AFTER THE BALL COMES LIFE

Society Attends the King's Function and Now Expects to Bustle.

WEEK NOT A VERY BUSY ONE

Daly a Few Small Affairs, Owing to the Grief of the People and the Ak-Sar-Hen Doings.

Of course the Ak-Sar-Ben ball was the thing of things with society last week and occupied the time and attention of the smart people almost to the exclusion of everything else. During the early part of the week there was little heart for merriment, but for those who found the quiet eppressive the carnival afforded ample entertainment, and not a few of the young women found time between appointments with modeste and milliners for a half hour or so inside the carnival grounds.

There have been a few luncheons and dinners and small affairs, in compliment of some of the week's visitors, but Miss Allen's dinner for the members of her bridal party, on Saturday evening, and the celebration of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. Berg, were the most important.

Now that the ball is over and with it all the suspension and speculation regarding the identity of King Ax-Sar-Ben VII and his queen, society has drawn a long sigh of relief and is looking forward to the events of this week, chief among which is to be the wedding of Mr. Henry Clarke, jr., and Miss Grace Allen, which is to occur at the First Congregational church on Wednesday evening, and to be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Allen.

Miss Peterson, who was at the head of the elocution class last year, thinks some of reorganizing her classes. The first part of last year great interest was taken in the work, but as the year wore on the interest decreased. When the pupils found out that no extra credit was to be given in this study, they felt that they could not spare the time. If the students show any desire for the work this year the lasses will be reorganized.

Taxpayers' League Still After the School

Board Members.

Lifted if the Present Plan of Action Pans Out All

An officer of the Taxpayers league said last evening that even though the Board of Education had abandoned the idea of erecting a High school building at this time, all of the objects of the league had not as yet been accomplished. This officer "We propose now to go ahead and demand the resignation of two and possibly three members of the board. One of these members is Theodore Schroeder. We have evidence to show that Schroeder is violating his oath of office by participating in contracts let by the board. Schroeder it is stated, has the contract for the carpenter work at the school house now being built at Forty-second and L streets. Evidence is being collected by the attorneys employed by the league against one or two other members and when the demand for resignations is made it will be backed up by charges, sufficiently strong, we think, to cause the resignations asked for to be forthcoming without delay. Should the members against whom charges are preferred refuse to resign our attorneys say that they will take the matter into the courts or file charges with the grand jury. More than this, we propose to ask that two employes of the board, who now hold posttions as janitors, be dismissed."

The league holds a meeting every week when matters are talked over and plans laid for the carrying on of the fight against he extravagant expenditure of the funds of the school district.

Repairs at Hammond's.

For several days workmen have been engaged in making some alterations and repairs at the Hammond plant. A portion of the machinery has been overhauled and new flues placed in some of the bollers. While no definite information can be obtained, made to open the house again. A short time ago orders were given from heading taken care of by Mrs. N. Building Abutments. The building of the east abutment on the Eikhorn property near Thirty-second and Boulevard is progressing rapidly. After first being completed this big pier settled so that it was necessary to remove all of the masonry and blast out the concrete base. When this was done piles were driven severe in this vicinity, killing all the late and concrete to the depth of fifteen feet was laid. Masonry is now being laid on this heavy base. At the west pier the work is not progressing so rapidly, but the engineers in charge hope to have both piers Miss Lida Hillaird of St. Joseph visited completed before cold weather sets in.

Changing Precinct Lines. Local politicians do not favor the nev precinct boundaries as now laid out and it is asserted that shortly after the fall election an effort will be made to have both the ward and precinct lines changed. Democrats and republicans alike are suggesting changes and members of the council are being flooded with suggestions as to the proper way to divide the city into wards Mr. and Mrs. William Lindell and family and precincts. HOW HIS NAME WILL SHINE

Mckinley Sure to Be Highly Hon ored Among Great

SOUTH OMAHA, Sept. 19 .- To the Edtor of The Bee: Last Sunday evening. while walking through Omaha, I was carried back to boyhood days by the evening bells, for never since I have been in America did anything so touching as the peal of the church bells of your city occur to me. It brought back to memory Tom Moore's lines:

Those bells, those bells, those evening bells, How many a tale their music tells, Of youth and home and that sweet time When last I heard their soothing chime.

And then the impressiveness reminded me why all Britishers loved our late president. They saw the stamp of character they so much admire written within him. a man of whom the immortal Bard of Avon would say: "His thoughts were honest and the elements so mixed in him that all nature might stand up and say to the world, 'This was a man.'" His characteristics, like Lincoln's, will never fade. Re viewing the last few years and seeing what has been accomplished in this country under his presidency, the observer is struck with incredulity to imagine a country on the verge of financial ruin and embarking in war, returning in a very brief period with an overflowing treasury and smiling prosperity. Such an achievement is more than phenomenal. Demosthenes once said: "Great men are like great mountains: while we are amongst them we do not appreciate their magnitude, but as we recede from them we then see which pinnacle towers high above the rest." So I feel McKinley will shine as time rolls on Yours very truly.

WAITING ON THE DEMOCRATS Populist Committee Meets, but Has No

Answer to Proposition for Fusion. The populist county committee met las night in the office of E. E. Thomas in the New York Life building and discussed preliminary arrangements for the campaign. A committee was appointed to secure rooms for campaign headquarters. The county convention authorized the committee to fill vacancies on the county ticket, the understanding being that if the democrats took down their candidate for clerk and two of their candidates for justices of the peace and endorsed the populist candidates for those offices the committee would place the remainder of the democratic candidates on the populist cket. At last night's meeting ported that the democrats had not yet expressed their readiness to enter into any such arrangement for fusion, and conse quently the matter of filling up the populistic ticket was not taken up. The com mittee will meet again next Saturday night and meanwhile the democrats are expected to either accept or reject the proposition of the populists.

A SPLENDID CONTRIBUTION TO AMERICAN HISTORY

It describes in a beautiful way his ideal home life, his untailing love and devotion for his invalid wife, which so endeared him to the people. It recites fully his eventful career from humble birth to his active life in the White House, his assassination at Buffalo and his tragic struggle with death and pathete parting with his noble wife at the Milburn mansion. It contains incidents and anecdetes of his illustrious life heretofore unpublished. This book also gives an account of the atrocious heresy of anarchy, which is responsible for the dastardly deed that had low one of the greatest figures in our history, our beloved President McK inley.

The history of the life of this greatst emancipator of the oppressed people of monarchical traditions and tyranulcal rule of our new island possessions, of the noble-souled advance agent of prosperity, of the friend of America labor and industry, whose last speech at Buffalo will be remembered as long as Lincoln's immortal speech at Gettysburg, should adorn the library of every home where civic virtuous bravery, wise statesmanship and unselfish devotion to duty appreciated.
