

A TEST EXPERIMENT.

Peculiar Power Possessed By a New Medicine.

Of new discoveries there is no end, but one of the most recent, most remarkable and one which will prove invaluable to thousands of people, is a discovery which it is believed will take the place of all other remedies for the cure of those common and obstinate diseases, dyspepsia and stomach troubles. This discovery is not a loudly advertised, secret patent medicine, but a scientific combination of wholesome, perfectly harmless vegetable essences, fruit salts, pure pepsin and blamuth.

These remedies are combined in lozenge form, pleasant to take, and will preserve their good qualities indefinitely, whereas all liquid medicines rapidly lose whatever good qualities they may have had as soon as unworked and exposed to the air.

This preparation is called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and it is claimed that one of these tablets or lozenges will digest from 200 to 3,000 times its own weight of meat, eggs and other wholesome food.

SUDDEN DRAMA EMBARRASSES MR. PEARSE

Complications Attributed to Quarrel Over Salary - Actress-Lecturer's Husband Takes Matters Out of Contractor's Hands.

Twenty-five hundred people who sat in polite but unworried expectancy at Boyd's theater last night can testify that Clara Morris, actress, authoress and raconteur, has acquired material for another chapter of personal reminiscences. These twenty-five hundred even suggest that they might add some reminiscences of their own, and down at the Barker hotel there is an embarrassed theatrical manager who blazes unpleasant things between his teeth and frowns ominously and darkly when asked what Thomas W. Broadhurst would probably contribute to this chapter.

Miss Morris' lecture last night on her stage experiences was to be a feature of the Teachers' Lecture bureau course and at 8 o'clock every box seat but two, every other seat on the first floor of the theater, all those in the balcony and practically all those in the lobby porch of what is ordinarily termed the "two-bit contingent" were taken.

The audience was aristocratic and erudite. There were teachers and professors and young people who are going to be graduated next spring and are looking for pointers on dramatic delivery. Prominent members of the Women's club and professional men were also there with expectant souls and their hair coaxed in the fashion of genius.

Mr. Pearse was doing some emotional acting of his own, too. He was perspiring profusely and told the audience, with refreshing candor, but evident apprehension, that the last thirty minutes had been the most miserable of his whole life. Then he read a telegram, dated Monday, which said:

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Ordinances for Vacating Part of Capitol Avenue for Market.

UNDER THE RULES, MEASURE GOES OVER

Petition from Relatives of Mercers Fire Victims and Others for Underground Wire System-Miscellaneous Business.

The first step in the vacation of Capitol Avenue between Thirtieth and Fourteenth streets for market purposes was taken at last night's meeting of the city council. An ordinance providing for the condemnation of a strip of street forty-eight feet wide and 324 feet long was introduced and laid over for one week under the rules.

Mother and other relatives of the firemen who were killed by electric wires at the Mercer fire headed a petition filed with the council for the burying of electric wires. The petition bore the signatures of more than 500 persons and urged that immediate steps be taken to remove dangerous wires from the streets. It was referred to the committee on street lighting.

City Comptroller Weather reported that on January 1 there was $223,095.41 in the city treasury. Cash in the treasury amounted to $2,470.31 and the checks for deposit aggregated $4,402.70. City funds in banks amounted to $145,586.61 and school funds were on deposit in the sum of $106,248.83. Police relief funds amounted to $5,365.91 and $5,000 in special funds was on deposit.

Sustains Mayor's Veto. Mayor Moore was sustained in his veto of an ordinance providing for the removal of the temporary market from its present location on Howard street to Jackson street. The mayor submitted to the council a communication from the Commercial club asking for the appointment of a fire coroner. On the representation of the club that a reduction of $15,000 will be effected in insurance premiums by the naming of a fire coroner, the mayor recommended that the council should be created and maintained on an annual expense of not more than $3,000.

A report of the city clerk showed that license fees paid during January amounted to $1,495. The following report by the committee on rules caused considerable merriment: Your committee on rules, to which was referred the matter of a report prevalent in the city, to wit, that several members of the council were impersonating a policeman today and that several members of the council were riding in a patrol wagon recently, respectfully recommend that the council and officials referred to be confined in the basement of the city hall until all instructions and orders are dissolved.

Councilman Hascall objected to the adoption of the report on the ground that it would mortgag the future of the officials in question. The council took a recess until 4 o'clock this afternoon. Some of those indicted by the grand jury on a charge of keeping slot machines in their places of business, Mt. Pleasant, were in favor of County Attorney Shields, to secure the dismissal of the cases against all those whose machines are distinctly "trade machines," giving merchandise but not money to the winners. It is reported that Judge Hascall will be approached in the matter at once and that the county attorney will lead his voice in persuasion.

The reason given for not arraignment those indicted on this charge yesterday morning was that they had been examined, owing to an oversight, and hence only a few of them were in court. Divides Ruth Ewart's Time. Judge Baxter Gives Child to Grandmother and Father in Turn.

CUR TO STAY CURED

What the afflicted man wants is not a temporary relief, but a permanent cure. The beneficial effects of my treatment are as lasting as life—I cure to stay.

When once a patient is rescued by me from the ravages of disease or weakness peculiar to his sex, he is never again bothered with his former trouble.

Contagious Blood Poison. My special form of treatment for specific or contagious blood poison is practically the result of my life work, and is indicated by all the physicians of this and foreign countries.

Nerve-Sexual Debility. My cure for weak men does not stimulate temporarily, but restores permanently. It soon drives away all those distressing symptoms which so constantly remind one of his former condition.

Reflex Diseases. Many ailments are reflex, originating from other diseases. For instance, many weakness sometimes come from Varicocele or Stricture, unclean blood and hence the system, or physical or mental decline frequently follows loss of manhood.

Stricture. My cure for stricture is safe, painless and bloodless, and, therefore, free from surgery in any form. It is the only cure that should ever be used.
