BASE BALL MEN ON GUM SHOES Still Hunt for Towns to Complete Western League Cironit.

WHITFIELDFINDS GOOD FARMING SECTION

Peoris and Des Moines Have Prefer ence for Vacant Seats at Board, but Negotiations Are Far from Complete.

Don't say a word. For at least seven days the magnates have been alipping about with gum shoes and there isn't a thing doing above a chisper, and mostly in signs. Jimmle Whitfield came home from Peoree long shough to give it out that the Illinois town for the Western league is the center of a e, elegant agricultural district and that he was surprised when he noted the prospects for the coming corn crop. He went back again, and almost any time now we may expect a bulletin from him giving deinformation as to the commercial status of Pekin and Jacksonville, which lot of trouble. centers of Sucker life are connected with Pooree by rail: Pekin is also on the same

As fast as The management regrets being compelled the scrub shows up well, however, he is advanced into the first squad. Captain Bell announced at the close of Friday's practice some unexpected and cheering news. He said that every man of last year's team would be back this spring. This is more than anyone had hoped. The old men are not all out for practice yet. but they are all in school and will appear in good time. It was feared that it would be impossible to persuade such champion veterans as "Dusty" Rhodes, last year's captain, and Reeder, the oldest player of them all, and captain in 1900, to come back again to the diamond, but Bell now says they will all be there. Such a fine start for a team seems to assure the best aggregation Nebraska has ever had. With a complete first team to start on as good as the one of last year, and with abundant promising new material to strengthen up with, the prospects are indeed flattering. Among the best of the new men Thompson, the Indian boy. He will be a valuable man. Another is Klum, a freshman from Aurora, whose form already shown makes his coaches swell with pride.

Only the total scores of the entire tournament count, however. Each team howls five nights, three games a night, or fifteen frames in all.

The scores are starting out fairly well on the whole, with some exceptionally good ones. Hartley and Conrad lead for a single game with $72, while Denman and Clarkson take the total high with 1,078. Brunke is high individual total with 558, and Clarkson is high individual single game with 220. Four of the teams are over 1,000 on the total and all but two are above 900. Competition is very keen in this tournament.
