Engineers Vote It Down. ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 4.—The long-expected attempt to change the preamble of the constitution of the National Association of Stationary Engineers so as to convert the association into a gigantic labor organization, was suddenly sprung on the annual convention here today by the introduction of a substitute preamble offered by Deigate Edward J. Lee of Albany, N. Y. A whirlwind of protests arose on all sides and after discussion by Deigates Frank Foster of Bridgeport, Cenn., Crowley of New Jersey, Clark of Washington and Perrin of Rochester, the question was voted down, 287 to 13. The report of Secretary Van Tassel showed a healthy growth in the association and a good balance in the ssel showed a healthy growth is ociation and a good balance in th
