goods of the bankrupt are not subject to his debt and under the state law they can only be seized for debts due for work and labor. The point is raised by the plaintiff in the case in justice court that under these circumstances the federal judge has no power to enjoin the sale of the goods, as they do not, through the filing of bankruptcy petition, come under the control of the court and can not be used for the benefit of the general creditors and that after execution issued and served the preferred creditor continued to hold the property securing the amount of his claim from the chattels of the defendant.

WILLING TO ACCEPT MONEY

General Refreshing of Memory Relative to Recovered Treasure.
MANY CLAIMANTS REMEMBER LOSSES
Large Percentage of Omaha's Population Has at Some Time or Other Dropped Ponderous Rolls of Wealth.
There is every evidence now that the roll of money found in the Lee lumber yard Wednesday morning will not go begging for an owner. During the last twenty-four hours several new claimants have appeared, all protesting against the bills being turned over to the Pacific Express company until a thorough investigation has been made and it is alleged that some tell very plausible stories in support of their titles.
On the request of the express company, however, Chief Donahue has yielded the $1,600 which had been entrusted to him in the form of a guaranty bond, according to which the company agrees to refund the money if ever anyone should appear with a superior claim to it. The First National bank, on the other hand, still retains its share, which is supposed to be somewhere in the neighborhood of $600. Cashier Davis says his institution is simply holding the fund in trust and that it is not for him to pass upon the validity of the Pacific company's claim. "The matter is now in the hands of our attorney," said he, "and he is the only person who is authorized to speak of it." The attorney being seen in his office, the reporter was referred for all information to the bank. "I am only a stakeholder," said the attorney.
Lawyer is Reticent.
Asked if he knew the points of evidence upon which the company based its claim, he replied that he did, but declined to say whether in his opinion the company had made a case. "There are other parties claiming it," said he, "and it wouldn't be proper for me to prejudice an right they may have by saying anything on that subject."
It is remarkable the number of persons in Omaha who have lost large sums of money by robbery or otherwise during the last ten years.
One of the new claimants is S. L. Ingram, manager of the Union Selling company, 1015 Leavenworth street, November 1, 1900, W. W. Allen of Clay Center, one of Mr. Ingram's customers, sold out his implement business and with $7,500 in cash and $3,500 in notes came to Omaha ostensibly to pay Mr. Ingram a large bill for binding twine. Allen first visited several of the cheap theaters of the city, however, and the next

HEAVY RAILS FOR CAR TRACKS

Twenty-Fourth Street North of Lake Will be Improved Soon as Paving Question is Settled.
General Manager Smith of the Omaha Street Railway company states that the company hopes to be able to replace the rails on Twenty-fourth street north of Lake with the heavy rails now in use on the Farnam street line this fall and expects to begin the work of reconstruction as soon as they have completed the improvements now under way in South Omaha. "But," he says, "this change cannot be made until the question of repaving that part of Twenty-fourth street is settled. One of the men interested in brick paving told me that that company had now secured the names of a majority of the property owners along that street, but that they would secure others before presenting the petition to the council. They did not desire to be knocked out on technicalities when the signature came to be inspected. When the question of paving is settled we will immediately begin to change the rails, as we do not desire to have to go over the ground twice, and this would be necessary if we were to place heavier rails while the street is unpaved."

NO LAW FOR FINE SYSTEM

City Council Repeals Part of Ordinance Relating to Immoral Houses.
Action of Council Takes Props from Under Scieroe Mandamus Case, Brought to Use City Government as Collection Agency.
When the Scieroe mandamus case against the chief of police comes up for hearing before Judge Keyser this morning the relator will find that he is up in the air, speaking figuratively. The city council held a special meeting at noon Friday and passed an ordinance amending the ordinance pertaining to immoral houses by cutting out that portion which made it the duty of the chief of police to report the names of the keepers and inmates of such places to the police judge on the first of each month and to file complaints against them so that they might be fined for the benefit of the school fund.
It was to compel the chief of police to enforce this provision of the ordinance against a portion of the immoral houses that Scieroe secured an alternative writ of mandamus from the district court a few weeks ago. Judge Keyser ordered the chief to appear on Saturday of this week and show cause why he does not enforce the ordinance, and as Mrs. Scieroe has refused the act, it will be easy for the chief to comply.
The repeal of the section of the ordinance requiring the chief to report and complain against the keepers and inmates of immoral houses on the first of each month disposes of the controversy over the monthly fine system for the time being, as it wipes out the law upon which public opinion has been divided and relieves the chief of the charge of failure to enforce the payment of the fines into the school fund. Mayor Moore and several members of the Board of Education are opposed to collecting money from such an odious source for the education of the children.
Their Secret is Out.
All Sadioville, Ky., was curious to learn the cause of the vast improvement in the health of Mrs. S. P. Whitaker, who had for a long time endured untold suffering from a chronic bronchial trouble. "It's all due to Dr. King's New Discovery," writes her husband. "It completely cured her and also cured our little granddaughter of a severe attack of whooping cough." It positively cures coughs, colds, laryngitis, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Kuhn & Co's drug store.

ICE WATER PROVES FATAL
Miss Lottie Hodder, Daughter of an Old Omaha Family, Dies Suddenly at Her Home.

Miss Hodder returned from her work Wednesday evening and complained of feeling ill. Her condition was not considered dangerous until the night, when she grew rapidly worse and a physician was summoned, who pronounced her suffering from congestion caused by drinking ice water.
The funeral will be held from Seward Street Methodist church at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. Dawson conducting the service. Miss Hodder is the daughter of one of Omaha's oldest residents and an active worker in church circles.

More Soldiers are Coming
Fourth Cavalry, Now at San Francisco, is Ordered to Department of the Missouri.
Telegraphic orders have been received at army headquarters assigning the Fourth Cavalry now at San Francisco on its return from Manila to the Department of the Missouri. One squadron and the headquarters of the regiment will be at Fort Riley, another squadron at Fort Leavenworth and the third squadron at Jefferson Barracks. Two companies of the Third Cavalry are now at Fort Meade, S. D. They have been ordered to Fort Robinson which will fill the cavalry posts in the department with the exception of Fort Robinson which could probably accommodate a few troops. Said an officer.

Baldness Cured by Destroying the Parasite Germ That Causes It.
Baldness follows falling hair, falling hair follows dandruff and dandruff is the result of a germ digging its way into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality of the hair. To destroy that germ is to prevent as well as to cure dandruff, falling hair and, lastly, baldness. There is only one preparation known to do that, Newbros' Hair Restorer, an entirely new scientific discovery. Wherever it has been tried it has proven wonderfully successful. It can't be otherwise, because it utterly destroys the dandruff germ. "You destroy the cause, you remove the effect."
