JURISDICTION OVER MANAWA

Justice Ferrier Holds That Power Rests with Iewa Authorities.

FINES TWO MEN FOR ILLEGAL SEINING

Case to Be Carried to Supreme Court to Set at Rest the Important and Disputed Question of Anthority.

Justice Ferrier holds that the lowa authorities have jurisdiction over Lake Manawa. His decision to this effect was reached yesterday in the case of the state of Iowa against Tom Brown and Ed Bradt, arrested by Deputy State Game and Fish Warden E. C. Brown and charged with illegal seining in the lake. The case has been pending several weeks and was recently submitted before Justice Ferrier on an agreed statement of facts. Justice Ferrier holding that Lake Manawa is under the jurisdiction of the authorities of this state found the defendants guilty as applauded. charged and imposed a fine of $5 and costs in each case.

The prosecution of Brown and Brade was somewhat in the nature of a test case and the large crowd present. an appeal will be taken to the district court lous to have the question determined. Brown and Bradt did not deny that they were seining in Lake Manawa, but conjurisdiction over the piece of water.

Justice Ferrier in his decision holds that which exempts from the operation of the game laws of the state of Iowa in regard between the state of lowa and the state of Missouri.

He says: "The only question to be dewater I think is conceded by the parties in the statement of facts upon which this action is to be determined. That it is not a part of the Missouri river nor of any other of the excepted waters is also shown, I think, by the same statement.

"Whether or not being boundary water, it is by implication to be included in the excepted waters as a part the eof, has not yet been decided by the Iowa supreme court. The supreme court has held, however, that the intent and purpose of the fish and game laws of the state are to preserve and protect the same from ruf less and unwarranted destruction. Ti decision applied in connection with chap: 14 of the acts of the twenty-seventh general assembly, the constitutionality which latter is not questioned herein, impels this court to the belief that section 2540 of the code under which the information herein was filed applies to the whole waters of Lake Manawa and this court has jurisdiction over offenses committed Son. With Glory from Marshalltown.

The team from No. 4 company, which represented Council Bluffs at the State Firemen's tournament, returned last evening from Marshalltown covered with giory and a check for $200. Chief Templeton reached some yesterday morning in advance of the eam and was accompanied by Charles M. Nicholson, former chief of the department. Chief Templeton acted as starter at the tournament, while Nicholson officiated as one of the judges. Council; Bluffs was the only contestant in the half-mile straight away run and the half-mile run starting from bunks in engine house. The published statement that the Bluffs boys beat the state record in the Onawa and Castana bands played. Whiting half-mile run starting from bunks is incorrect. They made the run in 1:46 2-5, while the state record held by the Cebar Rapids fire department is 1:40 1-5. The run n the half-mile straight away was an exhibition and was made in 1:29. There is no state record for this event. Both of these events were for paid fire departments, but Council Bluffs had the field to itself, none of the other cities caring to compete against No. 4's splendid pair of bays.

The Council Bluffs firemen gave an exhibition contest of jumping from their bunks, donning their firetogs, descending the pole and standing ready to accompany wagon. Fireman Jones made the best time, and 3-5 seconds.

Captain Watts and the team were much leased with the reception and entertainment given them at Marshalltown and considerably elated at bringing back with them 200 in prize money.

What will be done with the prize money has not been determined, but it has been suggested that the balance after the expenses of the team be paid be kept as a reserve fund in case Council Bluffs should send another team to the tournament next year.

WILL JOIN OMAHA CELEBRATION Labor Unions Vote Almost Unantmously in Favor of Joint Labor Day.

The labor unions of Council Bluffs will, as originally planned, take part in the celebration of Labor day in Omaha and South Omaha. This was decided by a practically unanimous vote at the open meeting of the labor organizations of this city in Labor hall last night. The unions will have a short parade through the business streets Monday morn-ing before boarding the special motors at 9:30 o'clock for Omaha. The band from Silver City, In., will head the delegation from this city.

The open meeting last night was presided over by George R. Scott, president of the Trades and Labor assembly, who, in a rousing speech, advised the labor unions of this city not to take any cognizance of the complaints made by Marshal Lotts and Delegate Schroeder about their treatment by the Omaha committee, as he believed that that not only had Lotts and Schroeder acted hastily, but had acted without authority in asserting that the Council Bluffs laboring men would celebrate the day at home. Consolidation of Rural Schools Defeated-Great Western Straightens Its Tracks-Change on Railway's Name.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Aug. 30 .- (Special.)-The lows State fair closed tonight. The feature of the last day was a parade of the cattle and horses in the race track before a large crowd. This parade was one of the finest exhibitions of premium stock ever seen in prize winners in line and the parade was led by the Firty-first lowa band from the southern part of the state. The splendid herds of prize winning Polled Angus and Shorthern cattle and the Percheron and Clydesdale horses, made a fine show.

The managers believe that when all accounts are settled and premiums all paid they will have added to their bank account between $10,000 and $15,000 this year, which sum will be spent on permanent improvements at the fair ground. The total receipts this year were about $45,000. The end of the fair week was accompanied by the usual sporadic attempt to close up the gambling houses, which had opened for the week apparently under protection, and a committee of ministers made the rounds of the city and took the numbers of several gambling places and reported them to the mayor and chief of police. They promised to make an investigation as soon as the fair rush is over.

School Consolidation Defeated.

State Superintendent Barrett has received information that at the special election in Franklin township, Black Hawk county, vesterday, the proposition to consolidate the rural schools of the township was defeated. This was the second time the question was submitted. A previous election had resulted favorable to the consolidation idea after a report had been made by a committee of investigation of the rural school consolidations in northern Iowa. But the opponents went into court and compelled a new election, and by utilizing the rivairies of two small towns in the township succeeded in defeating the proposition. The plan of uniting the rural schools is being strongly urged by all leading educators.

Plague of Wildcats.

A strang story comes from Dubuque county to the effect that the people living in the vicinty of Kidder, a station on the Great Western, are alarmed because the woods are full of cats that were orginally tame, but are now about as wild as the average wildcat. A resident says he saw one pack that numbered at least 400, and states that they had a regular battle the other night. He accounts for their presence by saying that when kittens were brought in sacks, and left in the woods by farmers who did not want to kill them, they were nurtured by the old cats until they were big enough to scout for themselves. They live on field mice and birds. Some of them are almost as large as the regular wildcat, and the informant has seen as many as fifty of them in one tree.

Professor at Ames Gives Observations Made on His Recent European Trip.

AMES, Ia., Aug. 30.—(Special.)—Prof. G. L. McKay has just returned from a trip through Europe at the solicitation of the Department of Agriculture at Washington. He left Ames about three months ago and visited Holland, Belgium, Denmark and Germany. He was sent there to make observations in regard to the meth-ods employed in the manufacture of cheese and butter, in the making of which these & Eimer of Chicago and McMillan & Kin- M. Farrow, Second regiment, District of countries excel. His observations will be published in a bulletin to be issued by the department. Theodore Gravert, a German, now residing in Germany and a graduate for the defendants. The case is being of the dairy department of Ames, accompanied Prof. McKay as an interpreter through Holland, Belgium and Germany. Prof. McKay says: "No subject inter s el me more than water. I tested a lot butter in England for moisture and the driest butter I found was from New Zealand, some of it running down to about 8 per cent. Danish butter averages about 15 per cent. Russia was very irregular, some very fine, but a good deal of it bat a rank flavor. It will get over that aft r awhile, however, and I believe that Russ a will come to the front rapidly. tion is now before the English Parliament and it seems probable that it will be settled on the basis of about 15 or 16 per cent water. "It has been a great problem to me that the Danish butter has a higher percentage of water than ours has, yet at the same time it has a mealy, dry appearance. Investigation showed that their method of sparks were the cause of the blaze. churning and working was peculiar. The churning is done at a moderately high temperature, and the butter comes soft. "One reason why the Danes turn cut such uniformly fine butter is that they pasteurise almost entirely. In that country they have a number of inspectors who go around to the dairies and creameries to see that things are all right. When the butter is found to be faulty the buttermaker is told to change his starter. The buttermakers work by rule and can rarely give a reason for what they do. In this they contrast strongly with our buttermakers. I think on general principles that the American buttermakers are better than the Danish. The point I want to make is that a Dane is asked for an explanation as to why he did this thing or that, he cannot tell you. Put the same question to our buttermakers and they know why everything is done and what will result from Prof. McKay says that the fight should now be made on the milk supply. In the past the greatest efforts have been made in the direction of educating the buttermakers the state. There were over 200 head of and to teach them how to make the best grade of butter out of the material at hand. Now the patrons must be taugh more fully the importance of better care of the milk, and until the standard of milk supply is raised it will be difficult to improve the quality of the butter.

The professor visited Holland and sought to find out the secrets connected with the making of fancy cheeses. He was more than pleased with the results of his iuvestigation of the subject and will explain all fully in a special bulletin in the near future.

A large gathering of civilian and military part of the city. His body was thrown over the telegraph wires and was badly mangled. the work of all the men. Governor Foster day and is well known. He has been living performance of his men. At 900 yards John Morgan of Ireland scored ten successive yards. When each side had finished the round of three distances Morgan had 133 points out of a possible 150, and Robert Duncan, another Ulster man, had a similar core. There was only a light wind in evidence while the men were firing over the shorter ranges, but when they began at 1,000 yards there was a fitful, puffy wind which bothered them and the scoring became irregular. J. R. Williams of Belfast made the top score of forty-five at this distance, and his total for the three ranges was 134. The next best work done was that of Major J. K. Millner, whose name has been identified with international rifle shooting since 1874, when the Irish team first visited Creedmoor. While hehas not been at his hest for some time he shot well today and his score was 132. Americana Not So Good.

Among the American representatives who participated on the long range work were Dr. Hudson, William De V. Foulke, Captain Whittaker, H. M. Pope and many other members of the New Jersey Rifle associa tion. They all acquitted themselves creditably. None of the scores of the American contingent was made known, but it was St. Paul and return, August 11th to generally conceded that their shooting was not as good as that of the visitors. Many additions to the ranks of the state riflemen were made today, as two teams arrived from Boston. Squadron A of New York sent a team, and late this evening several Pennsylvania representatives reached the camp. The only other important matches decided today were the Columbia trophy and inspectors' matches. The former was confined to five teams of six men each from New Jersey state regiments and naval reserves The Fourth regiment of Jersey City won with a total of 248. The inspectors' match open to all inspectors of rifle practice, either by commission or detail, was won by Captain Stebbins, Twelfth regiment, New tin, Second regiment, New Jersey, was sec Columbia, third with eighty-nine points The principal event tomorrow will be the shoot for the Wimbledom cup, for which there is a large entry.
