Grant Use of Public Highways for Terminals and Depots-Merchants on South Avenue and Third Street Protest.

Two ordinances in the interest of the Great Western railroad were introduced at the meeting of the city council last night. One granted the railroad a rightof-way over certain streets and alleys in the city while the other provided for the vacation of certain streets, portions of streets and alleys. Both measures were passed to their second reading and then referred to the committee of the whole. The right-of-way ordinance grants the Mason City & Fort Dodge Ratiroad company, by which name the extension of the Great Western from Fort Dodge to this city is known, permission and authority to locate its railroad and to lay down, maintain and operate two or more main tracks, turnouts, switches, etc., along the route from Eighth avenue and Thirteenth street where connection is had with the Omaha Bridge and Terminal tracks to the city limits. The route as outlined in the ordinance is along Ninth avenue to Fourth street thence southeasterly to Wabash yards thence across Tostevin street thence in a southeasterly direction parallel with South avenue and across Woodbury avenue and thence in a northeasterly direction to the city limits.

Location for Freight Depot.

One section of the ordinance gives the railroad permission to erect its freight depot on Ninth avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets and to project depot ten feet into the avenue. Also grants the railroad permission to occupy all of Ninth avenue south of the south curb line from Sixth street to Eleventh street for an approach to any team tracks that the railroad may maintain and operate. The vacation ordinance provides for the

A protest signed by thirty-two mercha and business men on South Main street was filed objecting to the ratiroad absorbing 2,500 South avenue and Third street on the grounds that it would injure their trade 2,500 and drive farmers to seek another market for their products and to do their trading elsewhere. South avenue, the protesters assert was the main highway to the city from the country southwest of the cky. A protest was also filed by residents in the neighborhood of South avenue.

An ordinance vacating the alley in Cochran addition through the property recently purchased by the school district for the Second avenue school was passed under a suspension of the rules.

An ordinance granting the Groneweg & Schoentgen company permission to build an elevated plank sidewalk or platform along the side of their proposed warehouse on Ninth street and Broadway was introduced and referred to the committee of the whole Under the plan proposed this sidewalk would be three feet eight inches above the present grade. Bill is Introduced Appropriating Funds for Structure On Ground Owned by the State in Des Moines.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Feb. 3 .- (Special Telegram.)-An important step was taken in legislative work this afternoon by the senate ways and means committee in the appointment of a sub-committee, consisting of Senatore Junkin, Healey, Lewis and Porter, to make thorough investigation of the question of railroad assessments and taxation and report a bill thereon.

Senator Healey presented the matter to the committee and suggested, in view of the recommendations of Governor Cummins and of Lieutenant Governor Herriott that some definite action is expected of the legislature. It is desired that some better method be employed for making the assessment, so that the railroads shall pay their share of taxation, and several reforms have been suggested. The subcommittee is composed of members who are favorable to the legislature touching the subject. This is the first step which has been taken.

The senate went on record this morning as favoring a business session by the adop-

This was backed up by a petition from the business men of Davenport, reciting that since the big fire of last year it has been found to be almost impossible to secure insurance on the bustness houses in the manufacturing district, and large numbers of the companies have withdrawn entirely from the city and state. A bill by Arthoud repeals all laws for voting tax aid to railroads. A number of petitions were presented.

The session in the house was equally uninteresting. A few comparatively unimportant bills were introduced. Mr. Wilson of Washington introduced a bill to appro-priate $75,000 for the building of a state arsenal. It is proposed that this arsenal shall be built on ground owned by the state in Des Moines.
