Members of the Board of Education are all at sea about the proposed investigation since David Anderson announced that there was no such organization as the Taxpayers' league. Mr. Anderson, in talking with a home from an extended eastern trip. With Bee representative, said that while there a party of friends Mr. Scarr took in the reduced and greater economy practiced in have been held at various times, and the Both Mr. and Mrs. Scarr return home much press has been notified of the result, but improved in health. there has never been a word about the organization and nothing is known as to who the officers are. At the last meeting of the board a petition was presented, signed by a couple of dozen well known citi-zens, asking that the so-called league make itself known by giving out a list of officers and members. After being read the petition was up for discussion and a motion prevalled that the request of the petitioners be complied with.

When Mr. Anderson, who has been the spokesman for the league, was called upor for the information he stated that there is no league, neither was there an organization. This puts the officers of the board in a peculiar position. President Bulla and Secretary Ryan said yesterday that they are perfectly willing to turn over the books of the district to the league as soon as the motion is complied with. President Bulla said: "We stand ready at any time to submit to an investigation, but by the to submit to an investigation, but by the terms of the petition and the motion which followed we do not know who to turn the records over to. If there is no league or organization we will gladly turn the books over to a committee of private citizens, providing a request is made, as we have nothing to conceal." On the other hand, Mr. Anderson is quoted as saying that the motion control the compiled with as there.

Mayor Kelly said yesterday that members of the Board of Registration were slow in oming in to qualify. He wants all of those appointed to appear before him as soon as convenient in order that the records may be made up. Two or three of the appointees have declined the positions offered for various reasons, but it is thought that the majority will qualify. These vacancies will be filled by the council at Monday night's meeting, and therefore the mayor would like to have all appointees qualify before
