

CALL FOR A NEW JURY LIST

Names Put on Present Panel Without Authority of Law.

BAR ASSOCIATION OF OMAHA OBJECTS

Lawyers Assert that County Commissioners Must Make Up List Themselves and Not Delegate Employees to Do It.

At the next meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, to be held Friday of next week, Chairman Ostrom of the committee of the whole will introduce a resolution asking the judge of the criminal court to authorize the board to withdraw the jury list for 1902 as already prepared and to make up a new one. This is the result of the hearing granted yesterday afternoon to Francis A. Brogan, James H. McIntosh, Arthur C. Wakeley, C. C. Wright and W. D. McHugh, consulting the executive council of the Omaha Bar Association. The attorneys affirmed that the letter of the law had not been observed in preparing the jury list, but Chairman Ostrom states that his action is more influenced by the discovery that after the previous list was made out and approved by the board there was a supplemental list of nearly 500 names clipped in among the sheets given the copyists in the office of the district clerk to include among the names copied into the records and from there copied onto the slips that were used subsequently in making the drawings for the jury list of the present term. For these 500, Mr. Ostrom says, there is no accounting, as the clerks, the commissioners and Judge Baxter all disclaim knowledge of any except the dozen or more that were added just before the drawing in the hope of catching some of the notorious jury shirkers.

Jury Tampering Separate Charge. A prominent member of the Bar Association council said yesterday, after the intention of the board was declared: "This action is distinct from that to be taken as the result of the charge of jury tampering by the street railway company, which was preferred at the association meeting in January. We are not doing this work in haste only a few weeks, but we are in earnest about it, and heretofore the Bar Association will have a committee at every jury drawing. It is to our own as much as to the public's interest that the commissioners select only those men who are really well qualified to serve." The address which the committee made to the board yesterday cites that the board delegated to the county clerk's force the work of making up the jury list and then directs the board's attention to the statutory requirements that "in making such jury list the county board shall choose a proportionate number from the residents of each ward and precinct," which is, in the council's opinion, a specific direction for the board to perform the work itself.

Seeking Jobs as Jurors. Continuing, the council writes: Further, we call your attention to the provisions of 692 of the Code of Civil Procedure, by which it is provided that any person should seek the position of juror, liable to be called and disqualified to serve as a juror. Yet we find it to be a fact that a large number of the names now in the box, to be hereafter drawn from, are the names of persons who were placed on the list at their own solicitation and who are therefore disqualified.

The board's contemplated dismissal of the present jury list will not affect the panels for the present term of court, as those for the first two periods of the term were drawn January 13 and that for the third was drawn Thursday, in order to comply with the statutory requirement that they be drawn twenty days before the time for their service to begin.

DR. F. L. BORGLUM IS INJURED Arm Broken and Back Sprained in Wrestling Contest at Medical College.

Police Surgeon Francis L. Borglum is confined to his room at 533 South Thirty-third street with a broken right arm and a badly sprained back, the result of a wrestling contest with Pat McCarty at the Creighton Medical college Thursday afternoon. Immediately after the accident Dr. Borglum went to Sixth and Pierce streets to attend a patient. Up to that time his injuries had not pained him and were not considered serious. While returning from the call he suddenly became faint and was taken to his home in the police ambulance. An examination showed that one of the bones in the right fore arm was broken and that his back had been seriously sprained.

Announcements of the Theaters. This afternoon and tonight will be the best two performances of the engagement of "The Heart of Maryland" company at Boyd's. Sunday afternoon, night and Monday night, E. Miller Kent will be seen in "The Cowboy and the Lady." Tuesday, Howard Kyle will open an engagement of three performances in "Nathan Hale." Mr. Kyle will precede his opening date with a lecture Tuesday afternoon at Boyd's on "Nathan Hale" and his life under the auspices of the Woman's club, the Sons of the American Revolution and the High school students.

All the unprecedented successes which the famous Kibbelik has enjoyed have not been the means of depriving the artist of his modesty and almost proverbial kindness. In manner he is entirely simple and unaffected, but he has a most fascinating personality, not being handsome in the regular way, but his face is most interesting. His hair grows back from his brow and in amount satisfying the standing of a virtuoso, and his dark eyes are wonderfully expressive. While playing, he seems almost transformed and is a most fascinating picture to the audience.

Musicians may be interested to know that he possesses three excellent violins—a Josef Guarnerius (the present of Friedrich Brosche), a Josef Guarnerius which he purchased from Concert Master Krasnowsky in Budapest for 10,000 forins, and finally, a splendid Antonius Stradivarius, a present from the family of the millionaire member of Parliament from Reading, Walter Palmer esq. Besides these, he has two very fine Francois Tourte violins.

Kibbelik will at the boys on Saturday evening, March 8. He will play the famous D major concerto by Paganini, his favorite selection, and the very one with which he has achieved his greatest triumphs; also numbers by Beethoven, Dvorak, Schumann and Bazzini.

"The 'In Gay Paris'" burlesquers at the Trocadero conclude their engagement today, celebrating Lincoln's birthday with a grand holiday matinee and evening performance. Commencing Sunday matinee, the management is pleased to announce that it will offer its patrons, without fail, an excellent burlesque attraction, "The Brigadier Burlesquers," now playing a phenomenally successful engagement in St. Paul.

HOLIDAY AT COURT HOUSE

No Business Will Be Transacted by Judges on Washington's Birthday.

This will be observed as a holiday at the court house until Monday, the hearing on the motion to quash the indictment of Joseph Murphy of the South Omaha school board for malfeasance in office, which motion was argued yesterday, and also the hearing of the argument of Cuddington & Wilcox, coal dealers, to be allowed to disobey the order of the court commanding them to deliver in court certain books and coal slips that the grand jury had when it indicted them, and which record figures in the school board case.

Judge Dickinson continued until Monday the hearing on the Gordon injunction to prevent the city paying Police Judge Berka's salary for January. Judge Read is grinding out the tax cases, Judge Slabaugh is busy with a suit in the Ballou estate, and Judge Estelle is keeping a jury on its dignity while the tribulations of the Piegites are being rehearsed in the suit of Laura Donahoe against Jesse Reeves and others, Reeves having once sworn out an insanity warrant against her with the result that she was detained a couple of days at a Pavilion hotel waiting for an insanity commission to make the examination that never materialized.

In Judge Fawcett's court the slander suit of E. J. Wallace against the Daily News Publishing company was compromised yesterday, after a jury had been drawn. Judge Vinsonbaler, in county court, is hearing the forcible entry and detainer suit of Ida May Cole against Grant Fox.
