FOR A MCKINLEY MONUMENT

Authorized Committee Announces to Public Its Plans.

CHICAGOANS STEP INTO THE BACKGROUND

Resolve that the Canton Project is Deserving of the First Consideration of the People of the Nation.

CANTON, Sept. 21.—At a meeting of the executive committee appointed under the authority conferred by the cabinet for the purpose of conducting the final obsequies of the late president at Canton, steps were taken for the organization of an association having in view the erection of a national monument at the cemetery in this city to the memory of the president.

The committee has authorized the following statement: The place in view is beautifully located in the cemetery, where the deceased members of the president's family are already buried. The location was visited by members of the cabinet, the speaker of the house, members of congress and other distinguished men who were present at the funeral on Thursday.

There was but one sentiment expressed as to the desirability and eligibility of the location. It is upon a lofty eminence, commanding a view of the city and country for miles around, and is in a new portion of the cemetery not heretofore used for burial purposes.

Chicago Defers to Them.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—At a meeting of the committee held today the following resolutions were adopted: Whereas, in pursuance of action taken at a meeting of citizens of Chicago, held at the Union League club, on the 18th inst., a committee was appointed to determine the feasibility of inaugurating a movement for the collection of funds for the erection of a national monument in honor of our late president, William McKinley;

Whereas, this committee has, through its chairman, Judge J. R. Day, Senator Mark Hanna, Judge William Lynch, Hon. Abner McKim, Hon. Charles G. Dawes, and has thus learned that it is the desire and intention of those friends to inaugurate a conference in relation to them will be national in its scope, for the erection of a suitable monument in Canton, O.

Therefore, it is the judgment of this committee that no steps should be taken which might in any way conflict with the plans of these gentlemen. When their plans have been formulated, and we are assured that they will be prepared and announced very shortly, it is likely that the people of the United States generally will have the opportunity which they desire to contribute to the erection of the proposed memorial. In that event we have no doubt that the people will willingly cooperate in the movement in all respects a national success.

MEDICAL MEN ARE SATISFIED

No Precaution Could Have Averted to Save the Life of President McKinley.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—The Philadelphia Medical Journal today says: "Now that the track of the wound has been laid bare, an exclamation of surprise has swept over the lane. The result of intense debridement of tissues or possibly of the irritating action of some unregistered germ or virus, had destroyed the patient. The unexpected had happened. The proper course had been pursued, the dreaded complications that were common had been averted and the medical and surgical men who had labored so loyally and knowingly in behalf of their patient have the satisfaction of knowing that no mistake had been made. The unusual sequel against which no precautions could have been taken had only revealed itself in its latest stage by rapidly of the pulse, a symptom which might have been purely functional, and one common to many conditions. We, as medical men, may point with satisfaction to the surgical records of the two great national patients, President Garfield and President McKinley, as an exemplification of the vast strides that have been made in the technique of surgery during the last two decades."

HANNA GIVES NO INTERVIEWS

Senator Declines to Speak Publicly in the Future and is Much Broken by Tragedy.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 21.—The Plain Dealer says: Asked to make a brief statement as to how he regards the policy of President Roosevelt so far as it had been expressed and what sort of administration he believed the new president would give to the nation, Senator Hanna said: "I am done with being interviewed for all time."

"Have you decided not to again publicly express your opinion?" was asked. "No more," was the brief answer. The senator is broken by the tragedy at Buffalo and his face shows how deep grief has left its mark.

JUDGE KEYSOR TO UNION LABOR

Court Points Out His Attitude and Corrects a Mistaken Impression.

Under date of September 14, Judge Keysor writes the following letter to the 37-organized labor unions of Omaha: Believing, as I sincerely do, that the Central Labor union, from both the cause of organized labor and myself by its adoption of resolutions condemning the granting of the injunction labor that it did so under a misconception of the matter, I wish to submit the facts to it and to your members.

The case of Harry Steen against F. E. Hausman and the Omaha Waiters' union No. 25, App. Doc. 25, No. 19, in the district court, was begun January 17, 1901. An order restraining Hausman and the union from standing in the doorway of Mr. Steen's restaurant, handing threatening cards to his customers and intimidating them from entering, was issued, and the hearing for a temporary injunction set at an early day. On said hearing the attorneys for the union and Hausman stood in open court that they had no defense on the merits; that the defendants had infringed the law and Mr. Steen's legal rights; that an injunction might issue against Hausman, but not against the union, because it could not be sued, and no service of summons had been made upon it.

The sheriff's return on the summons showed it had been served on the president of the union, and after thorough argument and consideration of the authorities cited, it seemed clear that a union such as the defendants showed this one to be could be sued and ought to be subject to law in the same as private persons, partnerships and corporations. Law is not a technical matter to a jury docket and have had no control of the case since the injunction was issued.

When the law is violated, the law is broken. The law is not a technical matter to a jury docket and have had no control of the case since the injunction was issued. The law is not a technical matter to a jury docket and have had no control of the case since the injunction was issued.

The case has not been tried on its merits and doubtless never will be, for neither Hausman nor the union have been able to answer a default which justifies the belief that they do not intend to test my view of the law in the supreme court, and which seems most inexplicable, indeed, if they really believed that freedom of speech and the rights of organized labor were to be sacrificed.

The resolutions ought to be rescinded, for they are wrong and will win labor unions no friends. They were passed without giving me or my fellow judges a hearing, and the privilege of a hearing—a thing I never denied, whatever may be said of my decisions.

They were presented by a man who knew at the time that he had no defense to make to the court, and who used the Central Labor union to strike a blow at the independence of the judiciary. The attack on me will be fruitless, because the law for the law can no more be changed by a resolution of a convention or a majority of a court than it can be changed by a resolution of a convention or a majority of a court.

BANKERS ELECT OFFICERS

George W. Post of York President and F. H. Davis Vice President.

ASK FOR REPEAL OF TAX ON CAPITAL

Morning Session Devoted to Discussion of Fidelity Bonds and Burglary Insurance—Papers Read at Session Yesterday Afternoon.

At yesterday morning's session of the State Bankers' association the first business was the report of the nominating committee appointed Friday night. The committee recommended the election of Hon. George W. Post of York as president and F. H. Davis of Omaha as vice president. The report was unanimously adopted and Judge Post and Mr. Davis accepted the positions in brief speeches.

J. B. Dinmore of Sutton offered two resolutions, which were adopted, as follows: Resolved, That we, the bankers of Nebraska in convention assembled, request the senators and representatives in congress to direct the repeal of the law creating a direct tax on bank capital, and that the repeal of said law be referred to a committee of the association to be composed of one senator and representative of this state and one secretary of other associations and to the secretary of the American Bankers' association, requesting their co-operation.

Resolved, by this convention, that the executive committee be requested to follow up the foregoing resolution in such manner as to secure the greatest effect, looking toward the repeal of said law, obnoxious to the bankers of this state.

The committee appointed to investigate the question of fidelity bonds and burglary insurance made a report showing that in other states certain companies had entered into contracts with the state associations whereby the commissions received were covered into the treasury of the association.

C. G. Austin, vice president of the Missouri State association, addressed the meeting on the subject of fidelity and burglary insurance. In that state the secretary is the agent of the companies and turns the commissions over to the association. That organization has received about $5,000 from this source, which is in the interest of the fund for the purpose of capturing criminals. The business has grown so that it has been found necessary to employ an assistant to the secretary, who devotes his entire time to the business. In capturing criminals this fund has been found very effective.

Cost of Insurance. It was stated that the cost of fidelity insurance where four or more policies are taken out would be $250 per $1,000, and that per $1,000 were less than four policies are taken out. Burglary insurance rates have to be made on each risk, as many things enter into consideration, such as police protection, vaults and other things.

G. W. Wattles of the Union National Bank, Omaha, opposed the idea, thinking that the principle was wrong—that if the association could do fire and life insurance, should buy hard coal and other things, thus saving money for the association and the members. "If we are going into this business, let us go as principals rather than as agents. We represent about $25,000,000 of capital and can certainly guarantee our members against loss."

Judge Post favored the report of the committee, saying that the objection of the former speaker were purely academic. Some of the best organizations in this country have preceded us in this manner.

J. B. Dinmore opposed all forms of mutual insurance, and especially opposed those whose contracts were not enforceable in the state.

E. R. Gurney of Winnebago, from the executive committee, said that the committee desired specific instructions in this matter and did not want the matter sent back to them indefinitely. He did not favor the plan submitted. He thought the serious illness of his oldest son Secretary Root hastened that up his home in this city. Mr. Root's son has been ill for two weeks with typhoid fever and the father will not return to Washington until the patient has passed the critical period, which will not be reached until next week. Mr. Root declined to discuss politics or the reported cabinet changes.

A Kimball Endorsement

What Bishop Coadjutor Williams of Nebraska says of the Kimball piano: 2219 Dodge St., Omaha, Sept. 19th, 1901—My Dear Mr. Hospe: I want to tell you how thoroughly satisfactory the Kimball Grand is to us and also to thank both yourself and Mr. Cotter for the care and interest shown in securing for us such a magnificent instrument. We are delighted and appreciate most heartily your kindness. Faithfully yours, ARTHUR L. WILLIAMS.

You Can Not be too careful of the candies you buy today. Some manufacturers don't care about results. All they desire is to make money. The coloring used in the manufacture of candies has been the cause of more deaths than we can record. We employ nothing but the pure juice of fruits in coloring our candies. This cannot prove injurious, but on the contrary makes our confectionery pure and wholesome. We know that our Chocolate Bon Bons cannot be equalled and we know the price exactly represents the value of the goods.

ELECTORS MUST DETERMINE

Sixth Ward Republican Club Leaves Assessorship Endorsement for Decision at the Primaries.

Republicans were present in goodly number at the Idlewild ball last night to adjudge the affairs of the Sixth ward preliminary to the opening of the campaign. It was decided that in the interest of harmony the candidates for assessor should refer their aspirations to their fellow ward residents at the primaries. Whoever receives the ward endorsement will take the united vote of the delegation into the convention. The candidates are Messrs. White, Anderson and McCoy.

Judge D. M. Vinsonhall made a brief address, presenting the points at issue and making reference to his candidacy for re-nomination to the county court bench. He was followed by other speakers, all residents of the ward.

FREIGHT CARS AT STANDSTILL

Strike of Forty Switchmen at Louisville Results in a General Tie-up.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 21.—A strike of forty switchmen employed by the Kentucky & Indiana Bridge company, across the Ohio river here, has caused a tie-up of freight trains, which affects eight railroads. About 1,500 freight cars are sidetracked at New Albany, Youngstown and this city, and not a wheel has turned since 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The strikers say they are not being paid sufficient wages.

The roads directly affected are the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, the Monon and the Southern. Others which are affected indirectly are the Louisville & Nashville, the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis, the Illinois Central and the Big Four and the Chesapeake & Ohio.

Secretary Root's Son Ill.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Because of the serious illness of his oldest son Secretary Root hastened that up his home in this city. Mr. Root's son has been ill for two weeks with typhoid fever and the father will not return to Washington until the patient has passed the critical period, which will not be reached until next week. Mr. Root declined to discuss politics or the reported cabinet changes.
