Fall Eugers Arriving in Larger Numbers Than Expected.

GENERAL MARKET IN HEALTHY CONDITION

Although Fall Business is Still in Full Binst, Jobbers Are Preparing for Spring Trade and a Few Salesmen Have Spring Samples,

There was no special attraction last week to draw merchants to this city such as was the case the week before, but nevertheless there were a good many buyers on the market and local Jobbers did a very nice business. There were in fact a great many more retailers in town than they anticipated, as they imagined that practically all who were counting on coming here at about this time came in during the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities. It seems, however, that a great many waited until after the carnival was over in order to avoid the rush. It is very evident from the talk and actions of jobbers in practically all lines that they are more pleased with the way that they are more pleased with the way fall business is going and are very confident regarding the future.

The general market is also in a most satisfactory condition. Prices are not fluctuating to any extent so as to make buyers cautious, but on the contrary values seem to be on a good solid foundation, with every prospect of their remaining that way for some little time to come. That fact gives buyers an opportunity in anticipate their wants to a considerable extent and makes the total volume of business much larger than it would otherwise be.

Active Demand for Groceries.

Active Demand for Grocerles.

Wholesale grocers report trade as being exceptionally heavy for this time of year. Their traveling men are all meeting with good success and find merchants more willing than usual to place liberal orders for all staple lines. Since last report there have been a few ups and downs, but nothing very startling has taken place.

Sugar is quoted a triffe easier than it was a week ago, owing probably to the fact that the period of heavy consumption is rapidly approaching an end. The coffee market is about the same as it was a week ago.

Cheese has taken another upward move-Cheese has taken another upward move-ment owing to the increased huying, both for home and foreign trade. Then, too, the season when the bulk of the cheese is made is about closed. The advance for the week amounts to a full by cent per pound and the market is now strong and active and higher prices at any time would cause no

The rope market also advanced last week because of the higher prices ruling on the raw fibre. Sizal advanced 1 cent per pound and Manila about 15 cent per pound. In canned goods there is also a tendency toward higher prices. This is particularly true of tomatoes, which are 25 ph cents per dozen higher than they were a week ago. The frosts which were experienced from September 18 to 20 did considerable damage and, of course, the dry weather, which lasted several weeks in the producing sections of Maryland and Delaware, also cut down the yield. The pack for those reasons is rather short. Corn and practically the entire line of canned goods is in a very strong position and those who are posted on the situation are predicting ligher prices as soon as the period of heavy consumption sets in The rope market also advanced has week umption sets in.

Dried fruits, farinaceous goods and most ther staple lines not mentioned above, are noted just about the same as they were a

Fall Goods Moving Freely.

Fall Goods Moving Freely.

Fall goods with hardware jobbers are now moving out at a rapid rate. All such lines as stoves, stove boards, coal scutties, elbows, stovepips, and in fact all kinds of lines that come under the head of cold weather goods are in active demand. Traveling men find that merchants have not any great amount of that stock on hand and as a result they find it comparatively easy to land good liberal orders. In making comparisons with this time last year it is found that business is considerably heavier than it was then, which is saying a good deal.

There is very little to be said regarding the condition of the market, as there has been practically no change in the general situation since last report. There have been no advances of much importance and neither have there been any declines, so the market may be said to be in a good, healthy condition. Those who ought to # healthy condition. Those who ought to know are very confident that prices will be malfitained at their present level for some time to come, unless something out of the ordinary happens to change conditions ma-Getting Ready for Spring.

Although fall business with dry goods

Although tail business with dry goods jobbers is still in full swing, they are nevertheless getting ready for spring business. They have already started out several of their special men with spring lines and expect to land a nice bunch of advance orders. Men's shifts and women's shiftwaists, in particular, are being offered to the trade at the present time. It will not be long now before all the traveling men will be out with spring goods.

Immediate business is still in a most satisfactory condition. The city was full of buyers last week and a great many heavy orders were placed. A number of large opening stocks were also bought. The has been the most satisfactory, as well as the largest, fall trade that wholesalers have ever experienced and very naturally they are greatly pleased.

There is no market news this week worthy of mention, as prices on nearly all lines. bbers is still in full swing, they are never-of mention, as prices on nearly all lines are just about the same as they were at last report. Cotton goods continue good and firm and so far as can be told, at the present time, are likely to remain that way

Spring Footwear Now Ready.

Spring Pootwear Now Ready.

Leather goods Jobbers are also preparing for their spring trade. Their samples have arrived and merchants will be given an opportunity to place their advance orders in the near future. In looking over the lines offered, it is seen at once that fancy lines will take an important place this coming season. Red soles on both blacks and tans are one of the novelides that are being offered. Fancy stitches in different colors on the uppers are also to be used to a considerable extent. Black shoes, and particularly the shiny shoes, will be the most popular, it is thought, but still jobbers are looking for quite a demand for light tams and also for oxbloods. In shapes there there is to be very little change from those now being worn, as the present styles are meeting with such popular approval that manufacturers are afraid to make a change.

As regards the demand for fall and winter lines, wholesalers say they can find no fault. Merchants are coming in and are placing heavy orders and traveling men are also doing a big husiness. Sales are running considerably ahead of last year's record and everything at the present time points to a continued heavy demand throughout the fall and winter.

The rubber goods trade is also very sotia-and everything at the present time solutato a continued heavy demand throughout the fail and winter.

The rubber goods trade is also very satisfactory. There is of course nothing very rushing in footwear, as orders are mostly placed, but there is an excellent trade in mackintoshes and rubber ciothing of all varieties. The rains of the last few weeks have stirred up the trade on that class of goods in good shape and the amount of stock sold has gone far ahead of expectations.

Fruits and Produce.

While there has been no special feature to the demand for fruits and produce during the last few days, there has been a good, active trade on nearly all seasonabe elines. Price fluctuations have been rather scarce, as a comparison of the quotations given in another column with those of a week ago will show. It will be noticed that potatoes are still selling at a high figure and that both Salt Lakes and Coloradus are quoted.

and that both Sait Lakes and Colorades are quoted.
Good eating apples are now ready sellers and are worth from $1 to $1.50 per barrel. Peaches, pears, plums and grapes are also in good request at about the same prices that were quoted a week ago.

The supply of poultry has been very liberal and particularly is that true of spring chickens, which are now only a triffe higher than old hens. The demand for eggs is sufficient to take what is coming and prices are firm. Butter is quite a little higher, creamery now being worth 2062s.

Oysters are arriving on the market more freely than they were at the opening of the season and prices have eased off a triffe.

CATTLE—There were only a few cattle in the yards today and those were not of the kind to make a fair test of the market. The supply for the week has been of quite liberal propertions, a good gain having been made over the last several weeks, but there is still a decrease as compared with the corresponding week of last year. Cornfed steers were in good demand all the week and strong prices were paid for anything at all desirable. As there were but there is still a decrease as compared with the corresponding week of last year.

Corned steers were in good demand all the week and strong prices were paid for anything at all desirable. As there were hardly enough of them offered to go the rounds, everything was picked up in good senson. The best cattle of the season arrived here this week and sold as high as $50.5. About 217 head sold at that price on Friday, 20 of them belonging to one man. The less desirable grades, while not quite as active, sold at fully steady prices, so that the general market was in very satisfactory condition.

The supply of cow stuff was quite liberal all the week. Frices, however, held up until the last of the week, when the medium kinds weakened a trifle. Some salesmen thought that prices declined no more on Friday than they advanced on Monday and Tuesday, while others thought they went a shade lower, particularly the medium kinds and the canners. Strictly choice cows are probably just about steady. There has not been enough change in bills, calves and stags during the week to be worthy of mention.

Practically nothing but the heavy cattle are in demand for feeders. Cattle weighing from 20 pounds have been ready sellers all the week and prices are fully steady. Cattle weighing from 20 pounds have been very duil and spice for feeders. (2010 keep location or dinary 611-16c; low middling sare fully steady. SHEEP—There were a few fat lambs offered this morning and also some feeders. The lambs sold as high as $4.0, which is the highest price paid on this market in several days, and the market may be quoted strong. The feeders were also in good demand at strong prices.

For the week the supply of sheep has been quite liberal. A good gain is noted both over the last several weks and also over the corresponding week of last year. The demand on the part of packers has been fairly good, particularly toward the close of the week. Prices are now about logist higher all around than they were at the close of last week and the tone to the market is greatly improved. The last few days the trade has ruled active and packers seemed anxious for supplies. That applies to both sheep and lambs.

The demand for feeders was fully equal to the supply all the week and the market may be quoted strong on both sheep and lambs.
