

TAKES UP NEW EXPOSITION

Henry Rustin Plans to Surpass the Pan-American at St. Louis.

MORE ELECTRIC WONDERS THAN EVER

Buffalo to be Outclassed in Every Respect—Opening Day to Find All Features Completely Ready.

Henry Rustin, the Omaha electrician who planned and placed in execution the Pan-American electrical illuminations of the American exposition, as well as those of the Transimmanian exposition in Omaha for a few days visiting friends and his brother, Dr. Frederick Rustin. He came from St. Louis, where he closed a contract with the board of directors of the Louisiana Purchase exposition to take charge of the electrical work.

MUST DEPEND ON HIMSELF.

"In planning electrical illuminations on a large scale the electrician must depend altogether upon himself. He has in mind the general plan and the effect he wishes to produce, but he cannot explain it to any one else, he cannot seek advice and must rely absolutely upon his own judgment. When the opening day comes and the illuminations blaze forth the electrician is highly pleased if the effect produced is what he worked for, but if it is disappointing it must stand, for it is too late then to make a change and the electrician must shoulder the blame.

"Naturally, I have been much pleased at the compliments given my Buffalo work, especially so when they come from the people and press of Omaha. At St. Louis the work will be far greater than any I have yet attempted. There is a vast amount of work to be done and first of all the main features must be decided upon. This brings up the question of the amount of power required, and when that is settled can proceed with the erection of the power plant, which, of course, will be a mammoth affair. Thousand horsepower engines and thousand horsepower generators, which will be required for the work, are not to be found upon the shelves of electrical supply houses, so that at best the preliminary work will be rather slow.

SURPASSING ELECTRIC FOUNTAINS.

"As an illustration of what St. Louis is going to do I will refer to the one item of electrical fountains. At Buffalo we used 25,000 gallons of water per minute for all our fountains, while at St. Louis several features are planned, any one of which will require that volume of water.

"I will return to Buffalo next Sunday to finish some work. Though under no moral obligation to do so, yet many matters require attention and I feel that I ought to be there. For instance, nearly 300 tons of copper wire used in the exposition, the quantities alone must be taken up and loaded on cars. A large amount of electrical apparatus remains to be taken care of, so that my time will be occupied for ten days or two weeks.

GOLF INSTRUCTOR GOES EAST.

J. C. Johnston, who was the golf instructor at the Country club during the season of 1901, has left for Boston and will probably go from there to the south, where he will be connected with a golf club during the winter. It is not determined that Mr. Johnston will return to Omaha next season, although several members of the club have expressed a desire to continue the work under his instruction for another year at least. The question of his return will be decided by the grounds committee of the club, which should have been chosen in September, but which will not be elected until December.

NO SHADOW

Of outward misfortune can darken the smile of the loyal wife and loving mother. But when disease comes the smile slowly fades, and in its place comes the drawn face and tight closed lips which tell of the constant struggle with pain.

When the delicate womanly organism is diseased the whole body suffers; the form grows thin, and the complexion dull. The first step to sound health is to cure the disease which undermines the womanly strength.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription... I was troubled with female weakness for eight years, and suffered more than I can tell. I wrote Mrs. Gust. Moser, of Ovario, Des Moines, Ia., and she sent me a box of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery, and she followed the advice given in the Common Sense Medical Adviser. I had two operations performed by one of the most skilled surgeons of the West, but did not get relief. Then, against my doctor's strict orders, I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery, and the result was that in three months I was as well as I ever was, and as well as a woman can be. I cannot thank Dr. Pierce enough for his kind letters to me.

SIGNIFICANCE OF ELECTIONS

Rabbi Simon Commends the Overthrow of Tammany and Rebukes Non-Registered Voters.

Rabbi Abram Simon lectured last night in Temple, Israel on "The Significance of the Recent Elections." He told of the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah for their wickedness and coming down to present day affairs he said: "In New York Tammany had become a Sodom. It had become so corrupt as to imperil the safety of the city. All should rejoice that Sodom has received such a crushing defeat, administered by righteousness.

"There are four lessons to be learned. First—A city must be built on righteousness, its commerce, politics and religion must be moral. Second—A city can be saved through righteousness; no city is hopelessly lost. The same Jehovah that warned Nineveh warned New York. Third—A city can be saved by the power of a few. Fourth—The people are the cause and the cure of corruption. The people are responsible for corruption and those who pray the loudest about corruption in politics are the people who always fail to vote.

DIAMONDS ARE A MYSTERY

First They Vanish Completely, Then They are Strangely Returned to Owner.

Mrs. Rosa E. Livingston, assistant manager of the cloak department of the Boston store, mysteriously lost $600 worth of diamonds and $85 in cash Monday of this week and Friday morning as mysteriously recovered them.

She lives at the Farnam flats, 1821 Farnam street. Late Monday evening while in her room she observed that the chamois leather pouch in which she was in the habit of carrying the money and jewels, pinned to one of her garments, was missing. She called at the home of a woman who does washing for Mrs. Livingston, thinking the valuables might have been sent there in a package of linen, but the woman indignantly resented the question. They then sought for clues elsewhere.

FIXED TO SUIT UNION PACIFIC

Overland's Owners Said to Be Well Taken Care of in Northern Pacific-Burlington Arrangement.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Evening Post says: It was said today that so much progress has been made in the details of the settlement of the Northern Pacific and Burlington situation that it will not be necessary to hold many more joint conferences. It is believed that at the Union Pacific railway directors' meetings held in this city this week the whole plan, as it affects that company's interests, was laid before the meeting, though it could not be learned today whether any official statement will be made.

A large number of the reorganized board of directors of the Burlington railway, probably half of them, will, it is understood, represent the Union Pacific railway directly, and that company will, in any event, have a half voting interest in Burlington railway affairs. There will, of course, be no extension to Salt Lake City to meet Senator Clark's road, or to any other point not fully contemplated by the Union Pacific representatives in Burlington's board. It is believed further that the agreement includes the transfer of all the Northern Pacific shareholdings of the Union Pacific interests to the new company to be organized by President J. J. Hill of the Great Northern and which will hold the control of that company and the Northern Pacific, Mr. Hill being the dominating influence in this new corporation and thus of the two northwestern railways.

He denied that rate discrimination was driving certain millers out of business. He said "agreed" rates were generally made between the railroads and individual shippers.

RAILROADS GO TO WAR AGAIN

Reduction in Running Time Starts a Merry Conflict.

MILWAUKEE WITHDRAWS FROM AGREEMENT

Decides to Give the Northwestern and Burlington a Hustle on West-bound Business Out of Chicago.

A speed war, which may also affect rates, is in sight between the Chicago-St. Paul lines, and it is probable that the Chicago-Omaha line will be involved. For several years the roads between Chicago and Omaha, Chicago and Kansas City and Chicago and St. Paul have been working under an agreement restricting them to no faster speed than thirteen and a half hours to Omaha and Kansas City and twelve hours between Chicago and St. Paul.

During the last month, however, the transcontinental lines have put on faster trains to the Pacific, materially reducing the time between Chicago and Omaha and Chicago and Kansas City. The Milwaukee road appears to have felt this competition most severely, and that it is preparing to meet it is indicated by the following notice, sent over the signature of Vice President Bird to the traffic managers of the Northwestern, Burlington, Great Western, Wisconsin Central and Rock Island.

"In view of the reduction of passenger train time between Chicago and Omaha gateway it does not appear to be desirable to continue the present arrangement as to time of passenger trains between Chicago and the St. Paul. Therefore we give notice of this action from any understanding of this office. The Milwaukee decline to say what they intend to do, but say anything could draw his own conclusions. The road has recently expended many dollars on its roadbed and track between the two cities laying rails, rebalancing, straightening curves and lowering grades. Physically the Milwaukee is now in a position to bring the matter to an issue.

The Northwestern's cut in time between Chicago and Omaha has resulted in a considerable decrease in passenger traffic of practically all routes. The Milwaukee road has therefore determined to show the Northwestern and the Burlington that if they can hurt its Chicago-Omaha business it can retaliate by running faster trains than they do between Chicago and St. Paul.

As speed wars generally result in rate wars, the traveling public has nothing to lose by the prospective fight between the western roads. It is believed that the first move of the Milwaukee in this direction will be to cut the Chicago-Omaha rate $2 below the present figure. This would give as a reason for this action that it could not afford to place in service a solid Pullman train between the two points, as the Northwestern has done, and would therefore be justified in making the differential of $2.

Executive officers of the western roads reaffirmed the old pass agreement at the recent Chicago meeting to govern the issue of free or reduced transportation during the year 1902 with few important changes. The issue of passes to owners of small private roads and to owners and employees of refrigerator or other private car lines is to be discontinued. An effort will be made to have all the roads remember the regulations better than some of them have done in the past.

It is reported in connection with the settlement of the pass question that Traffic Director Sullivan of the Harriman lines, including the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Oregon Short Line and Oregon Railway & Navigation company, has issued an order effective January 1, 1902, charging all employees of these roads 1 cent per mile for transportation. This action would abolish the issuance of employees' passes, thereby adding a considerable sum to the revenues. The plan is believed to have the endorsement of the financial heads of the system. However, no confirmation of the report can be obtained at Omaha headquarters.

THE HAIR BRUSH

Breeds Dandruff, Which Causes Falling Hair and Finally Baldness.

Prof. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says that dandruff is as contagious as any other malarious disease and that one common source of the spread of dandruff is the use of the same hair brush by different persons. The way to avoid catching dandruff or any other disease from another's brush is to insist on the use of Newbro's Herpicide. It not only kills the dandruff germ, but it is also an antiseptic that will prevent the catching of any disease whatever through contagion of another's brush.

YOUNG WOMANHOOD.

How Often it is Made Miserable by the Lack of Proper Advice at Just the Right Time.

This picture tells its own story of sisterly affection. The older girl, just budding into womanhood, has suffered greatly with those irregularities and menstrual difficulties which sap the life of so many young women.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can always be relied upon to restore health to women who thus suffer. It is a sovereign cure for the worst forms of female complaints, that bearing down feeling, weak back, falling and displacement of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries and all troubles of the uterus or womb. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in the early stage of development and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. It subdues excitability, nervous prostration, and tones up the entire female system.

Mrs. Pinkham especially invites young girls to write her about their sickness. She has made thousands of young sufferers happy.

Two young women authorize us to publish the following letters.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough. It is simply wonderful the change your medicine has made in me. Before I took your medicine I could hardly stand the pains in my back. I tried different doctors but none did me any good. I took three bottles and feel like another person. My work is now a pleasure while before it was a burden. To-day I am a well and happy girl. I think if more women would use your Vegetable Compound there would be less suffering in the world."—Miss MATHILDA J. LAGASSE, 826 9th St., New Orleans, La. (Dec. 30, 1901).

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for several months with pains in my back and sides. I felt worn out and weak. I tried many different medicines but nothing seemed to do me any good until I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking several bottles, I feel entirely well. My improvement was simply wonderful. Thanking you for the benefit I have derived from your medicine. I am sincerely yours, FANNIE CLIFTON, La Due, Mo. (Jan. 13, 1901).

Do not be persuaded that any other medicine is as good. Any dealer who suggests something else has no interest in your case. He is seeking a larger profit. Follow the record of this medicine and remember that these thousands of cures of women whose letters are constantly printed in this paper were not brought about by "something else," but by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

$5000 REWARD. Owing to the fact that some skeptical people have from time to time questioned the genuineness of the testimonials letters we are constantly publishing we have deposited with the National City Bank of Lyons, Mass., $5000, which will be paid to any person who will show that the above testimonials are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writers' special permission.—Lydia E.
