CHICAGO, Sept. 21 .- Boston and Chicago today played one of the greatest games, if not the greatest game, in the history of the National league. Joth pitchers did re-markable work and for thirteen innings were supported without a misplay, a great many of the chances on both sides being extremely difficult. The work of Long and Hickey was especially ordinant. Dexter scored the only run in the seventeenth. taking first on Long's fumble, second when Hickey was hit, third on a force out and Other the home team. Attendance, 1,700. home on Child's fourth single. Attendance, 1.800. Score:
