Von Buelow Declares Germany Justifiable in Delight at Prince's Visit.

COUNT HEARTILY CHEERED IN HIS SPEECH

sing, Declaring Empire's Perfect Satisfaction at America's Cordini Attitude,

BERLIN, March 3 .- In the Reichstag today Herr Hasse (liberal), referring to the visit of Prince Henry to the United States, said he was glad to see it had frustrated the designs of Great Britain against a German-American understanding, but that the German element in the United States was power which would not and should not build up a state within a state.

Herr Gradnauer (social democrat) ridifrom Prince Henry's visit. He said it was very ingenious to expect any improvement in the relations between Germany and the United States to result from such a jour-

Replying to Herr Gradnauer, Count von Buelow said he deeply regretted the remarks of the last speaker, especially in view of the splendid welcome Prince Henry was receiving from the American people. This remark of Count von Buelow was greeted with applause from all sections of the house. Continuing the imperial chancellor said the journey of the emperor's brother had no political object, save the natural one of upholding the traditional good relations between Prussia, Germany and the United States which had existed since the days of the great Frederick and

Every Reason for Mutual Esteem. "Both nations," said Count von Buelow, "have every reason for mutual esteem. They have every interest for living in My eye perceives no point where the political waves of the German and American people cross. I made this statement in this house some three years ago. I was then under the impression that I was in sympathy with the great majority of this use. Of this I am now convinced. I am not saying this for Germany alone, but also for abroad. I am further convinced that I also agree with the great majority of this house when I recognize that the German people have viewed with lively satisfac-tion the hospitable, chivalrous and brillant reception which the American nation has accorded the brother of the German em-

The imperial chancellor concluded his re-marks amid applause. Count von Buelow also assured the Reichstag, in a somewhat Keeps Army in China.

In the course of the budget discussion in the Reichstag today the imperial chancellor, Count von Buelow, in reply questions raised by the vote, asked to maintain the German troops in China, said Germany had only eco and not territorial interests in China and Koren and would not interfere in the quarreis of others. So far as Germany knew the only effect of the Anglo-Japanese convention was to maintain the status quo. Therefore it did not prejudice German interests and did not effect the Anglo-German Yang Tse Valley agreement.

Germany only desired the open door. The telegram from Pekin, published in London, declaring that Germany sought special concessions in China, was a canard. Germany secured railroad and mining concessions in Shang Tung province in 1899, and she had no wish to acquire more than she could digest. Germany was not consulted before the conclusion of the Angie-Japan convention. The German government had been notified of the birth thereof, but it was not its godfather or its father.

The garrisons in China would be reduced so soon as the political situation allowed this to be done, but the premature recall of the troops would put Germany in an unfavorable position, as she had no base near China like the other powers. The vote was adopted.

STERN REBUKE TO SOCIALIST SUSTAINS JONES ON STAND

Witness in Patrick Case Testifies o Latter's Deiny in Giving Checks.

NEW YORK, March 2 .- A. B. Cohen, one of W. M. Rice's agents in Texas, who was on the stand when court adjourned Friday, was recalled today in the trial of Al-Replies to Adverse Remarks in Reich- bert T. Patrick, who is accused of Rice's murder. He told of delay in his pay checks of July and August, 1900. He corroborated the story told by Charles F. Jones that there was such delay. Jones testified that he held back the checks at Patrick's direction and that he finally sent to Mr. Cohen two checks handed him (Jones) by Patrick. Cohen identified the checks in question. He said he filled in the body of the checks and mailed them to Mr. Rice for signatures. They reached him, signed, September 19,

Paul Tiesch, the night elevator man, testified that when Patrick left Rice's apartment he carried a value. "He told me," said Tiesch, "that I was remembered in culed the idea of any advantage arising Mr. Blcc's will, but that I had better not talk about it, because Jones was not re-membered." Cross-examined by F. D. Turner of Chicago, for the defense, Tlesch said he could not be sure what time he went on duty that night. He supposed it must have been 7 o'clock, because that was 1901, in order to cover all the present augar his usual time to report.

"Has Captain Baker paid you for the statement you made in this case?" asked Mr. Turner. "He promised to pay me for my trouble," replied Tiesch. The witness said he had talked with Jones the district attorney's office. Jones asked him to testify that Jones had introduced Patrick as Mr. Smith, but this the witness would not do, as he had also known Patrick as Patrick. Joseph Mayer testified that he was formerly employed as office boy by Patrick. He first saw Jones in June, 1900. Patrick told him to put all letters marked "W. M. Rice" in his (Patrick's) desk. He never saw Rice in Patrick's office and never went peace and friendship based on complete reciprocity, even in the most remote future. the summer of 1900. The witness rented a safe deposit box for Patrick shortly before Rice's death.

also assured the Belchstag, in a somewhat lengthy speech, that there was not the slightest likithood of Germany taking any steps of interfering in the course of affairs in South Africa. Such a course, said the speaker, was not in accord with German interests and policy. If the government listened to Herr Gradnauer and his adherents, he said, it would have to intervene not only in South Africa, but in Armenia, the Philippine islands and in Finland.

DES MOINES, March 2—(Special Telegram)—A public meeting, held tonight to consider the base ball situation, was attended by fifty persons. Rourke and Manning explained the situation briefly, urging that Des Moines have a club in the Western lengue. They promised that arrangements would be made to secure good players and pointed out that a competent manager could be secured now. A subscription paper was started for a stock company to back the club and $2,000 was ledged, mostly by business firms of the city. A committee was appointed to canvass tomorrow and another meeting will be held in the evening.

He had modified his proposition to provide that it should be retroactive until November 1, crop, and instead of providing that 20 per cent of the duties collected should be re-turned as his former proposition did, he declared that 70 cents on each ton of cane produced should be distributed directly to the sugar growers. The distribution under his plan would be made through the military government until the civil government is established.

Guarantees Destred Benefit.

He figures that 70 cents a ton would be equivalent to 20 per cent of the duty and maintained that his plan would insure the receipt of the money by those whom congress desired to benefit. If a direct tariff concession were made, he maintained that the benefit would accrue to the sugar trust and not the Cuban planters. In this connection, he produced a report made by the ways and means committee in the last congress on a resolution introduced by Mr. Richardson, the minority leader, for the return of the duties collected on Porto Rican

This report, it developed, was drawn by Mr. Grosvenor. Mr. Tawney read from this report which contended that the beneficiary of the Richardson resolution would be the sugar trust, and drew the inference that the same result would follow a reduction of the duty on sugar from Cuba-

Urges Immediate Relief.

Mr. Tawney urged the necessity for his retroactive proposition. "If there is need for relief, as is claimed," said he, "is is important that the relief should be immediate. Without the retroactive clause no benefit would result from the rebate until next year's crop.' M. Tawney underwent a sharp fire of questions from Mr. Payne of New York. Mr. Long of Kansas and others. He was asked whether it was his inten tion that the rebate should be to non-resident owners of sugar lands in Cuba, and he replied in the negative. Brown himself brought the news to his first wife, having visited his children hers Sunday.

STOMACH BURNS FOOD

The food we eat is treated as fuel by the stomach, like coal in a furnace. The process known as digestion—caused by the chemical action of the gastric juices and acids of the stomach—burns it

Causing Carbonic Heat

This heat is forced into the vital organs and gives them life. When the stomach fails to generate this heat by the burning up of food, the body receives no nourishment because the waste is greater than the repair, and every organ of the system must suffer.

Story of a Pioneer

Thos. L. Ross is the pioneer real estate dealer of Topeka, Kas. He has been in business twenty-seven years, and in that time has sold more land than all the dealers together who are now in business there. He located in Topeka in 1873 and witnessed its growth from a town of a few thousand inhabitants to its present size. "For several years," he writes, "my wife and I suffered with that terrible malady known as dyspepsia or indigestion, We commenced to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure on the recommendation of our druggist. After one dose, and in a short time all those terrible pains and dyspepsia torments passed away. My appetite, also my wife's, came back, and our food could be enjoyed as when we were 21. I am turning 77. I have not suffered one day with my stomach since I commenced to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, and I recommend it to all of my fellow citizens." [Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 15th day of November, 1901. A. A. Majors, Notary Public.]

Sound Stomachs Make Strong Men and Women

If your stomach is weak it needs a rest, but the body requires food Then the natural and common sense method is to use a preparation like Kodol Dyspepsia Cure which contains all the acids and peptones that a healthy stomach should contain and will digest your food without aid from the stomach. In the laboratory tests in glass tubes, according to the U.S. Pharmacopoeia such as pie, cake, eggs, cheese, meat, fats, beans, starch, etc. Surely the preparation which will do so much without the stomach's aid cannot help but benefit you. It is fair to suppose that even the weakest stomach will give some help.

Each Teaspoonful Digests 3,000 Grains of Food

Nature's Way is the Best Way

By thoroughly digesting good nourishing food of a generous variety. Cathartics, purgatives and stimulating tonics won't cure. They simply remove the effect of indigestion but they will not cure the cause. What is needed is something to do the stomach's work, enabling the stomach to take a much needed rest while the body is being built up.

"I have lately been much troubled with dyspepsia," writes M. S. Mead, leading pharmacist of Attleboro, Mass. "I could eat hardly anything without suffering several hours. My clerk suggested Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which I tried with most happy results. I have had no more trouble, and when one can eat mince pie, cheese, candy and nuts after such a time, their digestion must be pretty good. I heartily endorse Kodol Dyspepsia Cure."

"I have not only used it in my practice, but have sold quite a lot of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure," says Dr. W. L. Wallace, of Kingstree, S. C., "and have had no failures, but relief in almost all cases.
