effecting wheat as much as it did coraDecember corn closed to higher, December wheat to advanced and December outs a shade depressed. Provisions closed from to to 12½c higher.

Considerable activity followed the opening of the corn pit, induced targety by the disappointment among the bear citique, who expected a decided advance in the official crop report. At the closs yesterday tola sidvance was predicted at least 5 points
and bears had sold freely in consequence.
When, however, October's condition was reported at but $2.1, as compared with September's $1.7, quick covering was the result. December opened toler a series of the seriy advance and December wavered for a time under the pressure and sold off to 56½c.
This early loss was soon regained, however, and prices rapidly rose to 57¼c. At the close December lost somewhat on continued liquidation, but closed firm, to higher, at 56¼c. Receipts were 235 cars.

Wheat ruled fairly active and higher, December opening told higher on 1mproved cables at 65½c. Statistics, if anything, were beartsh. Receipts were still very liberal, though falling off somewhat in the southwest. Clearances were small and export demand was sluggish. In spite of these influences wheat gained material
strength, principally from the corn report,
and rose steadily throughout the session on covering by shorts. There was some outside demand, which also helped and December soid to 70½c, easing off a triffe at the end and closing strong, the higher, at 7%c.
Local receipts were 167 cars, one of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 50 to 70½c, easing off a triffe at the end and closing strong, the higher, at 7%c.

Prices sagged rapidly for a time in spite of a strong log market, but on a development of a considerable local demand, thought to be an effort of packers to keep prices up. January products reacted and held steady. January pork closed 12½c advanced at $15.05, January part 7½c up at $8.97½ and January ribs 5c higher at $7.85.

The activity of today's market was partly due to a crop of rumors revived by yesterday's various reports of the proposed plan of consolidating the control of Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Burlington in one proprietary company. As a matter of fact the official disclaimers this morning of the accuracy of the published report and the prompt relapse in the prices of Great Northern preferred and Northern Pacific preferred had a somewhat chilling effect on speculative sentiment. The general accord of the rumors allowing that the stock of the Northern Pacific itself was not yet provided for in the plan of alleged provision for the retirement of Northern Pacific and through which control by the Harriman interests is expected, and the assertion by representatives of Harriman interests that that syndicate was not a participant in the plan seemed to open up a vista of renewed contention.

As the day progressed there was a revival of old rumors that Union Pacific was to acquire St. Paul in exchange for new bonds. In the presence of these pleasant old associations speculative enthusiasm seemed to take fire. The buying of St. Paul was quite in the old prodigal fashion of outlay and Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Atchison were conspleuous followers. The extreme advance in Union Pacific and Atchison were conspleuous followers. The extreme advance in Union Pacific and he fould systems were laggards. The Southerns were affected by poor earnings for the first week in October.

The coalers and the so-called Morgan stocks, including the United States Steel stocks, seemed to be little affected and moved narrowly.

The railroad bond market was quite scrive and showed an increasing strength. Total sales, par value, $3,540,000. United States See coupon, NEW YORK. Oct. 11.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say: Failure of a few overcapitalized industrial corporations to pay interest on their slock is no criterion of conditions in manufactures, although an influence of some weight in the stock market. Reports from all sections of the country agree that there has seidom if ever been such vigorous prosecution of constructive work. Widely divergent lines exhibit similar symptoms. Labor is well employed at good wages, and the buying power of the people is more than sufficient to meet the advance in cost of living of 4½ per cent over prices of a year ago.

Wholesome activity is still the rule at iron furnaces. While orders are filled promptly there is no immediate prospect of outching up with contracts, as each day brings new orders for delivery up to the end of the year. Timplate mills are adopting the latest and best processes. Domestic needs are so urkent in nearly all branches of this industry that export orders are receiving scanty attention, but there is reason to expect much activity in foreign sales whenever the home trade resumes a normal position.

Footwear shops are still producing at full capacity, not only in the old-established New England factories, but in this state and at the west and south. Prices are unchanged as yet, though manufacturers contempiate the advancing leather market with some uneasiness. Hides and leather are both at the top point of the year, while the finished product sells below the prices of early spring. Liberal buying of sole and upper leather caused a general advance, and in many grades the market with some uneasiness. Hides and leather are both at the top point of the year, while the finished product sells below the prices of early spring. Liberal buying of 15,538,426 bushels in used much less than last year. Raw wool is firmer and going into consumption steadily.

Slightly better relative prices have been established by the leading cereals. There is no evidence of holding back for higher prices in western morrow will say:

Some oulleting down in the general demand for merchandise is noted this week, partity the result of weather conditions such as rains in the northwest and warmer weather at the west, while at the south the restricted movement of cotton still checks trade and collections at several markets. The hull in the demand for dry goods, the hull in the demand for dry goods, cothing and shoes from western jobbers is, however, not unexpected, being accounted for by the advanced stage of the season.

A slight upward swing in prices is noted this week, following the general gain in all staples down in September, but the changes in cereais are small whether upward or downward. The advance in cotton, based on the poor crop reports, light receipts, the postponement of the Fail River strike and rather better trade advices from abroad is a trilling one.

The great mass of prices the country over morrow will say: a trifling one.

The great mass of prices the country over show few important changes, and this steadiness, in fact, is a notable feature of the trade situation. The feature in sugar is the partial restoration of the large re-

Wool.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11—WOOL—Dull and steady; light fine, 12/714½c; heavy fine, 11/21 l3c; tub washed, 12/724c.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say of the wool trade of the United States: The increased shipments do not represent a more active market; Beyond one or two large sales, the market is decidedly quiet, though dealers are sold so far ahead that quotations are particularly strong. Nearly 1,000,000 lbs. of new Montana, mostly staple fine medium, at like has been moved this week and 300 bales of South American quarter-blood cross-breds were sold at 24c, the highest price paid this year. The new wool season has opened in Australia, with sales at 10/715c higher than last year's opening. The use of wool in the United States is markedly increasing. The reaction from fleece-lined cotton underwear to merino and all-wool garments is worthy of notice. Knitting mills that have not been in the wool market for two years have been buying scoured wools this week. The receipts of wool in Boston since January 1 have been 224,201,740 lbs., against 144,406,15 lbs. for the same period in 1900. The Boston shipments to date are 200,146,484 lbs., against sales of 10,013,190 lbs. for the same period in 1900. The stock on hand in Boston January 1, 1901, was 78,309,500 lbs.; the total stock today is 100,-364,765 lbs.

Under profit-taking and bear selling values commenced to ease off until all the advance had been lost and prices were a partial 5 points off. The Brazilian markets were quiet and firm. At the close the tone was firm, prices unchanged. HOGSS—There was a very light run of hogs here today, and in fact the supply was the lightest that it has been on a Friday in many weeks. Packers started in bidding a shade stronger than yesterday's general market, or about the logs sold at $6.15, with a few of the choicer bunches a tride above that, and the commoner loads went from that figure down. It was not a particularly active market, owing to the fact that the bulk of the hogs in Chicago was reported at $6.096.50, but still the supply was so light here that the most of the offerings were out of first hands in good season. There was not much of any change in the last end of the market, and it resulted in most everything selling at $6.15. Representative sales.
