Greenman Severely Rarned.

Frank Greenman of truck No. 1 about this time was severely burned about the face and hands and temporarily blinded by a sheet of flame which burst out upor him unexpectedly as he worked inside the burning building.

Chief Salter was cut on the right hand by a falling glass from one of the front windows. The chief wrapped the injured member in a handkerchief and continued to fight the fire. After the flames had been extinguished he was taken to the police station and Assistant Police Surgeon Benawa took a couple of stitches in the wound. Two freight cars loeded with butter tubs, standing under the west wall of the building, were partially crushed under the falling walls. By 10:15 the fire was under control, but it was easily seen that both building and contents were a total loss. Nothing but the tottering walls of the structure remain. All street car service on Parnam. Dodge and Harney street lines was discontinued for an bour.

Cause of Fire Unknown. The building was occupied by the Creamery Package Manufacturing company, of which S. L. Kelley is the manager. Mr. Kelley was at the scene of the fire early and

"The cause of the fire is unknown to me We have had no fire in the building outside of the office. I left the office at noon and everything was all right. The firemen say that when they arrived the fire had apparently been burning twenty minutes and that at that time it was confined to the southern part of the house

"Our stock in the building was of a mos inflammable sort, consisting of egg cases, butter firking and creamery supplies. Its value was between $50,000 and $60,000. It was insured for approximately $35,000, although I cannot give the exact amount, as the insurance was placed by the general manager in Chicago with companies in that "I have made arrangements to office temporarily at the Omaha Cold Storage company, Eleventh and Jackson streets. Meanwhile all orders will be filled from our Kan sas City house."

Erected in Eighty-Six.

The building was erected in 1886 by G. A. Lindquist, an Omaha tailor, at a cost of $30,000. It was for many years occupied by the Richardson Drug company. The Creamery Supply company has been in the building about two years and rented November 1 a space measuring 125x22 feet on the west side of the second floor to the Lewis Supply company. This latter concern, with headquarters in Kansas City, purposed establishing a branch here and had sent S. G. Murphy to be its manager. The company had shipped goods, such as belting and packing, to an amount the value of which Mr. Murphy roughly estimates at between $5,000 and $6,000. These goods had been installed in the rented room and were entirely consumed. Some insurance on them had been taken out with a Chicago company, but the amount Mr. Murphy does not know. He presumes that the company's instructions will be to rent quarters elsewhere rather than abandon so promising a tralia will be next to demand their libdistributing point as Omaha. Some freight cars on a track near the burned building fae stepping stone to the freedom of other country at Washington, has departed for tained butter tubs for the Creamery Package company and another was loaded with additional stock for the Lewis company's branch.

Manager Kelley of the creamery company that the building measured 133x66 feet and that his company had the base- Chinese Press Comments on Reactionment filled with butter tubs and cheese boxes, the first floor with the office fixtures, two and a half cars of boilers and steam engines, including one carload of the latter unloaded only last week and such miscellaneous supplies as egg cases. His company's half of the second floor was occupied by egg cases and salt, the third floor by butter boxes and other perquisites of the milch cows' adjunct and the fourth floor, which was the top one, ing its memorable flight from Pekin, and with chicken coops, butter tubs, milk cans, churns and similar supplies.

Mhafta Cause Quick Spread. The origin of the fire has not yet been learned. There was nothing in the building that Mr. Kelley considers susceptible to spontaneous combustion and the only fire was in a small heating stove in the office in the front of the building, whereas the flames were first seen at least half way to the rear. Close to the back wall were two freight elevators, one a main-strengthend-awkwardness affair seldom used. The theory is that these shafts made possible lowest to the top floor, Mr. Ken; says also that the electric wiring, which exfective somewhere and started the blaze, Canton.

Double firewalls and the constant play of water saved the substantial new building viaduct and erected scarcely a year ago for the occupancy of the T. G. To the west of the turned building the first neighbor is the National Paint and Oil company, but its one-story, brick store TO was in no danger, as the wind blew from the northwest and thirty or more feet of vacant ground intervened between the two structures.

Hose Cart Horses Run Away. While returning home from the fire the horses hitched to hose cart No. 2 became unmanageable when at Eleventh and Harney streets and ran away. At the alley next to Farnam street the team collided with a telephone pole and broke loose from the cart. They were shortly afterward stopped by Police Officer Kissane. Amusements.

"In Old Kentucky," C. T. Dazey's comedyframa success, was given a single performance Sunday evening to an audience that packed the theater from pit to dome. The play, which has been one of the most profitable pieces of theatrical property of recent years having played to nearly $500 .-000 since it was first produced, is presented by a company of average merit throughout It is under the management of Jacob Litts, whose productions are always elaborate and well in keeping with the play. The performance is one of general excellence. The Whangdoodle Piccaninny band is one of the cruiser Dixle from Naples to Smyrna has features and easily played itself into the good graces of the audience. The race scene, in which Queen Bess saves the day and incidentally the fortunes of several of the people in the play, was realistic and brought forth an enthusiastic demonstra-

The Orpheum. While there is nothing particularly novel and no act of especial strength upon the week's vaudeville program given its initial presentation at the Orpheum Sunday afternoon, it is one that furnishes an acceptable evening's entertainment. The principal point in its favor is its wholesomeness. The Faust family of acrobats is perhaps entitled to the headline position upon the bill. There are nine of them, three men and six children, the latter ranging in ago from 5 to 12. The act is not unlike that of the nine Nelsons, although the finish so noticeable in the work of the Nelsons i lacking. John Geiger, a trick violinist of ability, does clever imitations of bagpipes, church organs and other instruments. Thorne and Carlton have a fund of bright repartee and their act keeps the audience in laughter. Mignonette Kokin does a graceful little dancing act, and gives several imitations of different types of English music hall singers. Mitchell and Bernard sing ballads and popular songs and Emily Lytton and William De Wolf do a laughable one-act sketch, entitled, "A Perfect Lady." The kinedrome completes the CONTROL OF ST. LOUIS CLUB Question to Be Settled by American Lengue Magnates at Chi-

CHICAGO. Dec. 1.—The majority of the leaders of the American Base Ball league arrived here tonight to attend the annual meeting of the league tomorrow, when plans for the coming season will be perfected. With the clubs at Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore strongly fortified, it leaves the allotment of stock in the new club at St. Louis the only vital question to be settled.

The Killcas of Milwaukee have been given a chance to assume control of the St. Louis club, but from the present outlook St. Louis capital will control the team, although President Johnson refused tonight to commit himself on the actual identity of its backers.

The rest of the meeting, it is claimed, will be the consideration of the present of the meeting it is calmed, will be the consideration. be taken up with the formal consideration of the league's work during the last season.
