NOT DOWN IN SHIPS' LOGS

Lemly Without Record of Feb'y's Warning that Cienfuegos Was Empty.

WITNESS CALLED WHO OUGHT TO KNOW

Lieutenant Holden, Who Made Entry of Southerland's Tip for Transmission by Scorpion, Testifies Without Effect.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Just before the Schley court of inquiry adjourned today Judge Advocate Lemly introduced Lieutenant J. H. Holden, formerly watch officer on Scorpion, as a witness.

Lieutenant Holden testified that he had signed the entry in Scorpion's log, giving the particulars of the receipt of a message from Commodore Schley from Eagle, which that vessel had brought from Captain McCalls on May 19, 1898, when the flying squadron, then bound for Cienfuegos, fell in with Captain McCalls' squadron.

Schley's Afternoon Testimony.

When the court reconvened after luncheon Lieutenant Commander Schuetz, formerly of the battleship Iowa, continued his testimony. In response to a question by the court he said that he had determined the position of Iowa at 7:40 o'clock on May 28, and that its distance out was seven miles.

Commander Schuetz was then excused and Lieutenant Commander Albert W. Grant, who was senior watch officer on Massachusetts during the war with Spain, was called. He testified that he had been in the command of the battleship Massachusetts during the war with Spain.

and longitude of Gonaves bay, showing, as he held, that that signal referred to a former signal and that the 4:30 signal for a rendezvous was sent from the south of Santiago was independent and was not modified.

THE COURT ASKED THE FOLLOWING QUESTION:

"Were any efforts made by the flying squadron to discover whether or not Cervera's squadron was in the harbor of Cienfuegos?"

"None to my knowledge."

Lieutenant J. H. Holden was called, but most of the rest of the day's session was consumed by Mr. Rayner and Captain Lemly in the presentation and discussion of dispatches exchanged between Commodore Schley and the Navy department concerning the transmission and misinterpretation of the message informing Schley of the condition at Cienfuegos.

Morning Proceedings.

The Schley court began business at 11 o'clock. Assistant Judge Advocate Hanna was not present in the court room today.

Captain Parker of counsel for Admiral Schley also was absent, having gone to his home in New Jersey.

At 11:45 the court resumed the questioning of Lieutenant Lemly by asking him concerning the blockade of Santiago by Commodore Schley. The witness said that when New Orleans joined the blockade the vessel was lying in column from six to eight miles off shore to the southward, or directly south of the mouth of the harbor.
