

EUROPE PONDS ANARCHY

Buffalo Tragedy Conveys a Deep Lesson to Guardians of Royalty.

HOW THE RULERS REGARD THE MATTER

Greater Precautions Taken by Heads of Ruling Houses—Little Co-operation Among the Nations Against Anarchists.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Now that the first sensation of horror and... caused the assassination of President McKinley...

"It is awful, awful," he said. "It will make changes, no doubt, in our European systems. We shall have to talk of new measures, but I can not tell what these may be."

When M. Cochefert is willing you should have some information, but does not wish to give it to you himself, he turns you over to an irresponsible, but well informed lieutenant...

One word to commence with. This crime has moved the European police far more than a European crime would ever have done. And this for two main reasons.

"You see," said M. Dupont (that is not, I hardly need say, the official's real name) "you see one might almost say that it is the natural thing for a European executive to be assassinated."

And, as I learned from my informant, this "secret" ("frisson" is the expressive French word used) made itself particularly felt and will have particular and very direct results in the immediate entourage of the president.

Effect of the Scarce. "And, as I learned from my informant, this 'secret' ('frisson' is the expressive French word used) made itself particularly felt and will have particular and very direct results in the immediate entourage of the president."

Unfortunately for Europe there is little international co-operation against anarchy. Europe complains and with reason, of the lack of interest shown by the United States in tracking suspected anarchists.

Little Co-operation. Unfortunately for Europe there is little international co-operation against anarchy. Europe complains and with reason, of the lack of interest shown by the United States in tracking suspected anarchists.

My informant gave me some curious details about the device that has recently been introduced in Berlin to safeguard the kaiser in view of the recrudescence of anarchistic attempts.

My informant gave me some curious details about the device that has recently been introduced in Berlin to safeguard the kaiser in view of the recrudescence of anarchistic attempts.

My informant gave me some curious details about the device that has recently been introduced in Berlin to safeguard the kaiser in view of the recrudescence of anarchistic attempts.

My informant gave me some curious details about the device that has recently been introduced in Berlin to safeguard the kaiser in view of the recrudescence of anarchistic attempts.

My informant gave me some curious details about the device that has recently been introduced in Berlin to safeguard the kaiser in view of the recrudescence of anarchistic attempts.

My informant gave me some curious details about the device that has recently been introduced in Berlin to safeguard the kaiser in view of the recrudescence of anarchistic attempts.

be his duty to be always on the alert both in barracks and in the field, in the one case keeping tabs on the men's conversations, habits, ideas, reading and associates, and immediately reporting any suspicious character.

The present czar, though popularly supposed to be the most constantly menaced of monarchs, is perhaps one of the most indifferent to the precautionary measures taken in his interest.

He goes his way, grave under the shadow of the coming death, but without flinching from what he regards as the inevitable. He knows, of course, that the authorities of his court surround him with an elaborate system of police protection.

Another monarch who does not seem to care is King Edward of England. His easy-going way of leading around Homburg, drinking water at the Spa like any good man, is scarcely a day on which one or another of them is not in danger of death by the bomb or the knife or the revolver.

King Edward's Carelessness. Another monarch who does not seem to care is King Edward of England. His easy-going way of leading around Homburg, drinking water at the Spa like any good man, is scarcely a day on which one or another of them is not in danger of death by the bomb or the knife or the revolver.

Another monarch who does not seem to care is King Edward of England. His easy-going way of leading around Homburg, drinking water at the Spa like any good man, is scarcely a day on which one or another of them is not in danger of death by the bomb or the knife or the revolver.

Another monarch who does not seem to care is King Edward of England. His easy-going way of leading around Homburg, drinking water at the Spa like any good man, is scarcely a day on which one or another of them is not in danger of death by the bomb or the knife or the revolver.

Another monarch who does not seem to care is King Edward of England. His easy-going way of leading around Homburg, drinking water at the Spa like any good man, is scarcely a day on which one or another of them is not in danger of death by the bomb or the knife or the revolver.

Another monarch who does not seem to care is King Edward of England. His easy-going way of leading around Homburg, drinking water at the Spa like any good man, is scarcely a day on which one or another of them is not in danger of death by the bomb or the knife or the revolver.

Another monarch who does not seem to care is King Edward of England. His easy-going way of leading around Homburg, drinking water at the Spa like any good man, is scarcely a day on which one or another of them is not in danger of death by the bomb or the knife or the revolver.

Another monarch who does not seem to care is King Edward of England. His easy-going way of leading around Homburg, drinking water at the Spa like any good man, is scarcely a day on which one or another of them is not in danger of death by the bomb or the knife or the revolver.

A Merchant's Sage Advice

Pointed Remarks by Head of the House.

John Graham, a self-made merchant of Chicago and a packer of considerable repute, deals in sage advice as well as meat products.

When I was clerking in Missouri a fellow named Hankins worked for me. He was a caddy and a bad listener, and so we learned a heap about how things were done in Wisconsin.

Next morning at sunup Jeff picked out a bridle and started off whistling "Buffalo Gals"—he was a powerful pretty whistler and could do the "Mocking Bird" with variations to catch the mule and begin his plowing.

I simply mention this little incident as an example of the fact that there are certain animals with which the Lord didn't intend white men to fool. And you will find that, as a rule, the human varieties of them are not the fellows who go for your rough-shod, like Milligan, when you're wrong.

When you've got an uncertain cow it's all O. K. to tie a figure eight in her tail if you ain't thirsty, and it's excitement you're after; but if you want peace and her nine quarts, you should approach her from the side, and say, "So-ho-so in about the same tone that you would use if you were asking your best girl to let you hold her hand. Of course you want to be sure of your natural history facts, and learn to distinguish between a cow that's a kicker, but whose intentions are good if she's approached with proper respect, and a hooker, who is vicious on general principles, and who says you come at her. There's never any use fooling with an animal of that sort, brute or human.

When I was clerking in Missouri a fellow named Hankins worked for me. He was a caddy and a bad listener, and so we learned a heap about how things were done in Wisconsin.

Next morning at sunup Jeff picked out a bridle and started off whistling "Buffalo Gals"—he was a powerful pretty whistler and could do the "Mocking Bird" with variations to catch the mule and begin his plowing.

I simply mention this little incident as an example of the fact that there are certain animals with which the Lord didn't intend white men to fool. And you will find that, as a rule, the human varieties of them are not the fellows who go for your rough-shod, like Milligan, when you're wrong.

When you've got an uncertain cow it's all O. K. to tie a figure eight in her tail if you ain't thirsty, and it's excitement you're after; but if you want peace and her nine quarts, you should approach her from the side, and say, "So-ho-so in about the same tone that you would use if you man who is affable and approachable, but who you want to learn to distinguish between him and one who is too affable and too approachable. The adverb makes the difference between a good and a bad fellow. The bunco men aren't all at this county fair, and they don't all operate with the little shells and the elusive pea.

I dwell on this because I am a little disappointed that you should have made such a mistake in sizing up Milligan. He isn't the brightest man in the office, but he is loyal to me and to the house, and when you have been in business as long as I have you will be inclined to put a pretty high value on loyalty.

I don't know anything that a young business man ought to keep more entirely to himself than his dislikes, unless it be his likes. It's generally expensive to have either, but banking upon them to tell about them. It's all right to say nothing about the dead but good, but it's better to apply the rule to the living, and especially to the house which is paying your salary.

Just one word before I close, as old Doc Hoover used to say, when he was coming off from the benediction. I have noticed that you are inclined to be a little chummy and starchy around the office. Of course, it's good business, when a fellow hasn't much to brag about, but you should be more open and attract attention to his shirt-front. But as you begin to meet the men who have done something that makes them worth meeting you will find that there are no "keep off the grass" or "beware of the dog" signs around the premises, and that they don't motion to the orchestra to play slow music while they talk.

Superiority makes every man feel its equal. It is courtesy without condescension, affability without familiarity, self-reliance without selfishness, simplicity without simplicity. It weighs sixteen ounces to the pound without the package, and it doesn't need a four-colored label to make it go.

We are coming home from here. I am a little disappointed in the showing that this house has been making. I would have found it not getting nearly so much out of its bags as we are in Chicago. I don't know just where the leak is, but if they don't do better next month I am coming back here with a shotgun, and there's going to be a pretty head-norm among our head men. Your affectionate father, JOHN GRAHAM.

When you've got an uncertain cow it's all O. K. to tie a figure eight in her tail if you ain't thirsty, and it's excitement you're after; but if you want peace and her nine quarts, you should approach her from the side, and say, "So-ho-so in about the same tone that you would use if you

When you've got an uncertain cow it's all O. K. to tie a figure eight in her tail if you ain't thirsty, and it's excitement you're after; but if you want peace and her nine quarts, you should approach her from the side, and say, "So-ho-so in about the same tone that you would use if you

When you've got an uncertain cow it's all O. K. to tie a figure eight in her tail if you ain't thirsty, and it's excitement you're after; but if you want peace and her nine quarts, you should approach her from the side, and say, "So-ho-so in about the same tone that you would use if you

When you've got an uncertain cow it's all O. K. to tie a figure eight in her tail if you ain't thirsty, and it's excitement you're after; but if you want peace and her nine quarts, you should approach her from the side, and say, "So-ho-so in about the same tone that you would use if you

There is no better investment for your entire family than $1.75 for The Youth's Companion every week from now till Jan., 1903. NEW SUBSCRIPTION OFFER. Every New Subscriber who will mention this publication or cut out this slip and send it and $1.75 will receive: FREE—All the issues for the remaining weeks of 1901. FREE—Thanksgiving and Christmas Double Numbers. FREE—The Companion Calendar for 1902, lithographed in twelve colors and gold.

COMES TO LAND TO ROOST

Ranaway Balloon Takes Captives on Terrifying Trip to Sea.

RESCUER SEIZES THE DRAGGING ANCHOR

Nine Occupants of Car Descend Unharned Fifty Miles from Starting Point and Take Dinner with Friend in Need.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—The nine occupants of the car of the balloon which escaped from the city yesterday afternoon landed safely today. The balloon was landed near Pescadero, fifty miles from this city and but a short distance from the ocean.

Those who made the involuntary trip were: Ed P. Dudley, aeronaut; A. L. Dodge, Ed Foster, Jr., Walter Leon, C. P. Vildevog, J. F. Leonard, M. L. Howarth, John A. M. Swift and Mrs. J. P. Gussunow. When the balloon broke up, the occupants sailed away in a southerly direction.

Ocean Promises a Berth. A. L. Dodge, one of the passengers, describing the trip, said that the balloon first started toward Oakland and after circling about for a time drifted southward and became stationary for a short period. Then, in response to a breeze from the eastward, it sailed over the San Mateo hills and stood far out over the ocean.

Even's Daughter. Little Agnes had been a regular attendant at the Sunday school last winter, relates the story, the balloon dipped close to the surface of the water, but rose again each time to a considerable altitude. Finally a breeze from the sea caught the balloon and carried it back over the land and after dragging the cage through the tops of a grove of trees landed it on a hillside six miles from Pescadero.

The Art of Framing—Pictures have reached the highest point of perfection with us. Constant attention to the little details in frames and moldings, the careful selection of novelties, together with an unwavering ambition to always frame the picture whatever it may be, in the most artistic manner possible, is the secret of our success. Twenty-seven years before the public as leaders in all that pertains to ART, gives you the assurance that we will satisfactorily frame your picture—and the price?—ALWAYS RIGHT.

A. HOSPE, Music and Art. 1513-1515 Douglas. We're Building a Reputation—On the men's shoes we sell for $2—now, you've heard of $2 shoes, but Drexel L. Shoonian has a $2 shoe that under ordinary circumstances would sell and does sell, for $2.50—some places $3 is asked—that he will put up against the whole field of $2 shoes—that is, good men's shoe—good, honest leather—good, honest shoes—a mechanic's shoe in every sense of the word—a shoe for any one that is on his feet a great deal—you are not taking any chances when you pay $2 for these leather shoes.

There is no better investment for your entire family than $1.75 for The Youth's Companion every week from now till Jan., 1903. NEW SUBSCRIPTION OFFER. Every New Subscriber who will mention this publication or cut out this slip and send it and $1.75 will receive: FREE—All the issues for the remaining weeks of 1901. FREE—Thanksgiving and Christmas Double Numbers. FREE—The Companion Calendar for 1902, lithographed in twelve colors and gold.

OLD GRUDGE BEARS FRUIT

Mechanics Who Took Places of Strikers Are Shot in Their Homes by Mob.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 3.—Two mechanics working in the Southern shops here, Walter Binder and William Seaver, were shot while in their homes last night by a party of men. Seaver was killed instantly and Binder desperately wounded. According to the statement of Binder the attacking men were former strikers, Harry Jones and Arthur McCroney have been arrested. McCroney claims that he did the shooting in self-defense. The strike has long since ended here, but it is said there is still feeling against the men who took the places of the strikers.

DAVIS' SPEECH IS APPROVED Broad Views Advanced by United States Delegate Are Concurred In by Latin-Americans. MEXICO CITY, Nov. 3.—Senator Davis' speech in the Pan-American congress upholding the territorial integrity of the Latin American republics, disclaiming any designs against them on the part of the United States and affirming strongly the Monroe doctrine, created much discussion. The liberal papers approve it. Don Filomeno Mata, editor of the radical liberal paper El Del Hogar, regards the utterance as sure to have the happiest effect among the liberals throughout South and Central America.

LLOYD SHIP AFTER A RECORD Kron Prinz Wilhelm Lowers Mark to Plymouth, but Deutschland is Still Without Peer. NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The new North German Lloyd ship Kron Prinz Wilhelm, which left New York last Tuesday for Plymouth, Cherbourg and Bremen, arrived at the former port at 1 o'clock this morning after the quickest trip it has yet made. Its time was about five days eight hours and forty-six minutes. The record for the voyage between New York and Plymouth, however, is one hour and eight minutes less than the time of the passage of Kron Prinz Wilhelm and is held by its rival Deutschland.

Passing of the Real Dooley

James McGarry, the original of Finley P. Dunne's "Mr. Dooley," the "Archie Road Philosopher," died in Chicago last Tuesday at an advanced age. He was a man of merely a saloon keeper, running a boozery frequented by newspapermen and other prominent people. They came in pairs, groups or alone to the high basement saloon of "Dooley" on Dearborn street, near Madison. They were as apt to drop in for an eye-opener as for a drink.

Chicago laughed heartily over "McNeery's" experience on the Ferris wheel with his friend, O'Connor, and then promptly adjourned to "Jim" McGarry's resort and chafed him on his experiences. He took it good naturedly at first, but when the second story made him present at the World's fair literary congress, and a third mixed him up with Dr. Tanner, and a fourth described his experience with train robbers in Arkansas, the situation grew too intense for him to protest long, and he laid against being given such notoriety.

There came then the following Sunday these lines: "Business was dull in the liquor shop of Mr. Martin Dooley in Archie road last Wednesday night, and Mr. Dooley was sitting placidly in the rear of his shop holding a newspaper at arm's length before him and reading the sporting news. In came Mr. John McGarry, a stout, middle-aged man. 'Good evening, Martin,' he said. 'Hello, Jawnny,' replied Mr. Dooley, as if he had parted only the evening before. 'How's tricks? I don't mind, Jawnny, if I do. 'Tis duller here than a ray-publican primary in the Fourth ward, th' night.' 'That introduced Mr. Dooley, and was the first of the papers bearing his name. He has appeared in many other stunts that time. But it was originally to 'Jim' McGarry that he owed his fame. 'I'll match me face 'gainst yours, Judge,' said McGarry one day to his bosom friend, Judge Goggin. 'When you're together one can't tell 'em apart,' said Dunne. Judge Goggin was quite wroth over this and did not forgive the remark for a long time. Much of what Dooley said was often an actual extract from discussions in McGarry's. These were so interwoven with imaginative bits of matter as to make the two inseparable. Friends of McGarry recall the days when 'Johnny' Dowling gave him a scare for his life. 'Johnny' was 'Mike' McDonald's partner and mixed up in a good deal of bad gambling. He was a nervy fellow, free to use a gun or a knife, and had the run of the town. He walked into McGarry's one night, and without a word smashed a big mirror. 'That's not right, Jawnny,' said McGarry. 'You oughtn't to do that to a friend.' 'But 'Jawnny' had his boots on and paid no attention to the remonstrances of McGarry. He seized the mirror and threw it at the mirror. Several nights later, after 12 o'clock McGarry was going home on Monroe street, then a lone-some thoroughfare. He came to a dark alleyway and there met Dowling, who stopped him. 'McGarry,' said he, 'I'm going to kill you.' McGarry gasped and made out as if he did not understand. 'McGarry,' persisted Dowling, pulling a large pistol out of his pocket, 'you have only five minutes to live.' 'Would you have the blood of an innocent man on your hands?' McGarry propped to die. McGarry suffered awful tortures. He thought Dowling was in earnest and he pleaded long and well for his life. Finally Dowling let him go, and that was the end of trouble between them.

Brothers Take the Pledge. Consecration Service is Held by Delegates Who Seek to Follow Andrew and Phillip. PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—The sessions of the fifth annual convention of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Phillip came to a close tonight with special services in the East Liberty Presbyterian church, which included the presentation of a Brotherhood consecration service, conducted by Rev. Alfred E. Meirs of New York. No change in officers was made. YIELD MONEY UNDER TORTURE Burglars Compel Victims to Surrender Valuables and One Lad May Not Survive. MASSILLON, O., Nov. 3.—Balsler Race, his wife and two sons, living near this city, early this morning were tortured by burglars until they gave up over $1,000 in certificates of deposit and $20 in money. The burglars set fire to their victims' hair and threatened to roast them alive. One of Help Others Help them to help themselves. What better deed? Then why not tell your friend who is ill just what Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done for you? When you see a person weak and pale, nervous and debilitated, just recommend our Sarsaparilla. If in doubt about this, ask your doctor if he knows of anything better. 'A neighbor of mine had a child who had suffered from scrofula for a long time. Having used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my own family for a great many years, and always with satisfactory results, I recommended it to my neighbor. The child was quickly cured, and the parents were greatly delighted.'—N. K. DEAN, Spencer, Ind. J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

The Art of Framing—Pictures have reached the highest point of perfection with us. Constant attention to the little details in frames and moldings, the careful selection of novelties, together with an unwavering ambition to always frame the picture whatever it may be, in the most artistic manner possible, is the secret of our success. Twenty-seven years before the public as leaders in all that pertains to ART, gives you the assurance that we will satisfactorily frame your picture—and the price?—ALWAYS RIGHT. A. HOSPE, Music and Art. 1513-1515 Douglas. We're Building a Reputation—On the men's shoes we sell for $2—now, you've heard of $2 shoes, but Drexel L. Shoonian has a $2 shoe that under ordinary circumstances would sell and does sell, for $2.50—some places $3 is asked—that he will put up against the whole field of $2 shoes—that is, good men's shoe—good, honest leather—good, honest shoes—a mechanic's shoe in every sense of the word—a shoe for any one that is on his feet a great deal—you are not taking any chances when you pay $2 for these leather shoes. Drexel Shoe Co. Omaha's Up-to-date Shoe House. 1412 FARNAM STREET. New Fall Catalogue Now Ready.