The appropriation bill clearly indicates that the legislature expected at least twelve days of encampment during the blennium. The encampment at Omaha lasted only ten days, but the expenses almost equal the entire amount allowed. Adjutant General Colby insists that the secencampment shall be twelve days and that they do not require the soldiers to remain in camp for this length of time. The weather, like that of yesterday, was deitems of the bill which are causing the trouble are as follows:

"To enable the Nebraska National guard to comply with chapter lvi, Compiled Statutes of Nebraska, estimated as follows: For armory rent, allowance of $100 per annum to each company, $6,000; der diem tempered with decency and to the strangers of officers and men, for six days' en- at Hyannis it has been demonstrated that campment each year, twelve days' encampment in the blennium, $17.000; subsistence for 1,300 enlisted men, $4,000; transporta- chief attractions today were rough riding. tion of troops to and from encampments,

The payroll in its original form exceeded the appropriation, but the adjutant general brought it within the limit by eliminating the allowance for officers' horses. As amended it was returned to the auditor, who immediately referred the matter to the ARE MARRIED SIXTY YEARS attorney general with a request for an opinion as to the legal questions involved. Experiments in Feeding Sheep.

The Nebraska Experiment station has issued a bulletin detailing the results of feeding sheep on different rations, with and without shelter, as follows:

and without shelter, as follows:

In a recent experiment ten lots of lambs were fed. Alfalfa and sorghum hay were used as roughness, four lots being fed on sorghum and six lots on alfalfa hay. Three lots had a shed with protected yard attached, while seven lots had open yards with slight protection from a low shed some twenty-five feet to the north.

The lambs with shelter weighed an average of about fifty-six pounds each at the beginning of the experiment, while those in the open yards were slightly larger, weighing sixty-one pounds average.

Of the six lots on alfalfa three were under shelter and three were in open yards, each lot under shelter being duplicated by a lot in the open yard.

Three different grain ratios was fed to the second of the six lots on the second of th lot under shelter being duplicated by a lot in the open yard.

Three different grain rations were fed to the lambs on alfalfa. Lots 1 and 4 received alfalfa and sorn. Lots 2 and 5 received alfalfa and a grain ration of three-fourths corn and one-fourth oats. Lots 3 and 6 received alfalfa and a grain ration of three-fourths corn and one-fourth bran.

Lots 7, 8, 9 and 10 were fed sorghum hay and the following grain rations: Lot 7 received sorghum hay and rations: Lot 8 received sorghum hay and received sorghum hay and received sorghum hay and three-fourth one-fourth bran. Lot 10 received sorghum hay and three-fourths corn with one-fourth bran. Lot 10 received sorghum hay and five-sixths corn with one-sixth oil meal.

The three lots under shelter on alfalfa and a grain ration made an average gain of thirty-four and three-tenths pounds in ninety-eight days.

The three lots in open yards on alfalfa and a grain ration made an average gain of thirty-three and two-tenths pounds in ninety-eight days.

The three lots in open yards on sorghum hay and grain rations containing corn, oats and bran made an average gain of twenty and seven-tenths pounds in ninety-eight days.

ninety-eight days.

The six lots on alfalfa and grain made an average profit of 72 cents per head.

The three lots on sorghum hay, corn, oats and brain made an average profit of 31 cents per head.

The one lot on sorghum hay and five-sixths corn with one-sixth oil meal made an average gain of 35 cents per head.

The seas-in was favorable for gains, but the price of $5.00 per 100 at which the lambs sold made the profit small.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.-Harry O'Connell of 140 West Thirty-ninth street surrendered himself to the police today and gave up $3,000 which he said was part of the money stolen by Bank Messenger George Armitage on October 15 from the Bank of New Amsterdam. O'Connell was a companion of young Armitage. O'Connell, according to the detectives, said that Armitage had not told the truth. The women who robbed him had not taken all the money. After the robbery there was still $3,500 left, which Armitage handed over to O'Connell to keep. O'Connell said he and the bank messenger went on a spree and spent $500 of the money. The remaining $3,000 he had kept. evident for some time that the confinement O'Connell was held for examination before
