witness was heard in detail by the Schley court of inquiry today. This was Lieutenant Commander James H. Sears, who was Admiral Schley's flag lieutenant during the Spanish war. He gave a detailed account of the entire Cuban campaign, including the brief slege of Cienfuegos, the retrograde movement of the flying squadron in search of coal, the blockade of Santiago. the reconnoissance of the Santiago shore batteries and the bombardment of Cristobal Colon, May 31, and the battle off Santiago, July 3, when Cervera's fleet was destroyed. He placed the distance out of the blockading line at Cienfuegos at from one to four miles and at Santiago at from three to six miles. He expressed the opinion that in the battle of July 3 it had been

Mr. Rayner sought to secure the introduction of a brief report of the battle of July 3, which Commodore Schley prepared for transmission to the secretary of the payy. It was stated that Commander Sears had taken this dispatch ashore to be cabled to the secretary, but that it never had reached that official. The dispatch was ruled out on the ground that as it was not one of the highest grandees of Spain, died received it was not an official communication. It was not read in the courtroom, but the following is a copy of it:

When the order was given 'Hard aport' I looked at Texas, the next vessel in our fleet, and in my judgment we were completely clear of it, and as we turned we passed well clear of it. After the turn was completed we found ourselves abreast or perhaps a little ataft the beam of the leading Spanish ship, with a slowly converging course toward the leading ship. It is my impression we held a very straight course. The navigator was trying to maintain this course to keep our guns to bear to the best range. Oregon was astern of us and Texas astern of it. Viscaya began to blaze up and it turned in toward the shore."

DEPUTIES REVERSE BISHOPS

Reject Poth Their Canons on Marriage and Diverce.

> During Past Three Years Four Thousand Less Than in Previous Period-Contribu-

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15 .- The troubleome question of marriage and divorce was set at rest for another three years today by the action of the house of deputies of the triennial Episcopal convention in rejecting both of the proposed canons on the which were passed by the house of bishops. The greatest fight of the convention has been over section 4 of canon 6, virtually forbidding the remarriage of divorced person by a priest of the church. This had passed the house of bishops and been adopted by a yea and nay vote in committee of the whole of the house of deputies. When the committee rose and reported its work to the house a decisive ote was taken not only on the troublesome fourth section, but on the entire canon which was rejected as a whole. Canon 37, which provides for the disciplining of persons marrying again after being divorced met with a similar fate. The house of deputies passed an amendment to article x of the constitution, permitting modified forms of worship, which in spirit is similar to the famous Huntingon amendment recently defeated. The amendment, though credited to Dr. McKim of Washington, was in reality presented to the convention of three years ago by Dr. Huntington. The bishops have yet to act before the amendment can become part of he constitution. Both houses today appointed members of standing committee on capital and labor, which is to investigate the subject with a posed positions. of deputies. The house of bishops also agreed with the house of deputies in accepting the report on marginal readings. The rejection position on Brooklyn on the day of battle of the nominee for missionary bishop of North Dakota having been reported from the house of deputies, other nominations for the place were received. The bishops of Maryland and Delaware were appointed committee to confer with a committee from the house of deputies regarding the proposition not to make public the names of persons who may be nominated and not elected bishops. The reports of the joint committee on the orders of the church in Sweden were read and referred to the committee on ecclesiastical conventions. It was resolved to give all aid possible to missionary work among Scandinavian immigrants.

The joint committee on the validity of church reported progress and was continued. The following were elected trustees of the general relief fund: Bishop Whitaker, Pennsylvania; Bishop Brewster, Connecticut; Rev. Morgan Dix, New York; R. T. Alsop, Long Island; William A. Smith, New York; E. C. Chauncey, New York, and George C. Thomas, Pennsylvania. It was recommended that the new version of the prayerbook in German be approved and permission given for its use. Bishop Potter of New York was to prepare the pastoral letter for 1904, his assistants to be the bishops of Southern Virginia and Albany. The election of the mission bishops for the Philippines, Porto Rico and Olympia was concurred in. The resolutions for a committee on capital and labor were adopted with a few verbal changes.

On Translation Committee. President Lindsay appointed the following nembers on the part of the house of deputies on the loint committee on the subject of translation of bishops from one dioces to another: Rev. Dr. McConnell, Brooklyn Rev. John Henry Hopkins, Chicago; Rev. Dr. Seymour, Connecticut; J. Grosvenor New York; John W. Randall, Maryland William H. Adams, western New York. The following were chosen as member: from the house of deputies on the commit tee on probibited degrees: Rev. C. i Olmsted, Pennsylvania; Rev. William C Dewitt, Chicago; Bayard Cutting, New York; Edward L. Temple, Vermont; R. L.

Wiggins, Tennessee. Rev. Dr. Carey of Albany of the committee on the General Theological seminary reported a very satisfactory financial con dition of the institution. He noted that the number of incoming students this year was unusually large. New buildings had been erected and the library greatly enlarged. A number of endowed scholarships had also been founded. Resolutions were adopted recommending that all appoint ments to scolarships be based on competi tive examinations, also that fellows of th seminary be encouraged to pursue their studies abroad, also that provision be made for courses of instruction in missionary

The committee on the division of diocess reported that it found itself unable to recmmend setting off a portion of the diocese of Springfield as a missionary district, but that it recognized the claim of Springfield to some sort of relief in the evangelization of its great territory and advised that if possible such relief be given by the heard of missions. The number of parishes and missions increased CONDITION OF THE CHURCH IS REPORTED by 592, which was pronounced satisfactory. Attention was called to the lack of suffi cient candidates for the ministry. There had been a total revenue from all sources of $45,690,715, an increase of about $6,000,-000. The contributions for foreign missions had increased $238,000 and for diocesan mis-sione $327 600 The funds for the relief of disabled cleres and the widows and orphans of the clergy had also largely increased.

The committee on the validity of the orders of the Reformed Episcopal church reported that it was not prepared to make final report and was continued. A general missionary meeting with spe-

CHURCHMEN DIFFER WIDELY Congregationalists Exhaust Their

Time in Spirited Debate Over Resolution for Common Head. PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 15 .- Personal appeal to the delegates in behalf of the ran-chairman of the business committee of the National Congregational council today. He stated that of the $110,000 demanded as ransom only $60,000 had been subscribed. An appeal to congress to make polygamy crime against the government was referred to a special committee of five. with an opinion from the business committee that it was too late in the session to take up a question of such magnitude. The question of consolidating five auxillary associations in Montana was referred to a special committee, the moderator explaining that the appeals should be made o the general conference.

On invitation of President Hyde of Bowdoin college the delegates went to Brunsthe afternoon, returning at 6 o'clock.

A spirited debate occurred at the afternoon session over one of a set of resolutions by the committee to adopt measures to look to a closer union in the missionary work of the Congregational church. The arguments, while at their height, were cut off by the time limit, to be resumed tomorrow. The report of the committee was presented to the council by Samuel B. Capan of Boston and the first five resolutions were adopted by the council without debate. The sixth resolution. which caused the trouble, reads:

That we approve so much of the report of the committee as recommends the appointment of all salaried officers in our six societies by executive boards; of the plan, so far as practicable, of one administrative head, and of a limited governing membership for each of our home societies.

Protests were made on every side. first members on the floor believed that the organization as now managed was satisfactory and that it was not advisable to make a change. A member of the prudential committee favored the resolution, exthe orders from the reformed Episcopal cept that he believed it should not apply to the American board. The next speaker declared that none of the secleties should be exempt; another delegate attempted to throw oil on the troubled waters by stating that the national council had no legislative powers, but merely the power to make recommendations. This was followed by an attempt to divide the question; with few speeches. Nelson is to speak with Alemplications increasing, debate was cut

> Among the recommendations made by the committee of fifteen were the following: emphasis on missionary work; that they be required to, as far as possible, make personal appeals for gifts to carry on the work; that October be set aside as a missionary month; that churches make some provision in Sunday schools and Christian Endeavor societies to educate the young people in missionary work; that pastors on all ordinations and installations be examined as to their knowledge and interest in missionary work, and the resolution which occasioned the debate tonight. Four other resolutions will probably Apparent Reasons.

LIMA, O., Oct. 15 .- The first thing taken up at the session of the general council of the Evargelical Lutheran church today was the report of the publication board. The report stated that the board was not able to increase the faculties as the business demanded nor had it been able to diminish the debt in the last two years and it asked that no further reduction in price of any publication be made, as many were printed at a loss and the more sold increased the

At the last meeting of the council the board was instructed to purchase the Herald publication of the New York Ministerium, a German paper. The board did not obey the resolution and reported the egotiations, saying the New York Miniserium wanted personal security on the notes. In the debate on the report the poard was censured for not obeying the order of the council, the latter being without a German paper. All negotiations for the paper are now off.

A resolution was passed to issue stock interest-bearing loan certificates to members of the church for the benefit of the poard, if they thought it necessary. Lord Bishop von Schele left today for Washington, where he goes as a representative of King Oscar to greet President Roosevelt. He will also visit Yale college to take part in the second centennial of that historic institution as the representative of the Swedish, king.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Oct. 15 .- (Special.) -A. B. Cummins, republican candidate for governor of Iowa, who has a few speaking lates in the western part of the state this week, at Denison, Glenwood, Shenan doah and Fontanelle, is the most sought after of any campaigner on the lows stump in many years. In fact, Mr. Cummins' fame as a public speaker has gone the length and breadth of Iowa and if the republican state committee could place him in everom fund for Miss Stone was made by the work and produce, either for remunerative wages or in the creation of produces that the present campaign the people would not even then be satisfied. In the three weeks he has been in the campaign has made about twenty-five speeches and he has three weeks more in which to appear before the people. It will thus be seen that at best he can reach only about half the counties in the state. It is conceded that the counties of his own congressional district do not need his attention and he will make no speeches near Des Moines unless it is one the night before election in this citz.

The state committee is bothered more by the demand of the county committees that Cummins be sent into their counties that Cummins be sent into their counties than by anything else in the campaign. Chairman Spence has letters every day from republican county committeemen asking, or demanding, that Cummins be sent into their county. The republicans are not in danger of bolting, nor are they lukewarm, but they want to see and hear Cummins. The preliminary campaign was a bitter one and Mr. Cummins was the subject of many sharp attacks and now the republicans in those countees that were against him are most anxious to have him come amons them.

SHORT HOURS FOR LABORERS those counties that were against him are most anxious to have him come among them and demonstrate that he is all that was claimed for him by his ardent friends. Hence the demand for Cummins is over whelming.

Carries His Audiences.

The committee is working Cummins hard This week the committee worked in another speech on him-one for Saturday evening at Grinnell, in addition to the dates previously announced. On several days lately he has had two speeches, but thus far he is holding out well. He speaks nearly two hours and a half at each of his speeches and reports indicate that he is able to interest his crowds with ease.

Next to Mr. Cummins, the candidate for governor, the most popular speaker of the state and most in demand is Governor Shaw In all his previous campaigns Governor Shaw has proved himself an able stump speaker, and in a great many cases where demand is made for Cummins, Governor Shaw is named as the alternative. But now that Senators Allison and Dolliver Speaker Henderson, John Herriott and most of the congressmen have got into the campaign in good shape the state committee is well supplied with public speakers. There is practically no demand for speakers un less they are good ones. Senator Fairbanks of Indiana and Senator Nelson of Minnesota are to come into the state for a lison at Decorah, in a Scandinavian community, October 25. Fairbanks is to deliver one speech in Des Moines in the latter part of the month.

The injection of the railroad issue into the state campaign by the speeches of Governor Shaw and ex-Treasurer John Herriott was feared as a disturbing element by the party managers but as a matter of fact the republicans believe the question can Coopers be settled within the republican party and Curtain Operators ... that no amount of discussion of the disturb-ing question of railroad assessments can Engineers, coal hoisting cause the republican party any trouble. Engineers, stationary steam. Shaw and Herriott clashed flercely when they were on the executive council together.
The issue between them on the railroad assessment problem was the chief issue Garment Workers. before the party during the preliminary campaign and the state convention at Cedar Rapids nominated Cummins, who was antagonistic to Shaw, and placed John Herriott on the ticket with him as if to emphasize the fact that the Herriott view had beet at least partially accepted by the party as a whole. Under the circumstances a discussion of the question is invited. But neither Shaw nor Herriott will make of the railroad question the chief question to be considered in the campaign. Thus far the democrats have done nothing save to pilot Phillips, the candidate for governor, about the state to meet the people personally. An effort is to be made to secure a number of good speakers, all from outside the state, for the last week of the campaign, but no appointments have been innounced. The prohibitionists show the greatest activity and the populists and socialists are doing nothing.

ALLISON SPEAKS AT TAMA

Senator from lowa Gives Views on Reciprocity and Foreign Trade Relations.

TAMA, Ia., Oct. 15 .- (Special.) -- Senator William B. Allison gave a large audience at the republican rally tonight his views on those questions of domestic and foreign policy which are now in the public mind and are expected to receive attention at the next session of congress. He exhaustively considered our future trade relations with the world and in this connection the tariff. reciprocity, the merchant marine and the proposed isthmian canal, and our future reations with Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philppines, his conclusion being that wise legslation upon these matters would give us the larger markets we must have for the Mary I. ator Allison spoke on the state election as follows:

The approaching election is an important one as respects our state, and no less important as respects our national affairs. We elect a general assembly to make our laws, amending those needing amendment, and substituting new ones for those now existing where substitution is required.

The legislature elects two senators to represent the state in the United States senate, one to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late Senator Gear, and now held by Senator Dolliver under appointment from the governor; the other for the term beginning March 4, 1963.

Our candidate for governor has the respect, esteem and confidence of the people of the state and will bring to the office high capacity and integrity and large experience and knowledge of the needs of the state. The other candidates are highly esteemed citizens, having large experience and training for the several places assigned to them. That each and all will intelligently and faithfully do their work goes without saying. Our legislative tickets are strong throughout the state. Able men have been nominated in the several representative and senatorial districts and it cannot be doubted that the republicans will have a majority in both houses of the general assembly, nor can it be doubted that wise laws will be enacted for the promotion of the welfare of the state, and that the general assembly will seek to equalize burdens and benefits as respects the various interests of the state as nearly as practicable if it shall appear that such burdens and benefits are not now upon a fair equality.
