

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Only Three School Directors Turn Out for Special Meeting.

LAWYER BREEN ANSWERS MAYOR KELLY

Denies that Health Board Can Close the Schools Under Existing Circumstances—Other News from Magic City.

Only three members of the Board of Education answered the call for a special meeting last night, although all of the members of the Board of Health were in evidence. The question was, could or should the Board of Health enforce the order of compulsory vaccination.

Attorney Breen, representing the board, took occasion to remark that he would not deem it advisable to enforce compulsory vaccination. He further said that under the existing laws such an order could not be enforced.

Mayor Kelly took exception to this statement of Mr. Breen and remarked: "Do you mean to say, Judge Breen, that the Board of Health cannot close the public schools if it sees fit?"

Mr. Breen replied promptly that such action could not be carried out unless there was an epidemic, and as there is nothing of the sort, the schools could not be closed. It is rumored that the Board of Health will now proceed to make some trouble for the Board of Education.

Troop Meets Again.

There was a well-attended meeting of the South Omaha cavalry troop at the chamber last night. Captain Holland was in the chair and Mr. McCulloch, the first lieutenant, acted as secretary. There was some discussion about the selection of a suitable hall for headquarters. For temporary purposes Koutsky's hall will be used, but more than likely the troop, when mustered in, will erect a hall of its own.

Harry Dell was appointed veterinary surgeon. Captain Holland made a change in trumpeters by substituting H. P. Cote for Jack Cowan.

All of the three commissioned officers are studiously reading tactics these days and when the first drill is held it is expected that those in command will have acquired quite a knowledge of military affairs.

Rev. Dr. R. L. Wheeler, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was elected chaplain.

A meeting for the purpose of drilling will be held at Koutsky's hall on Wednesday night.

Candidates Hustling.

From present indications there is going to be quite a scramble among the candidates for mayor to see who will get the endorsement of the labor unions. Rumor had it that W. G. Sloane was going to be endorsed by the executive committee of the local labor union, but this has been denied by labor leaders. It has been asserted by some of the members of the labor unions that if anyone is entitled to recognition it is Enzor. They say that during the trouble of 1898 Enzor, who was then mayor, prevented the sheriff from seizing deputies down here to protect the corporation interests. John Henry Loechner is also looking for the labor endorsement. Mayor Kelly and Frank Koutsky, on the republican side, are working for the same favor and it may be that the labor people will name a separate candidate instead of making any endorsements.

Bogus Checks Being Floated.

Occasionally the business men of South Omaha who cash checks find some of them worthless. Within the last day or two several worthless checks for small amounts have been passed on business men. The matter has been referred to the police, but it is surmised that the dealer in checks of this kind has left the city.

Cohn for Court Reporter.

The South Omaha Bar association has asked Judge Guy R. C. Read to appoint Attorney Harry L. Cohn as his court reporter. The South Omaha attorneys supported Attorney A. H. Murdoch for the position Judge Read is to hold and after their efforts in this direction failed they immediately turned their attention to getting Mr. Cohn this place.

Warrant Buyers Slow.

City Treasurer Koutsky said yesterday that only one holder of city warrants had called to have his paper redeemed. The city stopped the payment of interest on the last call on January 25. Naturally the city officials would like to have these warrants taken up as soon as possible, as the money is in the bank available for the purpose. As long as the interest has been stopped by due notice the only idea of urging the warrants brought in at once is the clearing up of the records in the treasurer's office.

Scott is Working.

Lem Scott, who is supposed to be city billposter, is working, although the revised ordinance creating the office of city billposter has not been passed by the council. Scott goes on the theory that he was appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the council and he isn't paying any attention to anything just now but the collection of fees from those who have bills to post.

German-Americans Elect Officers.

At the last meeting of the German-American Democratic club these officers were elected: Henry Oest, president; Frank Christmann, vice president; F. Mertens, secretary; Paul Weisel, treasurer. This club meets Sunday afternoons at the hall at Twentieth and Missouri avenue.

Taking the Hint.

It was reported through the press a day ago that the mayor proposed to have citizens and business men clean the snow off the walks or enforce the order by the police. The hint has been taken and local merchants were having their walks cleaned yesterday. An ordinance of the city imposes a fine for neglecting to keep the walks clean, but it has not been enforced.

Magie City Gossip.

C. A. Melcher is out again after a short illness. Patrick Martin, who has been seriously ill, was reported better yesterday. Dr. William Henry Loechner is now taking a course at Guy's hospital in London. There will be a meeting of the Young Men's Republican club at Kells' hall tonight. Frank J. Little came up from Lincoln yesterday to spend a day or two with friends. The Magic City King's Daughters will meet with Mrs. James H. VanDusen Thursday afternoon. The ladies of the Magie City will attend the funeral of Mrs. Bartella Brown, Forty-second and U streets, this afternoon. The grand master workman of the Ancient Order of United Workmen will meet members of Workman lodge No. 96 at the hall tonight. P. B. HAIGHT & CO. SELL OUT.

REDELL SEEKS INJUNCTION

Temporary Order of Court Prevents Trial Set for Tuesday.

HEARING IN COURT COMES THURSDAY

Suspended Chief Avers that Present Fire and Police Commissioners Are Merely "Pretenders" and Are Without Authority.

Judge Lee Estelle issued a restraining order yesterday preventing the trial of John Redell, suspended chief of the fire department, which was to have commenced today, and setting 9:45 a. m., January 30, as the time for the hearing of the application for a temporary injunction.

Judge Estelle's order restrains until the further order of the court Mayor Frank E. Moore and the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners from "bearing or attempting to hear the charges filed by John W. Bruder against the plaintiff and from removing or attempting to remove the plaintiff from the office of chief of the fire department of Omaha and from trying or attempting to try the said plaintiff upon any of the charges or specifications before mentioned, upon the plaintiff giving bond as conditioned by law in the sum of $100."

Daniel H. Wheeler signed the injunction bond with the attorney, Loechner, and as in his petition Redell reiterates that under the laws of Nebraska the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners must be appointed by the governor; that the defendants have never received such appointment and only claim right to office by reason of an ordinance "pretending to create" such a board and authorizing the appointment of its members by the mayor, which ordinance the petitioner avers is in direct conflict with the statutes of Nebraska.

The petition describes the members of the present board, excepting the mayor, as "mere intruders in said office," and as acting or attempting to act without color of right. The petitioner further sets forth that he was appointed in a year left blank in his petition by the then acting mayor and board, and that before he can be removed there must be a charge filed against him with the board, but that the present board has not the right to hear such charges. He avers that Bruder has withdrawn the charges he made, that there are no charges before the board now, and that its members are simply "conniving and conspiring" to rob him of his office.

Announcements of the Theaters.

Mary Mannering, Frank McKee's new star, who will be seen at the Boyd tonight, Wednesday matinee and night, in a dramatic version of Paul Leicester Ford's "Janet Meredith" is a distinctly womanly star—that is, she is wonderfully popular, and everywhere she has played this season, her audiences have been conspicuous for the extraordinarily large number of women in attendance.

"Maloney's Wedding Day" which is playing a limited engagement at the Trocadero, closes with this afternoon and evening performances. Attendance has been very good in spite of the extremely cold weather.

"The Twentieth Century Girls" are undervalued for the balance of the week, with the exception of Saturday evening, when Farmer Burns and Pete Carroll, champions of the Pacific coast are scheduled for a wrestling exhibition. Commencing Sunday matinee the management announces "The Little Magnet Bureaucracy." Considerable interest has been aroused over the announcement of the coming amateur night in the near future. A long list of amateurs have been secured, who will present the best program of this kind ever witnessed in Omaha.

HAY LAND GOOD INVESTMENT

So Says T. B. Irwin, Farmer and Stock Raiser from Sheridan County.

T. B. Irwin of Gordon, Neb., is at the Merchants. He said: "The condition of the farms and stock raising around Gordon was never better. The price of land has advanced greatly. A few years ago good hay land was selling at $3 and $4 per acre. Last week one tract of about 600 acres sold for $6,000 and the land is selling steadily at $1,000 to $1,500 per quarter section. When you come to consider the revenue this is really cheap. Last fall I put up a large lot of hay, expecting to feed it, as I believed that I would have to carry over 400 3-year-old steers. The price of cattle kept up so well that I sold and found myself with $1,000 of cash. This I sold this winter for $3.50 per ton in the stack. The hay land which I speak of will raise from one and one-half to two tons to the acre, which can be harvested at a cost of about 75 cents per ton, netting $2.75 per ton, or $5.50 per acre.

There is likely to be a scarcity of feeding cattle on the range around Gordon next fall and I look to see higher prices. When the drought struck the country in the spring the cattlemen believed that they would have to carry over their entire stock and preparations were made for this. However, investigation shows that the feeders have been sold closer this year in this section of the state than for many years. After I sold my string of steers I looked around for some cattle to consume my hay, but could find none which would warrant the investment.

Formal announcement has been made of the promotion of J. E. Buckingham to be assistant general passenger agent of the Burlington. Mr. Buckingham has been chief clerk in the office for four years, having started there twelve years ago as stenographer and worked up to his present position through all the grades.

Guy H. Cramer will now be chief clerk, and Mr. Cramer's place at the rate desk will be taken by Mr. Lewis. All these changes have been in acting effect for some weeks, and their permanency was generally known to be a fact. They date officially from February 1.

Elika's Fair Notes.

At the last meeting of Council Bluffs lodge it was voted to make Tuesday, February 1, as the night at the Elika. Louise Dresser has dressed a doll for the fair, which was forwarded by her from Detroit on Sunday last, and is due here today.

The Creighton University sextette, a band organization, accompanied by Miss Lillian Bushmap, has volunteered its services at the Elika's fair for next Friday evening.

Word was received yesterday from Mrs. Dollie Nobles that a doll dressed by herself and named as she appears in her part of Rita in "Love and Law" would be expressed from New York, due here on Thursday morning.

The pedigree of the Paxton standard bred colt was received yesterday from the American Trotting Register of Chicago. The official certificate shows that the colt bears the name of "The Elika" and its number is 35,584. It was framed and exhibited in a Farnam street window.

Gall and Wormwood

Are two articles carried in small quantities in most drug stores, but judging from the "grouchy" looks and calamity howls which emanate from some of Omaha's drug shops they must have a surplus stock on hand. You see it makes them so sore because they can't keep up from buying goods. We're on the block, but you know, but really we can buy goods cheaper now than ever before. So we're all we want, too. That's why we sell them so cheap—we wouldn't tell you "we told you so"—because that's been said so many times, but we had a pretty good idea that Welch would turn on some chest protection weather before many moons—and didn't he—and we've got some chest protection weather and the way we are slaughtering the prices on Frost Kings and Queens, they won't last long. Don't you want one? If so, better get our prices.

If the woman at work should make answer to the other woman, she might, perhaps, say: "You never had to scrub and clean when your back ached so that it seemed that every movement would break it in two." It's bad enough for a woman to suffer. But when she must suffer and slave at the same time she reaches the limit of her endurance. Weak women who have been made strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, recommended it to others as a godsend. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.
