PLAN FOR GREAT WESTERN

Aldermen Decide on Kind of Ordinance for Right of Way.

REFUSE TO GRANT PART OF NINTH AVENUE

This Privilege May Be Yielded Later Under Separate Ordinance, as Some of the Aldermen Are Inclined to Change Front.

After a protracted chamber session yesterday afternoon, the aldermen, sitting as a committee of the whole, decided the kind of right-of-way ordinance for the Great Western railroad which would meet with their approval. City Solicitor Wadsworth was instructed to draft an ordinance as outlined by the committee, and to submit it at an adjourned meeting of the city council tonight.

May Lay Two or More Main Tracks.

The new ordinance will give the Great Western the right to lay two or more main tracks through the city. The ordinance being limited. While the ordinance was under discussion in open session of the council several citizens objected to the city's granting the Great Western an indiscriminate right to lay as many tracks as it liked through the city. It was suggested that at this time it would be sufficient to permit the railroad to lay two main tracks, and that if later it found it required additional tracks, it could then come before the council with such a request.

Takes Up Boundary Matter.

State Senator Hanelton, who had been called home from Des Moines on business, took the opportunity to explain to the council the latest of the bill introduced by him providing for the appointment of a boundary commission. He said the commission would have no authority to release land from the state. The constitution defines the boundaries and the change could only be made by amending the constitution, which would have to be voted on by two successive legislatures and by the people.

CONVENTIONS TO BE SEPARATE

At the meeting of the city republican central committee last night in the office of Chairman Wright of the county committee, it was decided to hold separate conventions for the nomination of school and municipal candidates. A joint convention would have entailed a long campaign on the candidates for city offices, and several who were present at the meeting objected to this.

away with the county convention, except in selecting delegates to the state convention. The bill, it is claimed here, would practically mean two elections and would double the expense. It would also mean that candidates on both tickets would have a campaign from July to November to contend with.

The meeting was well attended, as in addition to the members of the committee nearly all the candidates talked of for city offices were present.

WOMAN IS SERIOUSLY BURNED

Mrs. George Bick Builds a Fire that is Likely to Result in Her Death.

Mrs. George Bick was so severely burned last evening while building a fire at her home, 1203 South Sixth street, that it is feared her injuries will prove fatal.

After supper last evening Mrs. Bick went to build a fire in a small detached house at the end of the lot, which is occupied by her husband and son as a sleeping apartment. In some unknown manner her clothes caught fire. With her garments blazing, Mrs. Bick rushed screaming into the yard.

Members of the family hastened from the house and vainly tried to smother the flames. Motorer Oscar Linder and Conductor J. W. French of a Main street motor car went to the woman's assistance and both had their hands burned. Linder finally succeeded in quenching the flames by wrapping Mrs. Bick in his long overcoat.

Mrs. Bick was burned almost over the entire body and the clothes fell from her in shreds. Her worst injuries were about the lower part of the body. Late last night the attending physician had little hope of her recovery.

The small house caught fire and the roof was burned off before the fire department reached the scene and extinguished the blaze. It is supposed Mrs. Bick used coal oil to heat the fire, but owing to her terrible injuries she was unable to give any account of how the fire started.

ASSAULTED BY YOUNG GIANT

Old Man Who Suspects Overcoat is Stolen, is Left Bleeding by South Dakotan.

Abraham Snyder, who conducts a second-hand clothing store at 612 West Broadway, was beaten yesterday by a stranger, giving the name of Dave Kinney, who claims to be from South Dakota.

Kinney went into Snyder's store to sell an overcoat, and, according to his story, Snyder said the garment had been stolen and refused to buy it or return it to Kinney. Snyder, Kinney says, began to call for the police and tried to lock the front door.

Kinney resisted the attempt of being a thief and struck Snyder a blow in the face which knocked him down. In falling Snyder's head struck the door casing, cutting a bad scalp wound, from which the blood flowed freely. Persons who ran to the old man's assistance at first thought he had been struck with an axe and word was sent to the police that a man had attempted to murder Snyder.

As soon as the crowd began to collect Kinney ran, leaving the coat behind him. He turned down Sixth street and the patrol was sent to head him off. After a long chase Kinney was caught in the sand banks north of the cemetery.

Snyder's injuries, while painful, were said last night not to be serious. Kinney is a strapping young fellow, nearly six feet tall. Snyder is an old man not over five feet in height.

WANTS A SECOND DIVORCE

Mrs. Gertrude Jones Objects to the Husband She Has Twice Married.

Mrs. Gertrude Jones began suit for divorce yesterday from A. E. Jones, who is under arrest at the city jail, charged with brutally beating her.

The marital troubles of Jones and his wife date almost from the day of their first marriage, about four years ago. Mrs. Jones, after securing a divorce from her first husband, married Jones. Mrs. Jones had several children by her first husband, and these were the cause of trouble between Jones and his wife. He was arrested for beating one of the boys and later was arrested for assaulting his wife. Mrs. Jones brought suit for divorce and in November, 1900, secured a decree. The day following the granting of the divorce she decided to forgive and forget and was married again.

In her petition filed yesterday Mrs. Jones asks for $100 temporary alimony and $500 permanent alimony. She secured a temporary injunction restraining Jones from disposing of or incurring his property.

Accommodation Coach Burns.

Coal piled from an overfilled stove was responsible for the burning yesterday morning of an accommodation car in the Wash-burn passenger train leaving Omaha at 10 o'clock. The train was backing from the local yards and had reached Twelfth street and Fifteenth avenue when the flames were discovered, bursting through the roof of the car. At the transfer side-tracks the burning car was cut out and a stream of water played on it. The fire was not extinguished until the entire upper part of the car was consumed.

Conductor Wilson and a mail clerk each lost a suit of clothes in the car.

Smallpox.

This dreadful disease is now very prevalent in all parts of the country, and is liable to occur at any time no matter how careful we may be. A most effective remedy for this purpose, one that combines all the necessary properties for purifying the blood, strengthening the kidneys, toning up the digestive organs and for cleansing and regulating the bowels will be found in that well known system tonic and purifier, Prickly Ash Bitters. Support of Cherokee Hospital.

In the senate only a few bills were introduced. The senate appropriations committee reported a bill, the purpose of which is to provide for the per capita support of inmates of the hospital at Cherokee. The board of control figures it out that the cost at Cherokee will be $1 a month for the present, and the committee bill is to require that this additional expense be borne by the state instead of by the counties.

Senator Hogan introduced a bill, the purpose of which is to require that railroad companies shall furnish care to independent shippers. It amends by leaving out the clause giving discretion to the companies. It is to prevent line elevator companies from having a monopoly because of inability of the farmers to get cars for shipping promptly.

New School for the Deaf.

Senator Crawford of Dubuque introduced a bill to provide for an eastern school for the deaf at Cherokee, which will be $1 a month for the present, and the committee bill is to require that this additional expense be borne by the state instead of by the counties.

Public Examiners.

A bill introduced in the house by Mr. Furry contemplates a radical change in the method of examining public accounts. This provides for three public examiners, to be appointed by the governor and to receive $5 a day and expenses, and having authority to go into the books of any public officer, to call on all county officers and report thereon to the boards of supervisors and the state treasurer. Their visits are to be made at irregular intervals, and they shall cover the whole ground of county accounts. The state treasurer is also authorized to prescribe a uniform system of accounting for the county books.

On Days of Grace.

The house had a controversy over a bill to abolish days of grace. The bill had been recommended for passage, but amendments were offered, one of which was to exempt drafts from the rule. This amendment was strongly urged by Mr. Jones of Mahaska, who contended that to strike out days of grace on drafts would open the way for oppression. On a vote the amendment was lost—41 to 55. A motion to refer to the judiciary committee was lost—43 to 52. Several other dilatory motions were lost, and on the final passage the bill was defeated—41 to 55.

Passes Garishment Bill.

The house late this afternoon passed the Cummins bill to provide for notice in garnishment proceedings, and Stuckelager's bill to permit direct giving salaries to directors of state and savings banks.

The railway committee of the senate adopted an amendment to the trolley line tax bill, to add a proviso that the tax-aided companies cannot have their stock at all.

The bill by Senator Hogan to require railroad companies to furnish care when requested, and leaving them no option, was recommended for passage. The house judiciary committee acted favorably on the bill to punish kidnapping.

Smells Nice

Omega Oil

You can tell by the smell of Omega Oil that it is different from any other liniment you ever saw. It has a peculiar and pleasant odor. Besides being the best remedy in the world for stopping pains, it is also the nicest to use. It is not made of turpentine or ammonia, but the body of it is a pure vegetable oil. Into this oil is put four other ingredients, one of which is a green herb that stops pain a good deal on the same principle that a puff of wind blows out a lamp, or water quenches a fire.

Change Oil is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for.
