and a hurried run was made to Moulton with the locomotive for surgeons.

All the medical men in town were taken back to the wreck and the injured passengers were cared for.

Fifty sacks of mail have been sent back to Moulton, some of them with holes burned in them.

Engineer Ong of Carrollton, Mo., and Conductor Scovern were both at first reported dead.

The cars of the train are lying at the bottom of a gully sixty feet deep and the roadbed is torn up for 100 feet. No trains can get across the place.

With the reopening of the Hammon plant it is expected that the receipts at the stock yards will be waterially increased. as the plant at St. Joseph has lately aken some of the live stock which would ordinarily come to this market. Natu rally the management of the stock yards company is pleased with the prospects of another packing house here and extraordinary efforts will be made to secure enough stock to keep all of the houses running full time The reopening of this plant will make some changes in the government inspection force and it is expected that some of the taggers and inspectors who were ordered way when the house closed last spring will be sent back here for duty.

A number of prominent officials of the Hammond company are expected to reach Omaha today to look over the ground and do everything possible to hasten the opening of the plant The capacity of the plant when working full time is 5,000 hogs, 2,000 cattle and 2,000 sheep. This plant was the first established in South Omaha and the present buildings cover over forty acres of ficor space.
