Embroideries—

Our customers say our embroideries are the prettiest in the city, and they ought to know.

For variety of patterns, exquisite workmanship and fine texture we claim the first rank.

Much of the work can scarcely be distinguished from real hand embroidery, in fact the hand does guide the fine work, as it passes through the machine.

Then the more common embroideries known as "Schiffis," are pretty too and durable, and are found in great variety of designs.

The stock is too large to quote prices, but from the least to the finest, we think we can please you. See our window display.

SECRETARY SHAW IN OFFICE

Iowa is Well Represented at Wearing-in of New Secretary.

SMITH HOPES FOR BLUFFS APPROPRIATION

Representative Cousins Successfully Traces Action to Prevent Spread of Smallpox Among Iowa Indians.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—The event of chief importance today so far as the west was concerned was the induction of ex-Governor Leslie M. Shaw of Iowa into the office of the secretary of the War department.

Secretary Shaw was the first to congratulate the new secretary. Then ex-Secretary Gage gave the hand of the Iowa man a hearty shake and said: "I wish you every success, and hope your administration will be brilliant."

To this the new secretary responded: "If it means anything to anything like my presence, I shall feel that my work has not been without some measure of compensation."

After the congratulations, the new and old secretaries held a reception, meeting and shaking every employe by the hand, and the Governor Shaw was the first to come, the other guests at his going.

Iowa Well Represented. With but three exceptions the entire congressional delegation from Iowa was present for the ceremony. Senator Allison was away by reason of an important committee meeting. In addition to the delegation there were present: George E. Roberts, director of the mint; E. P. Seelye, deputy auditor of the War department; Judge Fuller, assistant attorney general of the Spanish claims commission; H. W. Hoyer, editor from Oelwein; F. J. Stillman, disbursing officer of the house of representatives; J. B. Brewster of Oskaloosa, M. D. O'Connell, solicitor for the treasury; Davison Fellows of Wausau, I. A. Kanson and W. W. Alsworth, secretary of the Iowa Board of Railway Commissioners.

At noon Secretary Gage turned over the office to his successor, who began business like an old hand. It is freely predicted that Governor Shaw will make one of the best secretaries the treasury has ever had, and he starts in under exceptionally favorable circumstances.

Secretary Gage remained in conference with his successor an hour or more and then left the department. He will go to New York tomorrow on Monday to remain a few days, and in the course of two or three days will go to Florida for a rest of two or three months. From that time his movements have not been definitely decided upon, but it is altogether probable that he will return to Chicago and accept the presidency of a large trust company in that city.

Council Bluffs Postoffice. Walter I. Smith of the Council Bluffs district in congress, expects to leave for home tomorrow, being called there by an important mining case. Speaking of his effort to get an appropriation of $10,000 to purchase additional land adjacent to the present postoffice in Council Bluffs, he said he did not know whether it would be necessary to go before the public building and grounds committee. He hoped to get the modest amount asked for on the general appropriation bills, and was planning to that end.

Senator Millard today recommended Dr. O. H. Crane of Alnsworth for a position on the pension board at that place. J. A. Munroe of the Union Pacific left for Chicago today, having finished the work which called him to Washington.

Constant Crusade Against Epidemic. Representative Cousins of Iowa has introduced the senate committee on appropriations to retain in the urgency deficiency bill an appropriation of $70,000 to prevent the spread of smallpox. The committee, however, has, in view of certain legal decisions in Iowa growing out of the conditions on the Sac and Fox reservation, attached a clause to the appropriation bill giving the authorities the right to quarantine the spread of the disease, and if necessary to destroy the clothing and tepees of the Indians to stamp it out.

Should this clause become a law it is likely it will be of considerable aid to the authorities in the counties surrounding the Omaha and Nebraska reservation, as it was asserted during the recent smallpox scare that the officials had no authority to destroy clothing nor to quarantine the Indians.

The Ninth infantry, which was originally ordered to proceed to the Dakotas on its arrival in this country from the Philippines, will be sent to the Department of the East at the earnest solicitation of influential members of the New York delegation.

D. H. Meyerhoff, mayor of Corning, Ia., who has been visiting friends in the east, called on Congressman Hepburn upon the president today and had a pleasant talk with the chief executive.

Credit for Sioux Indians. Senator Gamble is desirous of securing for the Sioux Indians credit of $4,500,000 said to be due them under the treaty of 1859. He saw the secretary of the committee of Indian affairs and the assistant secretary general for the department today in reference to the matter and if they find that the fund cannot be credited to the Indians without legislation, Mr. Gamble will take the necessary steps to secure it for them in congress.

R. C. Hays of Deadwood, who has been here for several days, left for the west this evening.

Captain Seth Bullock of Deadwood went to New York this evening. He has been in Washington on business with the interior department for some days.

A. E. Lynn of the county, Iowa, a wealthy farmer of that section, who has been on a visit to the capital for some days, left for home tonight.

Representative Hill of Iowa, whose rural free delivery routes have been held up for some months, was today notified by the postoffice department that eight will be established in his district next month.

Department Notes. These rural free delivery routes will be established in Iowa March 1: Bussey, Marion county, area forty-two square miles, population 1,135; W. C. Bradley, W. D. Bradley, carriers. BIDDLES DIE IN JAIL

This matter, my own darling, but I would rather you go tomorrow, just as I have received.

Watch the papers close and if you see they have traced any part of the way, cross over the suspension bridge into Montreal. Leave letter in the Toronto office for me and as you get into the city, in Montreal write me a letter to the postoffice there, all in signs, where you are. Montreal is a city of a million people, keep low until I reach you.

Biddle then accuses her of accompanying another man to the theater and other places and tells her that this conduct is breaking his heart, but adds, "Just the same, I am yours, yours only."

Repeats His Instructions. The writer takes occasion to reiterate his instructions, because she seemed not to fully understand. He says:

It doesn't do to have too much red tape about it. You must think for yourself. It will be easy for you to go to Buffalo, then to Niagara, which is twenty-four miles from Buffalo. From there take a bus and cross over the suspension bridge into Canada. You will meet custom house officers when you reach Montreal. They will go to a bank, get your American money changed to Canadian money, then ask some boy or woman to go to the Grand Trunk railway station. Get a ticket for Toronto.

The reason I have you take so much caution is that they will try to trace you to find out about the suspension bridge. If they do, they will come to a realization that you and I are together, to find her and you will get the Biddle's money.

So I want you to "smother every track you make. Don't let them trace you from Pittsburgh as they are going to do. So that no one will know you if they are shown your photograph. Do for yourself. If they do, they will trace you to Buffalo. If they do, they will trace you to Buffalo. If they do, they will trace you to Buffalo.

Hide your morphine in the lining of your dress somewhere, so if you are searched no one could find it, and in case the worst comes to worst, you will have it to use because if any one knew you took it the doctors would pump it out with a stomach pump.

Now, pat, if you go Monday let me know as early as you can. Come close to the window and say "I will see you in half an hour if it is very light outside. If you go tomorrow, I will see you in a morning night or Monday night. And now, dear, be sure and don't keep me any longer, pat. If you are going to Buffalo, tell me. Then you will give me permission to go. Everything has been ready since Friday. Now, if you are going to Buffalo, I shall be a free man or a dead one. Dear that in mind, I think that friend of yours made you like him of late. If that is the case just hang on to him and let me go peacefully. And now, should you take me into your heart to do wrong, thinking that I would not know you would make a sad mistake.

Doubts Woman's Wisdom. If you were to let me go ahead without it and then get me caught I would kill every keeper in the place and Dorman with them and you would be free. I tell you, I'm not to be betrayed. I don't say, my dear, that you would try to do me wrong, but you are going to Buffalo, and I am changeable as one, and so I thought I would remind you of something that a woman don't look very deep into things. Let a woman know you love her and the life is in you. You.

P. S.—You did not tell me you got the money. Now, after reading this letter

Are entirely free from it. It may develop so slowly as to cause little if any disturbance during the whole period of childhood.

It may then produce irregularity of the stomach and bowels, dizziness, catarrh, and marked tendency to consumption before manifesting itself in such cutaneous eruptions or glandular swellings.

make up your mind then and there, for there is nothing you can say that will keep me another day here, and alive. Tell me if you are going to stay, in case you stay I will fix it on some one else as near as I can then. Don't say that I am hasty now, for you can't fall to see the predicament we are in this minute—a man on the outside with our secret in his hands. Goodby, my own sweet darling. I love you now and always will better than the world, farewell. Love from Jack. Remember, there will be no changes.

Officers Covet the Bodies. In spite of the amicable agreement concerning the disposition of the prisoners entered in today by the district attorneys of Butler and Allegheny counties, the quarrel broke out afresh tonight. When Detectives Roach and Schwehart of Pittsburgh, who had been appointed by District Attorney Haymaker to represent Allegheny county, heard of the approaching death of Jack Biddle, they hastened to the jail, but were refused admission by Sheriff Hoop. The latter said the two men were dying, and no person should be admitted. The Pittsburgh officers claimed their right under the agreement, but the sheriff was obdurate and Roach and Schwehart were forced to retire and telegraph home for instructions. District Attorney Haymaker's reply was to the effect that the trouble was a company business, and the result of a misunderstanding by the minor jail officials. He thinks that the trouble will vanish when the objecting officers learn that the $5,000 reward offered by Allegheny county was for the delivery of the bodies, dead or alive, into the possession of the county commission. Should the Butler county officials succeed in retaining possession of the prisoners they could not share in the reward because the conditions have not been fulfilled.

ERRING BINGHAM GIVES UP

Kansas City Aristocrat Confesses Forgery and Surrenders to Police.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 1.—Rollin Bingham, a member of one of the first families of Missouri, has surrendered to the police at Dallas, Tex., and asked to be returned here to stand trial on the charge of forging deeds to property in Kansas City twelve years ago.

Bingham has been a fugitive from justice since November, 1890. His whereabouts was made known to County Prosecutor Hadley, to whom he sent a letter offering to surrender. Bingham, according to his letter, is penniless and ill. Officers will leave for Texas tonight to bring him here. Rollin Bingham before he fled from Kansas City was prominent in politics and was a leader in society. He is the son of General G. C. Bingham, artist, writer, politician and one of the best known men in Missouri. Bingham forged the name of his stepmother securing $20,000. He had, it is supposed, spent his money recklessly in speculation and in other ways.

Bingham in the course of his letter admits the forgeries and makes the unusual statement that he committed them to save his stepmother's property. He says: "She was defendant in a suit that, as a lawyer, I knew must, if followed up, go against her and make her poor. I never had much myself really, but was so anxious to save her that I thought probably by some way I could make a great deal of money so that a judgment against her would not cripple her."

General Bingham was three times married. His second wife, Rollin's stepmother, died in 1890. This Mrs. Bingham had always treated Rollin as if he were her own son, despite the fact that she was well aware of his dissipation and had tried vainly to turn him from them. About a month before her death Mrs. Bingham told her attorney that she had discovered that certain property held by her in trust had been incumbered by a forged deed of trust. An investigation that followed disclosed other forgeries that made a total loss of $20,000 and Bingham was indicted.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—It is definitely stated by the Herald that the glucose-starch combination has now reached a stage at which the promoters feel assured of its success. The underwriting has been completed and it is believed the deal will be closed before the end of February. At the end of that time unless the unforeseen occurs the corn products combination will have been organized in New Jersey with a capital of $50,000,000. SCHOOL TEACHER'S PLIGHT

Caroline King Vainly Tries Poison and is Mained by Frost.

Laudanum is Mercifully Weakened, but Unfortunate Almost Perishes from the Cold, Wandering About Hanson Park.

Caroline King, school teacher, aged 23 years, will probably lose portions of both her feet from freezing, as a result of an unsuccessful attempt to take her own life. The young woman's home is with her sister, Mrs. William E. Gaston, 1604 North Twenty-seventh street. She is now at St. Joseph's hospital.

Miss King left the home of her sister Friday morning, informing no one of her intentions, nor where she was going. According to the story she told the police last night, she left home with the intention of killing herself. She walked to Dundee and later in the day returned to town and spent the afternoon at the public library and in the stores. Early in the evening she went to a drug store in the neighborhood of Hanson park and bought some laudanum. The clerk, she said, hesitated about selling it to her, but after much questioning, and after she had insisted that she wanted the drug for toothache, he sold it to her. The woman then went into the park and took the contents of the bottle. The poison, she said, had no doubt, been weakened, for it only made her drowsy. She wandered around the park until she became exhausted and then went to sleep. She spent the entire night in the park. Saturday she wandered around aimlessly, suffering from the cold and hunger until late in the evening, when she went to the home of a family named McLaury, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth on Martha street. The family recognized her and did all they could to relieve her sufferings.

The clothing on the woman was frozen to her body and her shoes were stiff. The police were notified and the woman was taken to the police station in the ambulance. She was attended by Police Surgeon Borglum and later removed to St. Joseph's hospital. Her feet were frozen so that it is probable amputation will be necessary.

Miss King said that she was a school teacher, formerly of Iowa, and that some time ago she came to Omaha to make her home with her sister. She had applied for a position in the schools and being unsuccessful had tried to secure a position at anything. She had repeatedly failed, and having no money, had decided to end her wretched life.

W. E. Gaston, brother-in-law of the woman, was notified and went to see her at the station. He knew of no reason why the woman should take her life, as her home life had always been pleasant.

About $4,000,000 in cash has been raised by the sale of the new stock and the underwriting was subscribed three times over.

The combination will have a daily capacity of 250,000 bushels of corn. It is expected that much of the expensive price cutting will be done away with entirely.
