WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.-The Schley court of inquiry made good headway today. concluding with Admiral Evans and hearing three new witnesses, although the testimony of one of them was not concluded when the court adjourned for the Admiral Evans' testimony was along the same general lines as was his statement of yesterday, but some points were presented in greater detail in response to questions by Mr. Rayner. The new witnesses were: Captain Sigsbee, who commanded the scout St. Paul during the Santiego campaign: Thomas Dienalde, a newspaper correspondent who was on Texas during the battle of July 3, and Chief Yeoman Gustave E. Becker, who was a clerk to Admiral Sampson during the war. Captain Sigabee's testimony covered his communications to Commodore Schley upon the latter's arrival off Santiago, May 26, 1898. and at subsequent dates and dealt with the state of the weather at that period. He was asked a great number of questions by the court. Mr. Diennide described the loop of Brooklyn as seen from Texas. Mr. Becker testified as to dispatches sent by Admiral Sampson to Commodore Schley.

The proceedings of the day began as usual with the recall of former witnesses who had completed their testimony for the purpose of making such verbal corrections in it as they might desire.

General sympathy was expressed on the part of the members of the court and those attendance with Judge Advocate Lemly because of the death of his sister, which occurred vesterday. Captain Lemly was present when the court convened, but immediately withdrew.

Captain Miller, who commanded the collier Merrimac before it was sunk by Lieutenant Hobson, was called for the purpose of correcting the official record of his testimony given yesterday.

Admiral Evans was then recalled. Mr. Rayner began his interrogations by asking the witness concerning the secret code of ulations, was sentenced today to twenty signals for communicating with the Cuban days' imprisonment. Mr. Rayner then questioned the witness especially as to his interviews with Commodore Schley after the battle of Santiago.

"Yesterday," said Mr. Rayner, "I was speaking of a conversation which I thought you had at Guantanamo on July 5. I find I have made a mistake about that and it is O'Brien Urges That Edward's Visit to necessary for me to repeat my question. I suppose you will answer in the same way." He then asked: "Did you have a conversation with Commodore Schley July 4 sometime during the morning between and 12 o'clock on the flagship at Santiago, in the course of which you used language as follows: 'Did you know that Jack Philip started to run away at the beginning of the battle?' to which Commodore Schley replied: 'You are mistaken about that Evans, I saw nothing of the kind. "I do not remember being on was the 5th, at Guantanamo. I am quite positive I was not on board Brooklyn off Santiago but once and that was a long time before that. As to the conversation, I never said anything to the effect that Captain Philip had run away or attempted to run away. On thinking over last night what did occur with reference to Texas I think Commodore Schley and I discussed the position of Texas when the fight be Texas was lying with its head to the east when the engagement began and it turned with starboard helm and headed off in the same direction as the rest of us. It fired first with its port battery and then put its helm to starboard and headed in the same direction with the rest of the chips. I think that question was discussed with Commodore Schley. I cannot be sure of it, but that I ever intimated that Captain Philip attempted to run away with Texas is preposterous on the face of it.

Conference on Board Brooklyn. "Were not the commanding officers called on board the fingship Brooklyn by signal on the morning of May 29 after Colon was discovered?

They were: 'Can you tell me, or do you recollect, what took place at the conference of the commanding officers at that time?"

"Commodore Schley was in the cabin of Brooklyn when we assembled and there was a general talk about the Spanish fleet sail for New York Saturday week. It is baving been located at last at Santiago. 'I do not recollect any special conference I don't think it was in the nature of a con terence. I do not recollect now that the officers were asked to express any opinion. I remember having a conversation with Commodere Schley about the effect of the aghting batteries on the ships, in which I lan Juan and expressed the opinion to him that it was not worth while to risk ships ighting shore batteries alone; that I did sot think anything would be gained by it the case under consideration the Spanish thips were present in the harbor. The conlitions were changed and we would have to ake the risk of the fire from the batteries order to get at them. I remember Comodore Schley remarking before we left hat he felt that the country held him reensible; that the ships should not taked under the fire of the shore batteries atil the Spanish fleet was destroyed."

MAJOR HAWKES ON THE STAND

Gives His Version of Organization of Manila Rope Company and Stock Apportionment.

WASHINGTON, Oct.-The senate committee on military affairs today resumed its hearing of the charges against Lieuten int Colonel H. O. S. Heistand, Major Hawkes, continuing his testimony, asked that Colonel Heistand produce a memorandum made in May, 1899, by the colonel and himself, in which $150,000 of the promoters stock of the Manila Rope company was apportioned. Coursel for Heistand said his client had no knowledge of such a document, but would search for it.

Hawkes said his recollection was that he and Heistand, by the terms of the memorandum, were to have $40,000 of the stock and that General Corbin, George D. Meiklejohn, Charles H. Allen, James E. Boyd, W. W. Dudley and L. T. Michener were to receive the remainder in portions Only Heistand and Hawkes were present when the apportionment was made. Hawkes added that no testimony he should give would connect Corbin, Meiklejohn, Allen or Boyd personally with the transaction Recalls Letter of Introduction. Hawkes detailed a conversation with Heistand in October, 1899, in which Heistand told him that Corbin and Allen had withdrawn from the combine, and that Meiklejohn had asked for the return of Hawkes' letter of introduction. It was given to Heistand. Hawken said Heistand suggested to him that he burn the rest of the correspondence, but he did not accede to that proposition.

During the day it was developed that the elegram from General Otis, relating to sites for the hemp factory at Manila, was addressed to the adjutant general. A letter from Acting Secretary Sanger said there was no record of a dispatch to General Otis which called for the reply.

Major Hawkes told of a conversation with General Corbin relative to a settlement with Heistand for his service in con pection with the bemp company. He said General Corbin told him the bill ought to be paid and to make out his bill and he (Corbin) would forward it through military channels. General Corbin had informed

About It.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 .- While there was no meeting at the New York Yacht club tonight of either the challenge or the regatts committee it was intimated that the cup committees of the club and the representatives of the Royal Ulster club might have a meeting speedily with regard to having the yachts raced on consecutive days. Such action was taken two years ago, after a number of postponements, because of lack of wind similar to the conditions which prevailed today. It requires an agreement on the part of both clubs to have races sailed on consecutive days and it is likely that another postponement may bring this about. It is possible also that some sort of a meeting may be held tomorrow. The next race, however, will not be sailed until Thursday, although there may be a race

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 .- Today's attempt to sail the second of the present series of international yacht races for the blue ribbon of the sea was a dismai failure. Between 25,000 and 30,000 people, who crowded the pleasure fleet off Sandy Hook lightship in the hope of seeing a repetition of the thrilling sport of last Saturday, witnessed instead more of a drifting match than a race. The wind was exceedingly light and variable, at times falling so low that the pennants, which are as light as thistle down, hung limp against the masts of the big single stickers. The wind, with crews lined up on the lee rails, was not sufficient at any time to make the racing machines heel to their lines. At the end of the four and half hours the two yachts covered less than one-half of the prescribed course of thirty miles, and as there was no possibility of their finishing within the time limit the regatta committee declared the OHIO BOARD IS POWERLESS

Shamrock Quits in Lead.

When the gun was fired announcing this decision the challenger was about half a mile ahead of the defender. To that extent COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 1.—The state board II. But the fluke today demonstrated little today's trial was a victory for Shamrock as to the question of supremacy no power to increase the value of the railtwo boats, except perhaps that Sir Thomas new champion is more dangerous in light airs than was supposed after its two former meetings with the white fiver to which the patriots are pinning their faith. In fluky winds of variable strength shifting, as they did today through aix points of the commodel and seamanship, and today fortune

The course was an equilateral triangle, ten miles to the leg. The Yankee skipper at the start outgeneraled his adversary Johnson had declared that if the state in a fine piece of jockeying, crossing the board refused his demand he would bring line in the windward berth, twelve seconds mandamus proceedings to compel it to ahead of the Britisher. This advantage Columbia held for two hours, while both yachts steered far off their course to the southward, trolling for a streak of wind. Finally Barr declined to longer continue the valu quest. He put his helm down and headed inshore on the starboard tack.

Sycamore Has Luck Shamrock at this time, after both had been sailing in the same airs, was a beaten boat and its skipper could afford to take a gambler's chance with fortune. He held doggedly on and fortune smiled upon him. Within five minutes he got a breeze out of the south, which ruffled the crestless seas and wafted him like a ghost past Columbia. But this was not his best piece of good fortune. After this reverse Columbia, slipping brough the seas at an astonishing pacconsidering the lightness of the breeze, had worked out ahead of Shamrock, but to leeward. When the two yachts were in this position, about two miles from the first turn, a cant of the wind threatened to blanket Columbia and to avoid such a possibility Barr went under Shamrock's stern Just as he did so the wind hauled around more to the south, knocking Columbia head off and it seemed headed almost back for the lightship at the starting line. The golden boat, favored by the same breeze. was headed in exactly the opposite direccent will grade No. 3, the balance No. 4 and to resume her work. In the meantime, Miss eight seconds before Columbia, or a gain for Shamrock in the bent to windward, adding the twelve seconds which Columbia best it over the line, of three minutes and twenty seconds. Another Has to Be Declared Off.

During the next hour in a close reach for the second mark, the yachts were able to cover about four or four and a half miles of the remaining twenty, and as only fifty minutes then remained before the expiration of the time limit, the race was declared off. After turning the mark the experts thought Shamrock increased the accounted for by the fact that it carried ; working close to the wind with a small babyjib, a mere handkerchief compared to Shamrock's larger sail. When the excursion fleet headed back for home the only real race of the day occurred. It was the race for New York. Tonight both the Yankees and the foreigners are praying for a good stiff breeze on Thursday, when today's race will be resailed. Lipton Favors Racing Every Day.

Always optimistic. Sir Thomas Lipton

today, after the race, was in the best of spirits. He said: base a definite opinion regarding the two boats. While Shamrock was leading when the race was called off, there's nothing
