WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.-Twenty years after the death of Garfield the nation's capitol was again in mourning, the wheels to pay respect to the memory of President of government were locked and the voices of the people were uplifted in prayer for the soul of William McKinley while his dumb school here lessons in patriotism mortal remains were committed to the were given to the pupils. There was no need of a proclamation to every face showed signs of sadness. The city gave evidence in most impressive manfrom labor, practically from locomotion, for five minutes. There was no official proclamation requiring such observance of the funeral hour, nor had there been any general agreement for such observance. But when the hour came, as if by common instinct, men, women and children, white and black, came to a sudden halt in whatsoever they were engaged and sat or stood as still as statues wheresoever they chanced to be. To the people of Washington the late president was more than an official. He was their kindly guardian and they rendered their tributes of respect with their whole hearts. The people, in accordance with President Roosevelt's proclamation, repaired to their churches to attend the memorial services and rarely have the places of worship been so crowded. All demonstrations, Protestant, Catholic and

In McKinley's Own Church.

The Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church, where Mr. McKinley worshipped, was the center of interest, and here the services were more impressive than elsewhere. The president's pew was drapped in black and left vacant. It was originally set apart for President Grant, and ever since has borne the inscription, "Our President." The crowd could not be accommodated in the main body of the church and a second service progressed in the lecture hall. Bishop Warren and Dr. Crawford spoke in each place. The services were presided over by Rev. Dr. Naylor, assisted by Dr. Hugh Johnson of Baltimore, the former pastor of the church, and Rev. Dr. George B. Teach. The hymns were the favorites of the late president. A tribute was read from Bishop Cranston. One significant utterance by Dr. Crawford was that the president's words, when Czolgosz was assaulted, would that had been said for a generation. Justice Brewer of the United States suat the First Congregational church. His keynote was the need of impressing upon' all Americans the necessity of a personal anarchist speedily to death. While anarchy may be the extreme official of lawlessness, he said, every breaking of the law became the same spirit of lawlessness. It was the duty of the citizens to show by their own conduct and example that social order was the vulmination of human happiness. At All Souls' Unitarian, C. D. Wright, commissioner of labor, was the principal speaker, though Secretary Long. when called, responded with a few brief re marks, eloquent in praise of the memory of the dead president.

The services at the Catholic churches were elaborate and touching, as they were at Grace Reform chapel, where President Roosevelt worshiped when a resident in BALTIMORE, Sept. 19 .- Memorial serv ices were almost universal today throughou this state, many congregations meeting and uniting in other than their own places of worship. Perhaps the most important and impressive were the ceremonies at the cathedral in this city, at which Cardinal Gibbons delivered the following eulogy: Cardinal Gibbons' Tribute.

In the annals of crime it is difficult to find an instance of murder so atrocious, so wanton and meaningless as the assassination of Mr. McKinley. Some reason or pretext has been usually assigned for the sudden taking away of earthly rulers. Baltassar, the impious king of Chaldea, spent his night in reveiling in drunkenness. He was suddenly struck dead by the hand of the Lord.

How different was the life of our chief magistrate. No couft in Europe or in the land lines of the Western Union Telegraph company's central cable office was suspended, every instrument being silenced for five minutes.

BUFFALO, Sept. 19.—Today was very generally observed here as one of mourning and prayer. In all the churches of the city memorial services were held. A union service was held in Delaware Methodist church.

TRANSFER HIS PORTABLES

How different was the fite of our chief of our chief magistrate. No court in Europe or in the civilized world was more conspicuous for more free from the breath of scandal than the official home of President McKinley. He would have adorned any court in Christendom by his civic virtues.

Few presidents were better equipped than which he niled. When in mere youth he entered the union army as a private soldier, during the civil war, and was promoted for gallant service on the field of battle to the rank of major. He served his country for fourteen years in the halls of congress and toward the close of his term he became one of the most conspicuous figures in that they would not stand the disgrace of attending the memorial exercises today with one of their members holding such treasonable views, and the above action was taken.

Tubbs Back in Penitentiary.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Sept. 19.—(Special.)

—Richard A. Tubbs, ex-mayor of Alcester, whose alleged premature release from the Sioux Falls penitentiary August 26 after fourteen years in the halls of congress and toward the close of his term he became one of the most conspicuous figures in that body. He afterward served his state as governor. As president he was thoroughly conversant with the duties of his office and could enter into its most minute details. His characteristic virtues were courtesy and politeness, patience and forbearance, and masterly self-control under very trying circumstances. When unable to grant a favor he had the rare and happy talent to disappoint the applicant without offending him.

The domestic virtues of Mr. McKinley were worthy of all praise. He was a model husband. Amid the pressing and engrossing duties of his official life he would, from time to time, take a few moments to devote to the invalid and loving partner of his joys and serrows. Oh, what a change has come over this afflicted woman. Yesterday she was the first lady of the land. Today she is a disconsolate and brokenhearted widow. Let us beseech Him who comforted the widow of Nain that He con-sole this lady in her hour of desolation. It is a sad reflection that some fanatic or miscreant has it in his power to take the life of the head of the nation and to throw the whole country into mourning. It was no doubt this thought that inspired some writers within the last few days to advise that the president should henceforth abstain from public receptions and handshaking and greater protection should be given to his person.

You might have him surrounded with co-horts, defended with bayonets and have him followed by Argus-eyed detectives and yet he will not be proof against the stroke of Europe usually attended by military forces, and yet how many of them have perished at the hand of some criminal? No, let the president continue to move among his people and take them by the hand. The strongest shield of our chief magistrate is the love and devotion of his fellow citizens. The most shield of our chief magistrate is the love and devotion of his fellow citizens. The most shield of our chief magistrate is the love and devotion of his fellow citizens. The most effective way to stop such crime is to inspire the rising generation with greater reverence for the constituted authorities and a greater horror for any insult or injury to their person. All seditious language should be suppressed. Incendiary speech is too often an incentive to criminal acts on the part of many, to whom the transition from words to deeds is easy.

Let it be understood, once for all, that the authorities are determined to crush the serpent of anarchy whenever it lifts its venomous head.

Democrats Express Their Abborence at Murderous Deed and Sympathy for the Berenved.

PARTY LINES ARE AS NAUGHT

The Douglas County Democracy has adopted the following memorial of the late President McKinley:

President McKinley:

For the third time the chief executive of the nation has been stricken by the cruel hand of an assassin.

In this free land of ours, the asylum for the oppressed of all nations, anarchy has taken advantage of the freedom granted and conspired against our government and its free institutions.

The death of the president of this great nation, especially under such circumstances, appeals to the hearts of all true American citizens, regardless of creed or party.

The Douglas County Democracy, in meeting assembled, deplore the loss of our president and condemn the assassin as an enemy of liberty, an inhuman ingrate and one whose crime finds no adequate punishment under the laws of our country.

We deeply feel the loss of our president, William McKinley, and join in extending sympathy to an outraged nation for the great loss sustained by it at the hands of this cruel assassin; we appreciate the grief and anguish of the true and noble wife of our president and extend to her the universal sympathy of the Douglas County Democracy in this, the hour of her deep sororw and bereavement.

Infant's Diaper Drawers and Bibs 3928.—
No tiny wardrobe is complete without both the items shown in the illustration. The drawers are essentially simple and are both tidy and comfortable at the same time. They can be made plain finished only with a hem, or can be elaborated by means of narrow embroidered frills on all the free edges. The drawers portion is gathered at the upper edge and joined to the band, which, in turn, is drawn up to the required size by means of draw strings inserted in the band.

The bib with plain edge is cut from cambric or linen lawn, interlined with sheet wadding, and quilted, either by machine or hand.
