

ONE TOO MANY ON BOARD

Extra County Commissioner Will Have to Fight for His Place.

CONNOLLY RELIES ON MILLER AS CLERK

Make Up of the Roll Call for the First Meeting Will Decide Which Member Must Start Contest.

"There seem to be six of us slated for a boat that will hold only five. Somebody must jump into the river and the momentous question now is who will take a bath when the boat is reorganized January 4."

James P. Connolly, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, remarked yesterday in discussing the angle which has come about through the election of Lyman Waterman as a sixth man on a board which can have but five members.

"The latest election returns indicate that Harry Miller will be the next county clerk. He is the man who will call the roll when the board meets for reorganization January 4. I am not in the fight. My case was settled by the supreme court and the struggle between Waterman and Harter, Miller will be compelled to omit the name of one of these two men from the roll call and then the fellow who is left will probably enter the courts to find out why he was shoved out into the cold."

I am elected to a place on the county board and am entitled to a certificate of election and a seat with the commissioner," said Lyman Waterman. "I do not know what steps I will take in case I am denied a place on the board. It is certain, however, that I will not surrender without a fight."

BIDS ON AUDITORIUM DIGGING

Contractors Make Offers to Do the Needed Excavation for the Building.

Bids for the Auditorium excavation were opened at yesterday's meeting of the board of directors and referred to the building and grounds committee, which will make a contract with the best bidder.

HOLD A SECRET SESSION

Iowa-Nebraska Jobbers' Association Debating the State of Trade Behind Closed Doors.

The Iowa-Nebraska Wholesale Grocers' association held a secret session yesterday at the Paxton hotel. Nearly seventy-five houses were represented. The meeting was a secret one and the officers announced that matters of interest to the trade were discussed, but that there was nothing to be given out for publication.
