Some Sleep While Others Suffer.

While thousands of citizens in the most aristocratic section of the city were aroused, seeing thousands upon thousands of dollars worth of their property crushed and destroyed...

A remarkable thing is that comparatively little damage was done along the banks of the river outside of the washing away of loose piles of lumber...

The damage to houses and their effects cannot be estimated accurately perhaps for days, but it will reach close to the half-million mark.

The city will also lose heavily on damage to streets, culverts, bridges and pavements over the district covered by the water.

Residents along East Prospect street, near Lincoln avenue, on Lincoln avenue and Glen Park place were aroused between 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning by the sound of the booming waters...

The waters rushed back from Lincoln avenue until the big space between the avenue and Prospect street and Euclid avenue was one great mass of water eight to ten feet deep.

Like Stranded Islanders. The residents along the north side of East Prospect street from Lincoln avenue to within a few feet of Billings avenue were penned in their homes like stranded islanders.

The water came up to the porch steps and within a few feet of the porches it was from five to ten feet deep. The families of Mrs. E. Newton and P. A. Williams...

DEMOCRATS OUT FOR REFORM

Moving to Change the Basis of the Representation in Convention.

DELEGATES IN PROPORTION TO VOTES. Radical Departure from Methods Now in Vogue Likely to Follow the County Convention of the United.

The democrats, as well as the republicans, are endeavoring to bring about a more equitable representation of the voters in party conventions.

While the republicans have already taken a step in that direction by lessening the disparity between the representation of the city wards and the county precincts, the democrats are preparing for a more radical move.

WORK TOGETHER FOR GOOD

Omaha Players Stand Firm Behind Coons in Every Emergency.

STAR PLAYS COME IN THE NICK OF TIME. Sore Fielding Brings Prospective Home Runs to Naught and Hits Are Made When Knocks Mean Runs.

"Old Reliable Dusty" Coons had the Prohibitionists on his staff again yesterday. At times things looked rather bad for him, but then some bluejays would pull down a line hit or Jimmie Toman would make a sensational stop and save the day.

In the second inning Perry Verden hit a long line fly in right center that looked good for a homer, sure, but Pop Letcher willed it otherwise. The grand old man sprinted nearly to the right field fence and pulled down the ball as it went over his head. It helped Dusty out of a bad hole, as Fleming had just made a bad throw to second, allowing Hines to score.

In the eighth inning, the Indian, in center picked a low one off his knees that looked like a sure start for the Union depot. It was the only good one Father made all day and somehow he seemed sure when Thiel deflected his cap to the crowd.

Omaha took the lead at the start. Genis hit one out among the buggies for three bases. Fleming popped one back of O'Leary and Frank scored.

Then O'Leary, second, hit a home run. Calboun by the aid of his broomstick Betsy managed to get as far as Verden. Grandpa Letcher woke up and poked one out toward the city hall. Cal surprised his friends by scoring on it from first. Letch got to second.

Omaha got another in the seventh. Thiel, the grand old man, hit a home run by Left Fielder McQuade, who dropped Stewart's fly.

The temperance band got a run in the second on a fluke. Hines hit one to left. Fleming threw it wild to second and the Prohibitionists' manager chased to the bench. Hines hit one out through the gate after the ball.

The visitors subsided until the sixth and then they started something and it looked for a time as though "Dusty" would be unable to finish it. Two singles and one for three bags netted the Hines aggregation a run. But the party ended the agony by pumping one to the box.

Omaha Due to Act. Omaha had to do something now and do it. But until the eighth it drew blanks. Then O'Leary got ahead of Cal and wouldn't let him run for fear he wouldn't stop. So Dave walked for first on four bad ones. It certainly seemed to be Letcher's day. He took aim at Buckley's knot hole in the north fence and hit it square in the middle.

Cal loped home, while the old man took a rest. He got ahead of Cal and wouldn't let him run for fear he wouldn't stop. So Dave walked for first on four bad ones. It certainly seemed to be Letcher's day. He took aim at Buckley's knot hole in the north fence and hit it square in the middle.

SHINGLE MILLS TO SUSPEND

Association of Washington Planners Decides to Wait for Market to Strengthen.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 1.—The Washington Red Cedar Shingle association held a session in this city yesterday to discuss a method of solution for the present low price of the product. It was decided to shut down all shingle mills under the control, which include the largest concern in the state, until such time as a stronger market would justify a reopening of the works. The closure takes effect immediately and 276 mills will close down.
