SOUNDS GOOD TO WEST POINT

News of Alleged Fake Sprinter's Exposure Recalls Sheriff's Less.

PHILLIPS IS STILL MANY DOLLARS OUT

Emissary from Carthage, Where Bace and Battle Occurred, Brought Only Partial Reimbursement of His Heavy Loss.

WEST POINT, Neb., Nov. 29 .- (Special.) The arrest of Edward Cherry and Leon Lozier, alias Gillette and Stansberry, at Fort Scott, Kan., and the exposure of their over every hamlet and city in our land. alleged criminal records has bearing on an incident that occurred here recently in which the same men figured. On the occasion of the old settlers' picnic in this city, on August 22 last there appeared among the crowd two strangers, who announced themselves as footracers and allround sports. As West Point itself boasts quite a fraternity of sports it was not long before the strangers were the center of an admiring throng. The taller man as the result of a catarrhal attack. of the two announced himself as Cherry of Detroit, Mich., and the smaller and younger man gave the name of Leon Lozier. He was a smooth and gith talker. It soon became rumored that Cherry was speedy and that he could outrun anything heretofore tried in this vicinity. No attempt was made here to get up a race, but it was intimated that if Cherry could get suitable backing he knew of places where the people would pin their faith to a local runner and it would be a very easy thing to rake in the ducats betting on Cherry's speed.

Sorry Day for Sheriff Phillips. In the crowd that was attracted by the appearance of this pair was the sheriff of Juming county, Henry W. Phillips, himself a lover of sports, but a man of good standing, absolutely fearless and brave to a fault. He embraced the opportunity thus so fortunately offered him and immediately closed the bargain whereby he was to become the financial sponsor of Mr. Cherry. whilst Mr. Lozier was to act as business

It was to this fact that he perhaps owes his escape from total financial ruin.

Missourians Eager to Be Shown. It was stated by the two men that there was a certain county in Missouri, of which Carthage is the county seat, in and around which were living an exceedingly sporty set bet their money on foot races, and that it would be an easy thing for Mr. Cherry to vanquish any opponent they could place it was prosperous, but recently the old against him in the race. Carthage, rival towns, and the sports of both places were in attendance in great numbers. The Detroit friend of the sheriff. Cherry, was the champion chosen to represent Carthage. Betting was heavy, the odds being slightly in favor of Cherry, and Sheriff Phillips, being perfectly sure of his man Cherry, is reliably reported to have bet over $5,000 some of this he had borrowed from friends for the purpose, and for the rest he risked every dollar he had Phillips Makes an Arrest.

It did not take the sheriff long to discover that he had been buncoed, and who had done it, and remembering the episode of the $85, which had been fraudulently obtained in his name at West Point, he called upon the local sheriff, who was on the spot. o arrest the two conspirators.

The sheriff reluctantly made a move toward Cherry, while Phillips covered Lozier with his revolver and ordered him to submit to arrest. Cherry at this made an attempt to escape to a nearby cornfield and ran some distance, until he was intercepted by a wire fence, when his capture was accomplished by the Missouri sheriff.

In the meantime Lozier remained covered by the revolver of Sheriff Phillips, who of considerable magnitude were made at was proceeding to round him up when nine Stuart this week. Everyone of the nine weapons was leveled at the sheriff and the consideration being $12,000. This is he was commanded to release the prisoner. Minnesota game will be played in Lincoln, one of the largest real estate deals ever Things at this time looked rather discouraging for the Nebraska man. The sympathy of the entire community seemed to Stuart sold 640 acres to E. S. Shugart, the be with the gang, and the lawless appearance and character of the ruffians who had the drop on the sheriff would have cowed many a man in his position.

Declines to Let Go Despite Guns.

But in spite of his danger and the heavy odds against him he held to his man Boys," said the sheriff, "this is my prisoner. I am going to hold him. Shoot it you want to, I can only die once, but while you are getting him I will down one or two of you. I am going to hold him." One by one the weapons were lowered and the sheriff was allowed to escort both prisoners to the county jail. A charge was preferred against both men of obtaining money under false pretenses and telegraphic instructions were imme diately sent to West Point and requisition papers obtained for the crime committed in Nebraska, and in a few hours an officer from Cuming county was on his way to Jefferson City to obtain the governor's warrant of extradition. In the meantime the two alleged conspirators gave bail in the sum of $2,700 and upon their release from jail immediately decamped. When the Cuming county officer arrived he found the birds had flown. The bail was declared forfeited and the sheriff returned home a sadder and a wiser man. A short time afterward a man appeared attorney from Carthage and claiming to represent Cherry and Lozier. He stated that he had with him the $2,700 of forfeited bail and handed that amount, less the fees and expenses to Mr. Phillips, netting the sheriff $2,300.

The-deal cost the Cuming county man nearly $3,000, an amount which he was unable to lose and which represented the savings of a lifetime.

There is believed to be an organized gang of swindlers operating in this manner through Missouri, southern Nebraska and Kansas, and a conspiracy formed in which the two principal actors, Lozier and Cherry, alias Gillette, and Stansberry, are the decoy ducks, with a number of prominent citizens of the Missouri town concerned.
